WARM PRAISE FOR PRESIDENT

HE SOUNDS KEYNOTE

Says "For God's Sake Let Well Enough Alone" in Speaking on the Tariff.

FIGHT FOR SECOND PLACE

[From a Staff Correspondent.]
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Columbus, O., June 3.—Senator Hanna today pronounced the slogan for the Republican party in the presidential campaign of 1904. "Hands off the tariff" are the words that represent his attitude on the tariff question and which bid fair to become as famous as his "stand pat" announcement.

In assuming the chair as temporary chairman of the Republican state convention here today Senator Hanna made a speech that will no doubt become Republican doctrine. What he had to say was awaited with interest, for it was understood that he would outline the stand that will be taken by the Republican national platform next year. He commended in his forcible manner the course pursued by the Republican party in the past and advocated a continuance in the future. He pleaded for amicable relations between capital and labor. He paid a glowing tribute to President Roosevelt and approved his administration in words of highest praise.

It had been rumored that Senator Hanna would make some rather sensational statements in his speech regarding the recent controversy over the question of indorsing President Roosevelt's candidacy and that he would attempt to justify his course of opposition. In fact, there was some expectation that he would speak out in the meeting, and every syllable was listened to with eager attention by the audience. But there was nothing that would tend to stir up the Foraker faction.

TARIFF SENTIMENT APPROVED.

Senator Hanna's address was a strong and masterful effort, full of earnest thought and breathing an optimistic spirit of hope. It left no doubt as to where he stood on the great questions of the day. He spoke of the great monument that had been reared by the Republican party in the policy of protection to American industries and American workingmen.

"And upon this monument should be inscribed," said he, "in letters that all who run may read, 'hands off.'"

This announcement of his views on the tariff question was received with loud applause and cheers, the delegates waving their hats and making such a vociferous demonstration that the senator was not able to proceed for some time.

"This is a monument that time and patience have builded," he continued, "and the blood and sweat of the best husbandry have contributed to it. My advice to the Republicans is stand guard to protect it."

He spoke kindly of the administration of Gov. Nash and referred with pride to the splendid record of the Republican governors who had preceded him. Coming to the mention of President Roosevelt, the senator fairly took the convention off its feet with enthusiasm.

"The Republican party is to be congratulated," said he, "that in the administration of national affairs they have realized all they had hoped for in the administration of Theodore Roosevelt."

HIGH TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

At the mention of the president's name cheer after cheer broke from the hundreds of delegates and spectators, and no better demonstration of the feeling of Ohio Republicans toward Roosevelt could have been afforded. Continuing, Senator Hanna said:

"Standing in the shadow of that terrible tragedy at Buffalo, he made a solemn promise that to the best of his abil-

MACHEN CASE MAY NOT HOLD

Indication That Government Will Not Press Prosecution.

KNOX GIVES OPINION

GRAND JURY A SURPRISE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.

Failure of the grand jury today to take up the case of A. W. Machen caused a little surprise at the postoffice department and led to comments that the government may not intend to press the prosecution. This idea was stoutly combatted by postal officials, although great secrecy is preserved there and at the United States district attorney's office as to reasons for the delay.

Postmaster General Payne said today that the fourth assistant's force of inspectors were working hard in preparing the evidence for the grand jury. The civil service commission inspectors have been through the rolls of the Washington city postoffice from 1883, when the civil service law went into effect and it is understood that they found only one case of irregularity, as far as employes under the civil service are concerned, but numerous persons have been employed in the office, as these inspectors found, under circumstances that could hardly be justified from the standpoint of good service.

The department is plainly not indifferent to the coment about Mr. Machen's defense as likely to be that he was a silent partner in the firm of Goff Bros., who sold letter box fasteners to the government, and that he had a precedent for doing so in the award of a coal contract last winter to the firm of which he and his brothers are the members.

Attorney General Knox rendered a decision on this question which was made public today.

BID IN PROPER FORM.

Attorney General Knox's decision follows:

The Postmaster General, Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th inst., in which you ask my opinion as to whether you can award a contract for the purchase of coal, for the use of your department, under the following circumstances:

On December 30, 1902, sealed proposals were invited for furnishing the postoffice department with bituminous coal for the remainder of the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1903. Four bids were submitted in response thereto, the lowest being that of Machen Brothers, who propose to furnish 1,000 tons for $3.75, which is $2.55 per ton cheaper than the next lowest bid. You state that the proposal is properly executed, and that no question has arisen in this respect. The fact is presented, however, that the firm of Machen Brothers is composed of William A. Machen and August W. Machen, the latter being superintendent of free delivery to the postoffice department.

Referring to revised statutes 1782, you do not state in your letter the exact nature of Mr. Machen's duties, except that he is general superintendent of the free delivery system. I assume, for the purposes of this opinion, that he has no official relation with the purchase of coal for the use of the department, and if this be the fact, section 1782 is inapplicable, for Mr. Machen as such superintendent does not "act as an officer or agent of the United States," with reference to such purchase of coal.

While I am, for the reasons stated, of the opinion that you are not forbidden by any statute from awarding the contract under consideration to the lowest bidder, I must not be understood as advising you that you are under any legal obligation to do so. I know of no law which requires you to award a contract of this character to the lowest bidder. The acceptance of any bid is a matter of administrative judgment and discretion, and you are at liberty, for any reason that in your judgment is to the public interest, to disregard any bid. The matter is one of administrative judgment and discretion, and as such I am without either authority or obligation to express any opinion with reference to it.

Respectfully,
P. C. KNOX,
Attorney General.

SUDDEN ACTION.

HAD BULLET IN HEART; LIVED THREE DAYS

When the autopsy was held last night on Sandy Garrett, one of the negroes shot in the riot at High bridge, Sunday, it was discovered that the bullet that caused his death had passed through his heart. It was a 32-caliber bullet, and Dr. Walter G. McCandless and Dr. J. D. Criss, who made the autopsy, were amazed when they made this discovery. A special examination was made of the heart and it was proved conclusively that Garrett had lived three days with a bullet lodged just on the outer section of the heart. The wound in the heart was not the cause of his death. The ball had gone through his chest from left to right, striking the left lung and passing through his heart from the left to the right side, and it was found by Dr. McCandless in the tissue behind the heart where its force had been spent. In its flight the ball had clipped the side of the lung and virtually cooked the tissue. That caused gangrene to develop which the doctors say was the direct cause of death. When the ball passed through the heart it also congealed the tissue sufficiently to prevent hemorrhage and while the action of the heart was interfered with it did not stop the circulation of the blood. Had it not been that the gangrene in the lung finally formed a clot the man would have lived.

STUMPING DAYS WERE RIVALED BY THE PRESIDENT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Bloomington, Ill., June 3.—President Roosevelt today rivaled his campaigning days, for from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. he made nine speeches to audiences ranging from 5,000 to 50,000 people. At Pontiac he was introduced by a Democratic mayor. He said he considered the president the ideal American. In his speech Mr. Roosevelt said that such remarks from a man of opposite political belief gratified him greatly.

The president spoke today at Freeport, Rockford, Rochelle, Aurora, Joliet, Dwight, Pontiac, Lexington and Bloomington. At Rockford he dedicated the new Memorial hall and at Freeport he was driven to the scene of the Lincoln-Douglas debate in 1858, where a monument commemorating the event was unveiled in the presence of many thousand people. His speech was a touching tribute to the immortal Lincoln and was received with unbounded enthusiasm.

A satchel full of dynamite was found near Lincoln this morning near the Chicago & Aiton tracks. It was within a few yards of the point where the president will leave his train tomorrow morning. A thorough investigation of the matter will be made by the police.

ROOSEVELT IN PITTSBURGH.

President Will Be in the City Tomorrow, but Only for 20 Minutes.

Attorney General Philander C. Knox arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning from Brownsville. He spent the greater part of the day at his office. Last night he stated that President Roosevelt will arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow morning at 8:20 o'clock and will leave 20 minutes later. Mr. Knox will see the president, but will not go on to Washington with him. The attorney general said that he had not learned from the railroad officials when the president's train will be stopped for his short visit here. Mr. Knox will remain at the Hotel Schenley for the balance of the week.

Miss Rebekah P. Knox, the attorney general's daughter, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and is staying at the Schenley. In a few days she will go to Edgewood to visit Miss Marie Williams.

FOREWARNED, THEY LEAVE THEIR HOMES TO ESCAPE FLOOD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 3.—Residents along the river front today commenced moving their effects to points out of danger of the threatening flood. The river registers 32 feet and is slowly rising. The outlook, however, is rather encouraging, as the low water marks at points below will give the water an opportunity to pass out rapidly.

From St. Louis to Cairo there will be a steady rise for several days, with stages generally three or four feet above the danger line. At Cairo a 35-foot stage is indicated by Saturday, while at Memphis there will be between 23 and 30 feet by the end of next week. The Arkansas is still above the danger line, but is falling.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., June 3.—The rescuing party sent from here to Topeka composed of 75 men with steam launches and rowboats returned and their places will be taken by other volunteers.

The St. Joseph men rescued 200 schoolchildren from the Grant school, imprisoned there since last Friday. The children were in a half-starved condition. The rescuers shot and killed a negro caught in the act of looting deserted houses. They brought back with them the names of 30 identified dead.

A relief fund of $8,000 has been raised here for the flood sufferers at Topeka and Kansas City and several carloads of clothing and provisions already have been sent. Trains loaded with steam launches and men have also been sent to Kansas City where assistance is being given in the work of rescu

AUTOMOBILE RACE TO END IN PITTSBURGH

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh is to be the destination of a none-stop endurance run to start from this city in the autumn, under the auspices of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers. This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee of the association today. The route will be by way of Philadelphia, Baltimore and probably Washington, and will be covered in three days. There will be hill climbing and other tests on the arrival of the vehicles at Pittsburgh.

FELL ON HIS WIFE AND BROKE HER NECK

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(Special.)—While Joseph McMann was going downstairs at his home in Camden Saturday he tripped and fell headlong on his wife. Mrs. McCann was sent to Cooper hospital, where it was found that her neck was broken. She was returned to her home, and her death is momentarily expected.

INDICTED FOR MURDER; ESCAPED FROM JAIL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA., June 3.—Robbert Richie of Benwood and Charles Nichols of McMechen were today indicted for murder, but some time this morning the two men escaped from jail and got away, no trace of them having been found so far.

The men were not missed until this morning. A big hole in the brick wall showed the manner of escape. They sawed eight heavy bars and cut through the padlock on one cell. Ritchie belonged to the notorious Benwood "Yellow gang," some of whom were seen in the vicinity of the jail for several nights, and it is believed that they furnished the tools.

A buggy hired from a local liveryman last night by strangers was probably used to take the men away. The county court has offered a reward of $300 for the recapture of Ritchie. A young man named Neville, who escaped with the murderers, was caught at his home in Benwood, offering no resistance. He refuses to tell the manner of escape.

ONE AGED WOMAN WAS MURDERED BY ANOTHER

Mrs. Kirk, With Butcher Knife and Scissors, Killed 70-Year-Old Mrs. Buck.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 3.—Mrs. John Buck, 70 years old, was brutally murdered this afternoon by Mrs. John Kirk, supposed to have been temporarily insane. The women were neighbors, but have not been on friendly terms. Mrs. Kirk is a widow, while Mrs. Buck was the wife of the aged janitor of the public building. What led up to the assault upon the old woman is not definitely known.

She attacked Mrs. Buck with a butcher knife which she had been cutting meat with, and also seized a pair of scissors. The knife was plunged into the victim's throat. Mrs. Buck attempted but little resistance, being too decrepit to defend herself. With the blood pouring from the wound in Mrs. Buck's throat, Mrs. Kirk stabbed again and again at her victim with the scissors, piercing her neck and breast.

She was still dragging Mrs. Buck about the room when Albert Peoples, who was driving a laundry wagon past the place, was attracted to the scene by looking in at the window. He ran to Mrs. Buck's assistance, but was too late. Mrs. Kirk did not attack him and did not seem to realize what she had done. She coolly walked to the home of a relative nearby, where she was arrested an hour later.

STEEL CORPORATION TO EXTEND RAILROAD

Line May Be Built to Connect Lorain Mills With Valley Furnaces.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 3.—Information obtained today was that the Newburg and the Lorain mills of the United States Steel Corporation are to be connected by a railroad owned by that concern. Further information has it, that the steel corporation or officials high in that organization are back of the projected and incorporated railroad from Lorain to Youngstown, the object being to connect the Lorain mills with the furnace capacity in the valleys and also with the Sharon mills.

A short time ago the steel corporation announced that it was going to build a railroad, the Newburg & South Shore, to connect the Newburg mills with the company's furnace along the river. This work has already been started and will be extended to Lorain, taking a course through Lindale and out on a direct line to Lorain from the tops of the hill surrounding Cleveland.

It is said that the surveys have been almost completed and that by the time the Newburg road is finished the steel corporation will be ready to start work on the line from the river to Lorain. It is understood that these lines of railroad are to be built for the company's convenience and not for general traffic.

STEEL RAILS TO SELL AT $25 A TON NEXT YEAR

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Special.)—At the recent conference between President Schwab and the other officers and directors of the United States Steel Corporation the prices for next year were agreed upon. It was declared today that they will be announced within a fortnight. Steel rails will remain at $25 a ton, the same price agreed upon for the current year. In fact a number of railroads have placed tentative orders for rails for delivery in 1904 at $28 a ton.

MINERS CALL A CONVENTION

To Consider a Strike Unless Representatives Are Recognized.

UNION IS THE CAUSE

AN AVENUE FOR ADJUSTMENT

Wilkesbarre, June 3.—The United Mine Workers' district boards adjourned this afternoon after arranging to call a joint convention of the mine workers in Pottsville on June 15 to determine whether a general suspension of work shall be ordered unless the operators agree to recognize District Presidents Nichols, Fahey and Dettrey as members of the conciliation board.

While this was being decided Supts. Luther, Murriner and Connell, the coal operators' members of the conciliation board, after several hours' conference over the long distance telephone, agreed to issue a statement. This declares that the trouble is due to their decision not to recognize the three district presidents as members of the union. It is on this point that the dispute rests. The coal operators' statement is:

OBJECTIONS OF OPERATORS.

Referring to the official announcement of the representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, as given in this morning's press, the contention of coal operators' representatives elected to the board of conciliation is that the recognition of the United Mine Workers of America was not one of the questions submitted to the commission for decision, that Mr. Mitchell admitted this by appearing before the commission simply as a representative of the anthracite mine workers, that the award of the commission specifically asserted that the recognition of the United Mine Workers of America as at present constituted was inadvisable, that award No. 4, providing for the board of conciliation, lays down certain rules for the appointment of members of said board.

The representatives of the coal operators have been appointed strictly within the terms of said award and there is no objection on their part to cordially accepting Messrs. Nichols, Dettrey and Fahey as the representatives of the miners, providing they are elected by a majority of the mine workers, as specified in the award of the commission. The objection is solely against their appearing as the official representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, appointed by an executive committee without authority for such appointment. The operators' representatives feel that it is highly important that the formation of the board of conciliation be accepted by both interested parties as strictly in accordance with the award of the commission, in order that its rulings may be received without question and not be open to the criticism of having been made by the board not fully qualified to act.

W. L. CONNELL,
E. J. LUTHER,
S. D. WARRINER.

MITCHELL MAY INTERFERE.

The fact that the operators thus plainly leave the way open for an amicable meeting with the three district presidents, if they are elected by the mine workers will not in the slightest measure change the action of the boards. The members consider that the district presidents were legally chosen to represent the mine workers on the board and say that no attention will be paid the coal operators statement as it is the same thing they said to the district presidents at the conference last week, when they refused to officially recognize them. This attitude they declare is absurd and they will not submit to any change in their plans dictated by such a cause.

Tonight in support of their position, they issued a statement calling for a convention. There was no minority on the district board in the decision to call a joint convention.

EXPLAINS THE SITUATION.

The call for the convention issued today covers the various phases of the contention, and is as follows:

To Members of Local Unions of Districts 1, 7 and 9:

Gentlemen—In the award of the anthracite strike commission it is provided that in the event of any difference arising between the operators and mine workers, either as to the interpretation or application of the award, or in any way growing out of the relations of employer and employed, which could not be adjusted between the parties immediately interested, such differences should be referred to a joint board of conciliation to be composed of one representative of the miners' organization and one representative of the operators from each district comprising the anthracite field.

In accordance with the award of the anthracite coal strike commission, the executive board of districts 1, 7 and 9 met in Wilkesbarre on April 21, and selected Presidents Nicholls, Detterey and Fahy to represent the mine workers on the board of conciliation. After this selection the coal operators were notified and were requested to name their representatives in order that a meeting might be held at an early date for the purpose of considering several serious disputes that had arisen concerning the interpretation and application of the award.

BLAMED ON OPERATORS.

Notwithstanding repeated efforts on the part of your representatives on the board of conciliation to arrange a meeting with the operators, more than one month elapsed before a meeting was held. However, on May 27, the joint board of conciliation convened in Wilkesbarre, and to the astonishment of our representatives on the board of conciliation, the operators refused to recognize their credentials or proceed to the adjustment of disputes in the manner provided for in the award.

In view of the action of the operators in refusing to carry out the award on the commission the executive boards of Districts One, Seven and Nine have, after carefully canvassing the entire situation, decided to notify all unions that a convention will be held in Pottsville beginning at 10 a. m. Monday, June 15, 1903.

The purpose of this convention will be to decide what action shall be taken or what course shall be pursued by the officers having your affairs in charge. If local unions wish delegates to elect their representatives on

BIG WARD IS NOW IN REVOLT

Citizens of Fourteenth Has Rival Organization to Fight.

A JOB FOR BIGELOW

Will Have to Decide Which One Is to Be Recognized and Decision Will Cause Trouble.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY

Fourteenth ward citizens are at war among themselves and it will require skillful leadership to prevent a disruption of the organization. There are now rival ward committees, and no matter how the city committee decides, trouble will result.

The newly elected ward committee was called together in the Bellefield school last night for the purpose of electing a ward chairman. W. J. Moore aspired to succeed himself with William Elford as an opponent. Every inch of the ground was fought, Moore winning the temporary organization and controlling the committee on contested seats. He failed to have the majority report adopted, two of his men deserting him. Temporary Chairman W. H. Stevenson then adjourned the meeting.

The Moore crowd left the hall and the Elford faction took charge. Amid much disorder, profanity and an utter disregard for parliamentary practices the champions of Elford, mostly Democrats, elected him ward chairman and named the other officers. The result will be a contest in the city committee. If Moore is thrown out the high-toned element of the Citizens party will revolt. If he is recognized the vote-getters of Soho will be sore. T. S. Bigelow must decide.

MEN BEHIND THE CANDIDATES.

Moore was backed in his fight by Councilman W. H. Stevenson and Christ Beckert and the old-line Independent Republicans in the ward. Elford was put forward by Select Councilman James J. Booth, Common Councilman John Lauler, Contractor James McQualide, Police Inspector Henry Whitehouse and the Democrats in the ward. Elford is also believed to have had the secret support of the Citizens party bosses.

There are 48 members of the ward committee, and they were all present but Robert Lyness of the Sixteenth district. In addition to the committeemen, there was a big attendance of the Citizens in the ward. Chairman Moore called the meeting to order and Daniel Jones was secretary. The Moore people nominated W. H. Stevenson for temporary chairman and Elford's candidate was John Doherty, a Democrat and brother of City Assessor Jere Doherty. Chairman Moore almost started a riot by announcing that contests had been filed in the Third, Sixth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth districts, and the members from those districts could not vote. J. J. O'Donnell, a Democrat employed in the county commissioners' office, objected to the ruling on behalf of the Elford forces. This started his crowd. In a minute there were cries of "Gag law," "We won't stand for it a d— bit," "Throw him out," but no blows were struck.

STEVENSON ELECTED.

The roll was called finally and Stevenson was elected, receiving 19 votes and Elford 17. When Stevenson took charge the Elford forces were again inclined to riot, but the chairman subdued the noisy ones. O'Donnell then declared that the contests had been trumped up for the occasion. He said it was a pre-established affair, having been agreed upon several months ago.

Chairman Stevenson said that he would appoint a contest committee of five, after announcing to Peter Leaheny of Soho, that he would have him thrown out if he did not keep quiet. Leaheny, a puddler mill worker, subsided for a minute. Stevenson pulled a list of names from his pocket and prepared to announce the committee. The Elford people accused him of having the cards stacked and there were loud cries that Leaheny be put on the committee. Stevenson was equal to the occasion and announced: "Just to show you that I do not have a prepared list, I will appoint Leaheny." He then named A. W. Black, F. S. Randolph, Peter Lynn and G. M. Kinzer, all Moore men. Stevenson tried to hand the papers to one of the Moore members, but Leaheny grabbed them, declaring in unparliamentary language that his name had not been read first, and he was chairman.

COMMITTEE OUT TWO HOURS.

The committee was in session for two hours and there was a battle most of the time. Leaheny by main force took the majority report from the hands of the committeemen and presented it to the meeting in this language:

"Here it is. I object to the report and don't sign anything in it. I tell you that right now."

First, J. F. Binder, John Nagle, Patrick Neenan; Second, P. H. Lind, F. G. Batchelor, C. K. Smith; Third, H. E. Goldman, Emil Matthias, W. J. Meaffey; Fourth, James Kane, Daniel Moran, John Brown; Fifth, Peter Leaheny, D. J. Craig, Martin Croker; Sixth, Thomas Scully, M. V. Doyle, John Holden; Seventh, S. H. Elford, Dennis Cass, John Doherty; Eighth, Thomas J. Murray, Harry Rickets, James McGinley; Ninth, E. D. Will, James McQuaide, John Lowry; Tenth, W. J. Moore, G. M. Kinzer, F. S. Randolph; Eleventh, Harry Reimer, G. H. Bence, C. A. Anderson; Twelfth, A. W. Black, R. B. Jones, W. H. Stevenson;

Thirteenth, Charles McAllister, A. J. Strickler, George Snyder; Fourteenth, J. W. Curran, P. McNamara, Benjamin Lewis; Fifteenth, U. D. Booth, Frank McAllister, J. W. Harger, Sixteenth, Robert Tyness, James D. Robinson, George F. Barner.

ELFORD FORCES WON.

Stevenson ruled that the delegates involved in the contest could not vote, and the ballot resulted 19 votes against receiving the Moore report and 17 for it. There was more disorder and the room had to be cleared. The Elford faction then presented its report. It follows: Third, James O'Donnell, William Smith, F. Kilchensoin; Sixth, M. Doyle, John Hoban, Thomas Scully; Thirteenth, Charles McAllister, A. J. Strickler, George Snyder; Fourteenth, P. J. Crowley, C. J. Crowley, P. J. Ridge. On the motion to put these men on the roll, the Moore men were polling 18 votes against 17 for the adoption of the report.

J. W. Harger moved an appeal to the city committee, but Chairman Stevenson induced him to withdraw the motion. He then called for a vote on whether the Moore report on contested seats be adopted. One Elford delegate said: "I vote no, it, no, no." Robinson and Barnes switched to the Elford forces and Moore's report was rejected, the vote being 19 to 17. Chairman Stevenson immediately put a motion to adjourn and declared it was carried. He left the meeting and Secretary Jones tried to take his records with him. There was a tussle and the Elford men secured the books. The Moore forces all left the hall.

ELFORD WAS ELECTED.

James Kane of the Fourth district scrambled into the chair and called the Elford forces to order. There was no roll call. In a minute John Doherty had been elected temporary chairman and Thomas Scully and John Harges secretaries. James McQuaide and Harges tried to get the excited men to adjourn the meeting, being doubtful about the legality of the proceedings. One big Soho committeeman yelled: "What's that. Elect Elford now." Soho judgment prevailed and Elford was named by acclammation for ward chairman. Harges again tried to adjourn the meeting, but he was not recognized. In a hurry M. J. Ehrenfeld was elected vice chairman, Daniel Jones secretary and George F. Kime treasurer. Jones had been the secretary of the first meeting and he came forward and asked for the minute book. There was another tussle, but he finally got the records. The meeting was finally adjourned to meet in the same hall June 11, when the election of Elford is to be ratified and provision made to carry their case to the city committee. The ward representative on the city committee was not chosen. Moore is the present member.

MOORE IS WAITING.

After the meeting Moore said that his forces would wait developments. If the city committee recognizes Elford's organization, there will be trouble. Moore says that most of the people opposing him are Democrats and that the decent element in the Citizens party will not support them.

The Eleventh ward Citizens organized their ward committee last night by electing the following officers: William O. H. Hemingray, chairman; Maj. J. H. Rust, vice chairman; G. P. Quinn, secretary, and Theodore Smith, treasurer.

James R. Connor was elected chairman of the Citizens party of the Seventh ward. The member of the committee of 38 was not chosen.

ELECTED DELEGATES.

Democrats of First District Name Their Representatives in State Convention.

A meeting of the Democrats of the First legislative district was held last night at the Jacksonian club house, in Nelson street, Allegheny. Richard McCormick of the First ward and John Geisler of the Fourth ward, were elected delegates to the state convention, and Cornelius Casey of Sharpsburg was unanimously indorsed for jury commissioner.

The meeting was well attended and County Commissioner James Clark and Attorney William J. Brennen from Pittsburgh, were there.

Prohibitionists Meet Today.

The Prohibitionists of Allegheny county will hold their annual county convention in the East End board of trade hall, Shady avenue, today. About 200 delegates and a number of visitors from outside the county, among them Charles R. Jones of Philadelphia, state chairman, are expected to be present. In the evening a mass meeting will be addressed by the Rev. J. H. Hector, the "Black Knight" of the Prohibition cause, and one of the personal friends of Booker T. Washington. The convention will nominate a full county ticket and elect delegates to the state convention at Gettysburg, June 17.

Sharp Trick by Republicans.

Republicans in the Thirty-seventh ward secured a majority of the ward's sub-district school board, by a manipulation of the order of procedure in the reorganization of the board last night. Frank Texter resigned from the board last Friday and William Venning, a Republican, was elected to fill the place. The election was held after the board had reorganized while if it had taken place before, a Citizens man would have been elected.

ZIONISTS' CONVENTION.

Cleveland and Chicago Will Try to Secure the Meeting for Next Year.

Jacob DeHaas, secretary of the Federation of American Zionists, which will open its sixth annual convention in Pittsburgh next Sunday, will arrive here today to complete arrangements for the event. Official reports received by the local committee point to an unusually large number of delegates being present. The recent Kishineff massacre and the Jewish education question are of great significance and are attracting many delegates to the city.

It is understood that the Cleveland delegation is instructed to secure the next convention for the Lake city. The Chicago delegates will also make a determined effort to land the convention.

The mass meeting to be held at the Bijou theater on Sunday evening promises to be a big success. The Hon. Josiah Cohen will preside, and the speakers will be Prof. Richard Gottheil, Consul Nissuan S. K. Porter, the Rev. John A. Jayne, the Hon. Leon Zolotkoff and the Rev. Maslinasky. A chorus of 50 trained voices and an orchestra will furnish the music.

Word was received yesterday that Dr. Emil G. Hirsch of Chicago will arrive in this city next Sunday to attend the convention, and will be one of the principal orators at the mass meeting on Sunday evening.

SERVANT GIRLS OUTCLASSED.

Chicago Flat Janitors Strike and Milkmen and Grocers Will Aid.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Flat janitors, employed in 60 buildings controlled by W. A. Merigold & Co., have been ordered on strike. Residents of the buildings may be cut off from food supplies in as much as the grocery and milk wagon drivers are in alliance with the flat janitors.

The cause of the strike was the discharge of a janitor who was ordered to move from one building to take charge of another.

Another Commission Appointed.

HANNA PRAISES THE PRESIDENT

ity he would carry out the policies of President McKinley. How well he has succeeded we all know. Theodore Roosevelt is a man whose ambition is not greater than his patriotism."

The senator stated tomorrow the convention would give expression to its approval of the president. Speaking further of the tariff he said: "Once I said, 'Let well enough alone,' and now I say for God's sake keep on letting it alone."

In discussing the relations between capital and labor Senator Hanna said that the day was dawning when this great question would be taken up and considered, not merely from the standpoint of politics, but from the standpoint of the interests involved.

The convention was called to order at 4 o'clock in the auditorium by John B. Clingerman of Springfield, chairman of the state central committee. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. Collins Jackson, after which Senator Hanna was introduced as temporary chairman of the convention. The senator was given a great ovation as he stepped forward to speak, the cheering, yelling and waving of hats demonstrating the popularity of the national chairman with his constituents. Even the Foraker delegations joined in the noise, and it was some time before Mr. Hanna could begin his address.

PROTECTION MUST BE GUARDED.

Senator Hanna in his speech said:

The Republican party laid the foundation stone. Human liberty and protection of American industries and the American workingmen are placed in the sacred archives of our country's history and furnish its foundation stone, and as it was raised year by year, tried by experience, encouraged by success, let me point to that magnificent structure, the monument to the principles of the Republican party, and let that party write the inscription upon its base in letters that all who run may read, "Hands off."

What can be said of Ohio can be said of our nation. Republicans today can congratulate themselves that in the direction of national affairs they have realized all they hoped for and all they expected in the administration of Theodore Roosevelt." (Great applause.)

We look back but a few short months, when that heroic young man, standing under the shadow of that awful tragedy at Buffalo, feeling and appreciating the responsibilities which had come upon him, and in the presence of the American people, made that sacred promise to them that, to the best of his ability, with his heart full of desire, it should be his aim to carry out the policies of President McKinley. (Long continued applause.)

WILL APPROVE OF ROOSEVELT.

And how well he has succeeded we all know and we all feel, and this convention will express an appreciation of that administration. We all realize that to that young heroic president is due, as coming from his heart, the most patriotic, unselfish and energetic devotion to the interests of the people and the principles of his party. (Long continued applause.)

Standing in the presence of the American people and hearing those words, the solemn import of which indelibly impressed itself upon all who stood near him, no one can doubt his motives or even his ambition. No one can place him in the category of a man whose ambition is greater than his patriotism. (Applause.)

Our government is a government of party. It is necessarily so and always will be so. The people who are the final arbiters of all questions, study and consider from their own standpoint and form their ideas and opinions as to the policies by which these parties propose to govern our country.

Human liberty, protection to American industries and our workingmen! We started with that slogan many years ago. It went forth and reached the hearts of every fireside in the land, and if we needed any additional tribute or any accessory to add to the lustre of that monument it would be the culmination of happiness and contentment perceptible everywhere around us. I once said: 'Let well enough alone.' For God's sake, keep letting it alone!

The future of the United States cannot be measured in words. The experience of 60 years has taught us that nothing is impossible. There are no conditions existing today but that are in a further stage of development than they have been in the past. The United States stands today in the first rank of the industrial nations of the world. Having just arrived at that point, does any one suppose we are going to stop or halt in our progress? That is not the spirit of the American people.

Concerning the relationship between capital and labor. The day is dawning when that all-important, aye, economically important, question will be taken up, discussed and considered, not purely from the standpoint of politics, but from the standpoints of humanity and society. That is simply another milestone to mark our progress in that direction, but it will not be the last. 'Onward' is our motto as a people and in order that advance may be safe and sure all the people must look for guidance along that path to those who lead them and have led them safely in the past. We have never failed when we have gone before the country upon that solid foundation, not of theory, but of fact and have refuted the prophecies of evil.

The Republican party is in the lead and we have no brass band ahead of us. We are going to follow along the lines and by the straight path which we have trodden for nearly 50 years. You must accept results as proof and if you consider not only your own material interests, but the best interests of society and of our common country, you cannot fail to find yourself on the broad platform of republican party, without any regard to past party affiliations, with that banner floating aloft which proclaims the principles of the Republican party. (Loud applause.)

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR CONTEST.

At the conclusion of his address, the choice of committees was announced, after which the convention took a recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

This is a busy night for the candidates. They are all hustling for votes. There is just as much uncertainty as to who will win the nomination for lieutenant governor as there was yesterday and the confidence of the leaders does not seem to have cleared the atmosphere to any great extent. Warren G. Harding, who was supposed to have been slated for the place by Cox and Hanna, is still the favorite, although the old soldier boom that was started against him by some of Hanna's lieutenants is developing considerable strength.

When the convention meets tomorrow morning Senator Foraker will be made permanent chairman. Candidates will be nominated for governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, auditor general, judge of the supreme court, attorney general, state school commissioner and member of board of public works. Unless some lengthy fights develop it is expected that the convention will finish its business early in the afternoon.

Col. Albert Douglas of Chillicothe today made public a letter in which he released the delegates who were pledged to him and withdrew from the race for governor. After Senator Hanna announced his preference for Col. Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland, Douglas had no chance to win, but he stayed in the race and said his name would be presented to the convention.

Senator Harding tonight issued a statement denying that he was an anti-Hanna man. He said that the opposition to him was based upon the assertion that he was unfriendly to Hanna, and it was this impression that he desired to destroy. John R. Malloy stated this evening that in the organization of the state central committee the Hanna forces had two men, one from the Sixteenth and one from the Fourth congressional districts. The member from the Sixteenth is not anti-Hanna, but is opposed to Dick, being a friend of Congressman Gill. However, there is no significance in this loss of two members, as Senator Hanna controls the committee by 19 to 2, and there was no fight made to keep Foraker men off.

STATE COMMITTEE SELECTED.

The new state central committee consists of the following: First district, Fred Bader, Hamilton county; Second, P. W. Durr, Hamilton; Third, Mort A. Slater, Montgomery; Fourth, C. C. Wright, Darke; Fifth, Frank A. Gamble, Van Wert; Sixth, George King, Warren; Seventh, John B. Clingerman, Clark; Eighth, George Rutledge, Hardin; Ninth, Walter Brown, Lucas; Tenth, O. B. Gould, Jackson; Eleventh, Charles C. Pickering, Fairfield; Twelfth, W. C. Wallace, Franklin; Thirteenth, Alexander Kiskadden, Seneca; Fourteenth, W. P. Francis, Huron; Fifteenth, F. M. Martin, Noble; Sixteenth, James E. Parsley, Jefferson; Seventeenth, W. B. Bryson, Wayne; Eighteenth, Julius Whiting, Stark; Nineteenth, L. C. Miles, Summit; Twentieth, J. J. Rowe, Cuyahoga; Twenty-first, F. H. Haserot, Cuyahoga.

The complexion of this committee is such as to insure the re-election of Congressman Dick as chairman of the state executive committee, a position which he has held almost continuously since 1892.

The resolutions will commend President Roosevelt's ability and adherence to McKinley principles and favor his nomination, and the re-election of Hanna as senator; will praise Gov. Gen. Taft of the Philippines, will favor three of the proposed constitutional amendments, maintenance of canals, better roadways, improvement of Ohio rivers and tax reform. No changes is wanted in the tariff or other national declarations. Certain planks insist on the enforcement of the amendments for negro suffrage or the reduction of the representation of southern states in congress and the electoral college. The resolutions will also favor legislation to stimulate local bank circulations.

NEW FISHERIES DEPARTMENT

of Philadelphia, Chief of the State Department of Fisheries.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker who yesterday appointed William E. Meehan of Philadelphia, chief of the department of fisheries, today appointed Andrew R. Whittaker of Phoenixville, Charles L. Miller of Altoona, John Hamburg of Erie and Henry C. Cox of Wellsboro, members of the state fisheries department to succeed the members of the state board of fish commissioners abolished by the act passed by the last legislature creating a department of fisheries.

the board of conciliation they should instruct them accordingly.

The basis of representation will be one vote for each 100 members or less, and one vote for each additional 100 members or majority fraction thereof.

Note—Upon receipt of this circular the secretaries will call special meetings of local unions for the purpose of electing and instructing delegates.

N. B.—Local officers will call meetings of locals as soon as possible and return duplicate credentials signed to the district secretary immediately so that list of delegates may be prepared for the convention. Each delegate should be given an original credential card for himself alone, to be presented at the convention.

THOMAS D. NICHOLLS, Pres. Dis. No. 1.
WILLIAM DETTREY, Pres. Dis. No. 7.
JOHN GALLAGHER, Secretary.
JOHN FAHY, Pres. Dis. No. 9.
GEORGE HARTLEIN, Secretary.

Despite the present determined front of the mine workers, men who are close to them do not believe that work will be suspended. They believe that President Mitchell will come to the region to attend the convention, and that he will recommend that the question of whether Nichols, Fahey and Dettrey have been properly chosen, be referred to Judge Gray in person or the strike commission as a body.

WANTS AN UMPIRE.

President Truesdale Anxious to Have the Disputed Question Settled at Once.

NEW YORK, June 3.—President Truesdale of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, today said that the operators were desirous of carrying out the terms of the award of the anthracite commission. He said:

There is no occasion for making any threats of a strike or tie-up to settle the points at issue. The commission's award provides for the appointment of an umpire by one of the circuit judges of the third judicial circuit of the United States to decide just such points as the one which has now been raised, and I am sure all the operators will be entirely willing to have this question referred to such an umpire, or better still they will be entirely willing to refer it to the chairman of the commission, Judge Gray, and let him decide it, and I have no doubt Judge Gray would be entirely willing to do so.

So far as the Lackawanna company is concerned, there is not a single grievance or question of difference between the company and its mine employes which is to be referred to and passed upon by the board of conciliation. The mine employes of this company have ever since the strike performed their work to the entire satisfaction of the company, and the mines are apparently equally satisfied with the conditions under which they are working and the wages they are receiving.

President Fowler of the New York, Ontario & Western road said he thought the situation is very much exaggerated.

Pardon Board Must Reconsider.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—The case of John Henry, convicted in Crawford county of robbery and sent to the penitentiary for eight years, and recommended for pardon, has been sent back to the board by Gov. Pennypacker for further consideration. The Crawford county authorities made a vigorous protest and it is thought the board will revoke its action at the next meeting.

THE ENDYMION WON.

Pittsburgher's Yacht Finished First in Opening Race of Atlantic Yacht Club.

NEW YORK, June 3.—George Lauder, Jr.'s, Endymion, holder of the trans-Atlantic yacht record of 13 days and 20 hours from the Hook to Southampton, finished first this morning in the initial event of this season, held by the Atlantic Yacht club, but the Kiawassa, owned by H. B. Schaen, won by 11 minutes and 48 seconds on time allowance. The Endymion also had to give the Iroquois time, which will, of course, place her third.

The race was begun at 10:15 Monday morning off Sea Gate, Coney Island, and finished by the leading boat off Scotland lightship at 1:30 this morning. The course was to and around Fire Island lightship, a distance of 47 miles from Sea Gate, thence to the Northeast End lightship, off Cape May, a distance of 107 miles, and 94 knots home to the Scotland floating marks, a total journey of 248 knots.

Andrew Carnegie, Jr., Dick Sheldon, the Yale athlete, and Jasper Rowland were guests of Owned George J. Lauder on the Endymion. One of the interesting incidents of the race was the sailing of the Fleur de Lys by a woman skipper. Miss Stimson, daughter of Dr. Lewis Stimson, who was not on board, was the only woman on the Fleur de Lys, which has an international reputation. The young woman did splendidly, and at one time had the leading position.

COMMISSION DECIDES AGAINST DIVISION

The commission appointed to consider the proposed division of the Twenty-first ward, has made its report to the court of quarter sessions, the report being opposed to division, as announced several weeks ago by The Gazette. This means that Select Councilman R. H. Douglas will be allowed to retain his seat for the rest of his term.

TO MINE 9,000 ACRES OF COAL

BOND ISSUE IS PROVIDED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, June 3.—The details of an important new development in the Georges Creek coal region have just been brought to a conclusion. This plan contemplates extensive mining operations covering about 9,000 acres of land. The Cumberland Basin Coal Company has been organized for this purpose with a capital of $1,000,000 and has executed a deed of trust to the Continental Trust Company of this city, to cover an issue of $500,000 of bonds. Of this issue there will be retained in the treasury of the company $300,000 of bonds for future needs.

The company is mining coal from three mines and is turning out about 250 tons a day. This will be augmented by another mine which will be in operation in about 10 days and the company can expand its operations so as to work up to an output of about 5,000 tons a day.

The coal of the new company includes in part the famous big vein coal of the Georges Creek region. This property, while locally known to have valuable coal, was not developed until it came to the attention of Henry A. Parr, T. Edward Hambleton and other Baltimore capitalists. Experts estimate that the property contains about 94,700,000 tons of coal. The company has built a railroad three miles long to connect with the Cumberland & Pennsylvania railroad at Barrelaville, in Allegheny county, Md. The coal property extends through Allegheny county and into Somerset county, Pa. Besides coal the company has an extensive deposit of fireclay on its lands and will mine this and manufacture firebrick. It also has about 15,000,000 feet of lumber which is being marketed.

The directors of the new company are: Henry A. Parr, T. Edward Hambleton, Frank A. Furst, J. Coates, J. O. Stafford and Thomas F. McGlone, of Baltimore, and J. L. Passemore of Philadelphia. Mr. McGlone is president of the company, and Mr. Stafford is secretary and treasurer.

SCHOOL BOARDS ORGANIZE.

Officers Were Elected and Other Business Was Transacted in Two Wards.

The school board of the Thirty-first ward met last night and organized as follows: President, H. J. Hartzell; secretary, W. G. Johnson; treasurer, Peter Storekel; member of central board, Fred E. Klein. Prof. C. B. Cook was re-elected principal for a term of three years and the following teachers were elected for one year: Misses Sarah L. Cochran, Elizabeth Finney, Alma Scheck, Amanda Koch, Ida McAfee, Emma Schuck, Rose Simmen, May Wilson, Alice Hopkins, Helen Challinor, Catherine Herbster, Nettie Ramsey, Katherine Martin, Charlotte Brown, Zelma Long, Laura Appel, Emma Alles, Stella Stanger, Margaret Tyhurst, Edna Klein, Jean Curran, Pearl Lloyd, Mary Hunter, Ida Clark, Frances Beech, Miss Keller and Miss Vockel.

Henry Ettling was re-elected physical instructor and James Young was chosen janitor. The board also made arrangements to hold the annual picnic at Allequippa grove, June 22.

The school board of the Twenty-sixth ward has organized as follows: President, J. A. J. Haupt; secretary, John Beck; treasurer, John Keil. H. F. Reineke was re-elected as a member of the central board and the old corps of teachers was elected.

The board of the Mt. Albion sub-school district, Eighteenth ward, effected an organization as follows: President, E. W. Kirkpatrick; secretary, John H. Maloney; treasurer, James H. Gallagher. W. H. Proudfitt was re-elected principal as was the old corps of teachers. William Moreland and A. H. McWilliams were chosen janitors.

The Lawrence board, Fifteenth ward, organized as follows: President, Jacob Hartman; secretary, William K. Hart; treasurer, E. Z. Wainwright. Miss Emily Evans was elected a grammar teacher to succeed Miss Annie Marshall, who resigned. Lee Louden was chosen janitor. The annual picnic will be at Almeda park, Butler, June 23.

The Homewood subdistrict, Twenty-first ward, has been reorganized with the following: A. Cypress, president; P. M. Forsythe, secretary; Frank Hafferty, George Barclay, J. G. Schuller and Millis Cable. The old corps of teachers was elected and Miss Mary Morris was added to the list.

The Duquesne sub-district school board, First ward, has organized by electing Peter Snyder president, N. J. Snyder secretary and Joseph Rice treasurer.

WILMERDING FINALLY RAISES THE DEADLOCK

The new school board of Wilmerding organized last night and elected teachers for the coming year. Prof. William G. Gans of Airbrake avenue, Wilmerding, was elected superintendent of schools. This position has been vacant for the past four months, the old school board having been deadlocked. There were 61 applications for the position at last night's meeting. Prof. Gans, the new superintendent, has for four years been principal of the Union High school of Turtle Creek. The salary is $1,600. All the old teachers who were applicants were re-elected.

New Trust Official Chosen.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Alvin W. Krech has been elected president of the Equitable Trust Company, succeeding William T. Cornell, who resigned. Mr. Krech's place as vice president of the Mercantile Trust Company is filled by the election of James H. Hyde of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Clapp Elected Track Captain.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 3.—Edwin Clapp, 1904, of St. Paul, Minn., was this afternoon elected captain of the Yale university track team. Clapp is the intercollegiate champion hurdler.

PROMINENT PERUVIAN VISITS PITTSBURGH

Senor Pezet, Secretary of Legation at Washington, Here for Few Days.

Senor F. A. Pezet, first secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, arrived in Pittsburgh last night on the Pennsylvania limited. He was accompanied by Senora Pezet and their young son Alfonzo. They were met at East Liberty station by Col. J. Orton Kerby, E. E. Gallope and Talbot Peterson and were immediately driven to the Hotel Schenley, where the senor and his family will remain for the balance of the week.

The senor has been in this country for a number of years, but this is his first visit to Pittsburgh. For several years he was consul general at New York and he has been first secretary of the legation for two and a half years. For years previous to his appointment to New York he represented Peru as consul general at Panama, Paris, Brussels, Liverpool and London.

"I am greatly interested in America and its people," said Senor Pezet last night, "and particularly am I interested in Pittsburgh, the city which for many years I have heard called the industrial center of the world. I have been anxious to visit here ever since I first set foot on American soil, and I am happy that at last my hopes are realized. While here I may deliver a few lectures, and hope to see everything worth seeing in the industrial line."

This afternoon Senor Pezet will address the meeting of the chamber of commerce on "An Unbroken Waterway From Pittsburgh to Peru." He proposes to show the commercial advantage this city would enjoy if the navigation of the Ohio river were made open the year around. Tomorrow the secretary will visit the Carnegie Steel Company and the Westinghouse works.

It is expected that tomorrow evening Senor Pezet will deliver an address at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Music hall under the auspices of the Academy of Arts and Science. There is some doubt as to whether the hall can be secured, and if it is found impossible to deliver the lecture there, the banquet hall at the Schenley will be used.

ASKS FOR STATE AID TO REPEL THE RAILROAD

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—John B. Stevenson, the wealthy capitalist, near Jenkintown, who is defying the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company in its attempts to trespass on his property, at Noble station, this afternoon sent a telegram to Governor Pennypacker appealing for aid in the protection of his property. Mr. Stevenson admitted that he had sent the dispatch, "claiming the right under the constitution," as he put it, "that the railway company asked for its coal mines when their property was threatened by strikers."

The appeal was made, Mr. Stevenson said, because he had information that another attempt would be made tonight by the railway company to enter his property and tear down the walls he had built around it. A constable has been on guard there every night since Mr. Stevenson and his sons repelled an invasion of last Saturday. He said he was taking steps to defend the place tonight, and intended to prevent intrusion.

HAMILTON'S

THE MERIT OF THE SCHUMANN PIANO

It is not necessary to pay a big price for a piano in order to secure a first-class instrument. The Schumann piano is a high grade instrument and is sold at moderate cost. We take particular pleasure in recommending the Schumann piano to our customers because we know it will give the very best of satisfaction. It is a piano of merit, carefully constructed, is made to please the lovers of music and is thoroughly reliable.

The thing which first attracts you and lingers longest in memory when you hear the Schumann played is its rich, mellow tone. It is a piano vocalists "like to sing to," and it is a piano every performer likes to play.

The Schumann piano has an established reputation. It is not one of the new makes. Musical people generally know what it is. They know it to be a fine instrument. And you'll make no mistake in choosing a Schumann as your life-long friend and companion.

Clearing the Summer Millinery.

And it's going out with the aid of the push-out prices just about as lively as any goods ever went out of this store. Styles have long ago become indelible, so there is no possibility of going wrong in the choice you make. You haven't the least idea of the great variety of beautifully trimmed hats here and we can't make you understand by any worded description. Only one way to judge of the hats and toques and bonnets, and the reduced prices for which they are sold, and that is by giving some time to looking through the department.

At $1 each, a great number of trimmed Hats that formerly sold for $5. Now it is only fair to tell you that these hats are—well, let's be plain, shop-worn. But a shop-worn hat does not mean something unfit for wear. What we would call shop-worn you might not notice at all.

Summer styles of Trimmed Hats, trimming that will please the most fastidious, at these half prices: At $2.50 from $5, at $3.50 from $7, at $5 from $10, at $7.50 from $15.

Outing Hats and Traveling Hats, newest ideas, are reduced a third—$2.50, $4, $5 each.

New shapes in Sailor Hats, and they are jaunty as you would have them, both for women and girls, 75c and $1.

The Exquisite Dressiness of French Foulards.

What so trim as a Summer dress of foulard? What material for woman's wear possesses so much sightly style? Call to mind all the weaves of silk and we'll lay a good round wager that your opinion is the same as ours—nothing to equal foulard.

In one of our Penn Avenue windows we are showing some of the handsomest specimens of French Foulards ever brought to this city, and the amazing thing about these foulards is, while they are ultra-fashionable for Summer dresses, yet we are selling them under regular prices. No matter why. That would not alter the fact one iota.

These dressiest of Summer silks are here at such reduced prices as follows:

At 78c and $1 a yard, some 2,800 yards of French Foulards, as handsome as any that ever came off the loom. There are two grades of these foulards and the former prices were $1 and $1.25 a yard.

Another style of French Foulards comes in a 27-inch width, and the designs are white prints on blue grounds. There are several different varieties of prints. 78c a yard instead of $1.

At $1 a yard we are selling a $1.25 grade of 24-inch Foulard Faconne, a silk with a delightful soft finish. There are over 30 styles blue and black grounds, over which are spread white printed dots. There are several sizes of these dots.

At 78c a yard there is on sale a $1 grade of pretty 26-inch natural Pongee, and we might as well say right here that pongee still retains its deserved popularity. This special number of pongee has neat dots in contrasting colors, such as red, white, black, pink, blue and green.

At $2 a yard we have among our black Silks a $2.50 grade of Black Crepe de Chine. This is a 44-inch wide silk and of a rich feather black.

At 95c a yard, a $1.25 grade of 24-inch wide black Louisine Faconne, one of the most popular silks for shirtwaist suits that we have.

At 63c a yard we are selling a 75c grade of black Taffeta made in Switzerland. Our guarantee as to reliability goes with every yard of it.

Men's Fine Trousers, $3.75 a Pair.

A two or three hour sale today at which men can buy contrasting Trousers to accompany that good coat and vest that hangs in the wardrobe. Only 150 pairs—so early means something.

50 pairs Fine Worsted Trousers..... $5 and $6 Garments.
60 pairs Fancy Striped Cheviot Trousers.. $5 and $6 Garments.

Ribbed Underwear for Women.

A few briefs merely as a reminder that we carry everything worth having in ribbed underwear. Garments in every material which can be ribbed.

Three very special paragraphs to notice first.

$1.50 each for a $2.50 grade of Silk Corset Covers, high neck, long sleeves. Small sizes.

Ribbed Umbrella Union Suits, $1 each and up to $3.75.

La Fleur, the Correct Corset.

Correct because it adapts itself to the contour of the waist as no other corset can.

Correct because it is made of clinging materials, trimmed with daintiest of laces, and made in models that are up to date in every respect.

La Fleur is not produced in a multiplicity of models, but only those demanded by the most fastidious dressers. The mandates of Fashion are obeyed to the letter, therefore La Fleur is a corset which will harmonize with the prevailing style of dress.

For such a fine corset La Fleur is really something inexpensive. We are sole agents for Greater Pittsburg.

Fine Stockings—Reduced Prices.

Here's some great news for women who like to wear real fine stockings, but don't just care to pay the regular retail prices.

We have quite a few broken lines of French Lisle Thread hosiery, some of the stockings in fancy effects, others with lace stripes, still others with embroidery. When the lines were full these stockings sold for $1.50, $1.75 and $2 a pair. Now that the lines are broken you buy them for $1 a pair.

Another lot ready today of women's black German Lisle Hose in lace all-over effects; also children's all-over designs, some white, some black. These are real good stockings, and are worth more than the price we ask, 25c a pair.

Children's Stockings of both Egyptian and Maco cotton, prices according to size, 12½c, 18c, 25c, 35c, 50c, and by easy steps to $1.30.

BEAVER BALKS ON POPULAR VOTE

ACHESON WILL STAND FIRM

Says That He Will Have No Other Method of Nominating and Will Never Allow Chairman Penrose to Interfere in Affairs.

Congressman E. F. Acheson's plan to have the popular vote made the method of nominating in the Twenty-fourth district has been temporarily blocked by Beaver county. The Republicans of that county are holding out for the conferee system. The indications are that they will later agree to the popular vote idea.

Proper representatives of the Republican organizations of Beaver, Lawrence and Washington, met at the Hotel Henry yesterday afternoon to adopt a method of nominating. Lawrence and Washington stood for a popular vote and Beaver for the conferee system. As the decision must be unanimous, there was no action taken and another conference will be held at the same hotel on June 27.

National delegates are elected by the same method employed to nominate congressmen, for this reason Senator M. S. Quay is said to be doubtful about the advisability of a popular vote. He thinks it would make too much of a scramble for the two delegates to be named in the district. Quay desires to be one of the delegates and the other one will probably be John B. Brown of New Castle. Congressman Acheson says that Quay need not fear a fight next year, as the national convention will be a sleepy body whose only duty will be to ratify the selection of Roosevelt. He announces that Washington will not try to elect a delegate.

ACHESON IS DETERMINED.

"I will insist upon the adoption of the popular vote rule," said Congressman Acheson. "I have been fighting for it for 10 years and do not propose to be a backslider. Neither will I recognize the authority of the state chairman to make rules for our district. The last convention authorized him to formulate a method in districts where the Republicans have failed to do so before August of this year. I would not abide by Chairman Penrose's decision as I am of the opinion that he would have no legal right to interfere."

Washington county was represented by W. Frank Penn, J. V. Clark and W. A. Britton; Lawrence by John B. Brown, S. W. Crawford and J. G. Martin and Beaver by J. A. Elliott, A. C. Townsend and J. B. McClure. Congressman Acheson and John L. Stewart were also here from Washington. Lieut. Gov. William M. Brown was an interested spectator from Lawrence and Frank J. Judd of Beaver, the leader of that county, was present.

It is generally accepted that Acheson is to have another term in congress. Neither Judd nor Lieut. Gov. Brown has heard of any opposition to him in their counties. As there is no question about his control of Washington, it is practically settled that he will succeed himself.

WASHINGTON'S PROPOSITION.

John B. Brown was chosen chairman of the conference and J. B. McClure the secretary. Mr. Penn of Washington offered this resolution:

Resolved, That nominations for candidate for congress by the Republican party of the Twenty-fourth district of Pennsylvania, so long as such district shall remain as now constituted, shall be by popular vote. All candidates shall have the right to announce in each county in the district in accordance with the Republican rules in force therein. The vote cast in each county for each candidate shall be computed by the secretaries of the county convention thereof and shall be certified to by the chairmen and secretaries of such convention. A return judge shall then forthwith be appointed by the chairman of such county convention and these three return judges shall meet on the first Tuesday after the date of the county convention in the prothonotary's office in Beaver between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., and shall return and compute the total vote cast for each candidate in the three counties and shall certify the name of the candidates receiving the highest number of votes therein to the secretary of the commonwealth as the Republican candidate for congress in the Twenty-fourth congressional district of Pennsylvania.

Primaries shall be held in each county on the third Saturday prior to the state convention.

The fixing of a uniform date for the primaries was done at the suggestion of Quay and is entirely satisfactory to Acheson.

RESOLUTION FAILS.

There was a roll call on the Penn resolution. Washington and Lawrence voted solidly for its adoption and Beaver opposed it. Chairman Braun ruled that in view of a decision of the Dauphin court that held that all counties in a congressional district must agree to the adoption of a method of nomination, he would have to decide the motion to adopt the resolution lost.

Mr. Elliott of Beaver said that while it was immaterial to him what method was adopted, the sentiment of the county appeared to be for the conferee system.

In order to get an opportunity to further inquire into the wishes of the Republicans of Beaver, he moved that the conference adjourn until June 27. He said it was possible that by that time Beaver might be able to agree. The impression prevails that after the Beaver conferees have a consultation with their home people they will be willing to adopt the popular vote plan.

TRIED TO BLIND MATRON; THEN SHE DRANK IODINE

Hattie Dougherty Had Remorse After She Got Into Central Station.

Hattie Dougherty, aged 30, of No. 1421 Our alley, attempted to blind Miss Ault, matron at the Central police station, yesterday afternoon by throwing iodine in her face, and then the woman attempted her own life by drinking the stuff. The woman was arrested on a charge of grabbing a pocketbook from two small girls in the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station. She was caught after a chase at Fourth avenue and Grant street. When arraigned before Police Magistrate T. D. Stewart she was fined $15.

Afterward, while being searched by the matron, she drew a bottle of iodine from her skirt and dashed it into the matron's face. Part of the iodine got into Miss Ault's eyes, and her assistant sent for help. The prisoner attempted to drink the remainder of the liquid. Although half blinded Miss Ault struggled with the woman until Sergeant Merritt arrived. The woman was overpowered and the bottle was taken from her.

First Victim of Tetanus.

Wilbert Armstrong, 10 years old, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 7538 Finance street, of lockjaw. He is said to be the first victim of tetanus to die this summer. Armstrong had his hand badly burned on Decoration day by a giant cracker exploding in his hand.

HAYMAKER WINS UNDERTAKERS

District Attorney Welcomes Funeral Directors of State to City in Witty Speech.

FULLERTON FOR PRESIDENT

Local Man to Be Elected—Movement Started to Abolish Sunday Funerals. Visit to Morgue and a Reception on the Program for Today.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker made a hit yesterday with the undertakers of the state in a witty speech welcoming them to the city. The occasion was the opening of the twenty-second annual convention of the Funeral Directors' association of Pennsylvania, which is in session in the Monongahela house.

Over 100 members were present when the body was called to order by President D. B. Widmyer of Lancaster, Pa. Among the delegates were a number of women who are undertakers. Mr. Haymaker made his speech after the Rev. S. Edward Young had offered prayer.

The district attorney said that he was peculiarly fitted to talk to undertakers because he was a "dead one" himself, having been defeated for recorder last February. In response to the address of welcome R. R. Bringhurst of Philadelphia, paid a high tribute to the district attorney, stating that in the east Mr. Haymaker was far from being a "dead one," and that it was the belief in this section that the district attorney would some day in the near future grace a seat on the state supreme bench.

Two amendments to the constitution were offered, one providing for the abolition of Sunday funerals except in cases where immediate burial were a necessity, as in deaths from contagious diseases.

Indications are that James M. Fullerton of this city will be elected president. This morning the funeral directors and the embalmers will visit the county morgue, which has been decorated with flowers for the visit. This evening a reception for the visiting members and ladies will be held in the parlors of the Monongahela house.

The most important feature of the afternoon session comprised chemical tests by Dr. F. T. Aschman of this city. Dr. Aschman's tests showed the changes produced on bodies by the use of different embalming fluids.

Dr. S. L. McCurdy delivered an address on sanitation, which was very interesting.

Prof. H. S. Eckels of Philadelphia, made an address on the embalming of bodies. He spoke of the arterial system and the effects produced on it by fluids. He explained in several ways, how to embalm bodies of different ages, and in different states.

The executive committee reported favorably on 49 applicants for membership and they were approved.

One hundred and sixty-eight members and guests were present at the session.

COMPLICATION FROM A DIVISION OF PROPERTY

A queer arrangement among heirs to the Patterson property at Penn avenue and Sixth street has resulted in a series of complications that will be hard to untangle. When Joseph Patterson died he left, among other property, the building now occupied by the Victoria hotel. When the heirs were dividing the estate the cellar, first and second floors of a portion of the property, now occupied by Price Bros. was given to Mrs. I. W. Patterson. The latter leased her part to the Prices, the lease having four more years yet to run. The other heirs leased the hotel proper to Frank C. Smith, who has a lease for 20 years.

The latter will add two stories to the five-story structure, and when Contractor J. McKean made arrangements to put up a scaffolding around the part occupied by the Prices the latter went into court and compelled the removal of the lumber. This will cause the contractor to put up the scaffolding for the public safety above the second floor.

To make the building seven stories it will be necessary to put in a steel column at the corner of the building at Sixth street and Penn avenue to take the place of the brick column. As this will necessitate work being done right at the entrance used by the customers of Price Bros. the latter have made objections and are backed by the owner of the portion of the property they occupy.

The outcome cannot be foreshadowed, but the Prices will probably insist on a bond being filed to cover any loss they may incur and will ask for reimbursement for the time any obstructions are at the front of their business place.

EMPIRE LOWEST BIDDER.

Independent Concern Will Get Number of New Street Asphalt Contracts This Year.

Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow yesterday opened a number of bids for street improvements. The Empire Asphalt Company, the independent concern that made a fight in the courts for a share of city contracts, was the lowest bidder for nearly every street asphalt contract.

On the contract for Beatty street the Empire and Pittsburgh companies made the same bid, $1.79 a square yard. For the Wightman street contract the Empire company was the lowest, its bid being $1.75 a square yard. For the paving of Lemington avenue the Empire was the lowest, at $1.79, and for Orpheum the Pennsylvania Asphalt Company was the lowest bidder, at $1.77 a square yard.

A Beautiful Young Society Woman's Letter.

ST. PAUL, MINN.
521 Wabasha St.

Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.,
Dear Sir:

"I took Peruna last summer when I was all run down, and had a headache and backache, and no ambition for anything. I now feel as well as I ever did in all my life, and all thanks is due to your excellent Peruna."—Bess F. Healy.

The symptoms of summer catarrh are quite unlike in different cases, but the most common ones are general lassitude, played-out, tired-out, used-up, run-down feelings, combined with more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition. Relish for food and the ability to digest food seems to be lost.

Skin eruptions, sallow complexion, biliousness, coated tongue, fitful, irregular sleep, help to complete the picture which is so common at this season.

Peruna so exactly meets all these conditions that the demand is so great for this remedy at this season of the year that it is nearly impossible to supply it.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Thursday, June 4, 1903.

The little difference of opinion between Senators Hanna and Foraker as to the propriety of indorsing Roosevelt's candidacy seems to have had an intensive effect upon the harmony of the Ohio convention. The meeting of the two leaders yesterday was remarkably cordial and Senator Hanna beams with good humor and affability. He has not only fallen in line on the indorsement proposition but has gone right to the front. Roosevelt and harmony characterizes the Republican situation everywhere.

The facts laid before Mayor Hays by the Voters' Civic league are dismissed by him as of no importance, but the public will not concur with him. The facts of the case are incontestible and prove that the pay-roll brigade was used in attempts to pack public meetings, and also that the superintendent of police interfered with the proceedings of select council. Mayor Hays' desire to get rid of the subject is easy to understand, but it will not down. Official consideration may be refused, but the disgraceful record stands.

The annual Fourth of July celebration has become a regular Pittsburgh event, and it is gratifying to know that arrangements are beginning to make the celebration this year as grand as any of its predecessors. Allegheny city, too, will have its celebration, and what with oratory, pastimes and fireworks there will be plenty of entertainment and excitement for the masses. In view of this municipal provision it is not too much to ask that private celebration of the day shall be kept within bounds of public safety. Dangerous explosives should be prohibited and the police should give timely warning on that point.

The contests now going on in the school boards over the election of principals, teachers and janitors ought to draw attention to the wretchedness of this ward organization of public education. It abounds with petty jobbery and is extremely detrimental to the interests of the schools. The system ought to have been abolished long ago, but there are so many abuses to be corrected in the local government which tax the energies of reformers that reform of school management has never become an issue. The late Senator Magee once took up the matter, but the time did not seem ripe for a change, and the proposed legislation was abandoned.

Senator Hanna has become so prominent as a pacificator of industrial strife that what he had to say about the relations of capital and labor was invested with special interest. He dwelt upon the importance of amicable relations. The sensible and conciliatory spirit he advises and exemplifies in such matters was never more desirable than now, for the increase of labor troubles is now the weak spot in the industrial situation. At a time when work is plentiful and demand active, many men are thrown idle and important industries are arrested by labor troubles which ought to be susceptible of adjustment without strikes or lockouts.

McKeesport is first off in the utilization of the facilities provided by the annexation bill. Under its provisions two districts of Versailles township have petitioned for annexation, and the matter is receiving favorable consideration. So far there has been no movement toward Greater Pittsburgh under the bill, although it was dubbed the Greater Pittsburgh bill, quite inappropriately, as The Gazette several times pointed out. The probability is that the benefits of the bill will be first realized by the smaller communities, of which there are a great number. There are 106 separate municipal organizations in Allegheny county, consisting of three cities, 53 townships and 50 boroughs. The merger of some of these townships and boroughs is likely to precede the merger of the cities.

Senator Hanna indorses the Pennsylvania idea in regard to the tariff and he gave as the campaign watchword "hands off the tariff." His declaration was received with great applause and cheers. This is only one among many indications that the Iowa idea of tariff revision meets with no response in the Republican party. Business interests recoil from the long-drawn agony of tariff legislation, and the manifest fact that we are having unprecedented prosperity under the present tariff is good reason why we should not change it. Whatever may be said about particular duties, the general result is satisfactory. During the 10 years ending with 1902 our exports to the United Kingdom increased from $472,664,565 to $523,773,397; with Canada, from $37,564,497 to $111,153,035; with France, over 13 per cent; with Germany, more than 76 per cent; with Russia, more than 211 per cent. When we are increasing our trade in every direction, the tariff is evidently doing us no perceptible harm, and the argument of let well enough alone never applied with greater force than to this matter of the tariff.

Some of the ingrain carpet manufacturers have already acceded to the demand of the Philadelphia textile workers for a 55-hour week and a 10 per cent increase of wages. Public sentiment appears to be on the side of the men. The Philadelphia Ledger thinks that in general the demands of the operatives are reasonable and ought to be granted. It states that there are 39 classes of textile workers striking, and that 36 of these are not asking for an increase of wages, but a reduction of hours with corresponding decrease of pay. Ninety per cent are piece workers, so that if by reason of fewer hours they produce less, the loss falls upon them. They want to reduce the working day to nine hours, and surely that is long enough for an occupation involving close, continuous application and engaging many women and children.

A. W. Machen, the late superintendent of the free delivery division of the postoffice department, appears to have been a man of extensive business interests. Among other things, he was a member of the coal firm of Machen Brothers, and Attorney General Knox has just passed upon the question whether the firm is eligible as a bidder for the contract to supply the department with coal. The attorney general holds that the contract may be awarded to the firm, notwithstanding the fact that at the time its bid was made one of its members was an officer of the department. An interesting circumstance about the bid is that it was $2 55 per ton cheaper than the next lowest bid. It seems odd that the free delivery superintendent's firm should be able to sell coal to the department at a price so much lower than any other contractor, and since Mr. Machen's conduct is now under scrutiny it might be worth while to inquire how he managed it. If it was a square deal all through, the government is a large gainer by dealing at his coalyard.

Guarantees of Liberty.

The decision of the supreme court in the Hawaiian case still further emphasizes the distinction which the Constitution draws between the United States and territory belonging to the United States. The case just decided was brought up on an appeal from a conviction of manslaughter. Exception was taken on the ground that the accused had not been indicted as required by American law and because the verdict was that of a majority of the jury as permitted by Hawaiian law. The court holds that the Hawaiian practice is not illegal because it is not American practice.

The underlying principle in this case and in the other cases arising from the extension of our national jurisdiction over distant territory, is that we are not bound to subject the peoples of such territority to the same system of law and personal right as has been developed among ourselves, in conformity with our own customs and habits of thought, but we provide for them according to their own needs and desires. Every race puts its own construction upon the meaning of liberty, and to enforce the historic interpretation which our own race experience has produced, might result in the most grievous oppression.

The Constitution itself makes a plain distinction between the United States and its territorial possessions or dependencies and gives congress power to "make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States." The supreme court has wisely decided in a series of cases that laws passed for the United States and constitutional restrictions imposed upon the United States are not necessarily applicable to "the territory or other property belonging to the United States." Congress has as complete power to determine the form of government as the British parliament has with regard to the possessions of the British crown, and that power will be wisely exercised if it provides various forms of government in accord with the different needs of the various peoples under the protection of the American flag. The decisions of the supreme court are a guarantee of the freedom, growth and development of every people under the American flag in accordance with its own race capabilities.

Wages and Protection.

An esteemed contemporary which is addicted to viewing things through free trade glasses contrasts the wages of the textile workers now on strike with the wages of men in the building trades, with intent to point a moral against the utility of a protective tariff as an upholder of prices of labor. "No branch of the building trades," it says, "is protected by the Dingley tariff, while there is a high tariff on the textile products. The tariff-protected employes of the textile trades are obliged to work 60 hours a week for $12, and the non-protected men in the building trades work but 48 hours a week and get from two to four times the wage of the so-called beneficiaries of the Dingley tariff." Our contemporary perhaps thinks that it has in this statement made a strong case against protection by tariff, but this is simply because the glasses through which it sees the situation distort its vision and convey to its mind wrong impressions of the relations of things. If its statement of fact proves anything, it proves not that the textile workers would be better off without protection, but that they ought to have more protection if their employers cannot afford to pay them better.

The cases of the building trades and the textile trades are not parallel. The building trades are protected from foreign competition by natural physical conditions. There are no such conditions to protect the textile trades. Hence other protection must be given the latter, or the textile industry abandoned. The free trade editor can, without straining anything but his purse, import a suit of clothes or other garment, or a web of cloth, but it would require a vast strain on a large purse and on human ingenuity to import a house. This would be so difficult a task as to be classed among impossibilities. The insurmountable condition is all the protection the men in the building trades need. If the men in the textile trades were similarly circumstanced they could ask no better. But they are so differently circumstanced that they must be protected or quit. The present strike of textile workers and the wages they receive and the hours they work, as compared with the wages and hours of the men in the building trades, have only incidental bearing if any on the question of protection, though it may be pointed out that if the industries which cannot exist without tariff protection were to be deprived of such protection it would be a sad blow to the industries which, while they need no protection for themselves, are dependent on the prosperity of the others.

The Cause of a Slip.

Gov. Pennypacker is the subject of much chaff and criticism because of the appointment, now revoked, of two members of the legislature to positions as deputy factory inspector and deputy dairy agent contrary to the constitution, which prohibits a legislator being appointed during his term to any civil office under the commonwealth. The governor is twitted that while he has been a judge and is now the chief executive of the state to enforce the constitution and the laws he has shown that he "does not know his constitution as well as Macaulay did the list of popes, which he could repeat either way." This we think is an undeserved reflection on the governor. We do not credit the view that he is unfamiliar with the constitution, but incline to the belief that the proper parallel would be to represent him as not knowing his list of members of the legislature as well as the great essayist knew the other list. There are two-score members of the lower house of the legislature (lacking one) representing Philadelphia, and the circumstance that Gov. Pennypacker permitted the appointment of two of them to subordinate positions is proof that he is less familiar with the legislative representatives of his own county than Macaulay was with the popes, rather than that he is less familiar with the constitution. It may also be pointed out in this connection that it was not Macaulay's familiarity with the roster of the successors of St. Peter that made him great, and it is no proof of lack of qualities necessary to properly exercise judicial and gubernatorial functions to be unfamiliar with the membership of the legislature of Pennsylvania. It is very much to be doubted whether all the critical editors would be able if called upon to repeat the list of the 204 representatives and 50 senators one way, to say nothing of "either way," and it would probably put some of these in Philadelphia and even in Allegheny county up a stump to call the roll of the great men who represent their respective counties at Harrisburg, without the assistance of a legislative directory. Of course, it is expected that a governor will be familiar with the names of the members of his state legislature before appointing, just as an editor is expected that an editor will know the truth before publication. Were Pennypacker a politician he would know them, senate and house, from A to Z. But he is not a politician, and that explains his ignorance. But as for Pennypacker knowing so little of the constitution as to place or permit his heads of departments to place members of the legislature in office, don't think it.

Aimed at Us.

A feature of particular interest for us in the imperial protectionist proposals of Mr. Chamberlain is the way in which the whole scheme pivots on the situation of the United States. This is an aspect of the case which received no consideration in the lively discussion now going on in England and the British colonies over the matter, but it is the one which directly concerns us.

Mr. Chamberlain took as the starting point of his argument that the United States no longer attracted British emigration. The white population he estimated as amounting to 40,000,000 in the United Kingdom and 10,000,000 outside of it. The main reason why the white population of the empire had not grown more rapidly was that "the United States has offered a greater attraction to British emigration." But he went on to say that this has changed.

The United States, with all their vast territory, are filling up, and even now we hear of thousands and tens of thousands of emigrants leaving the United States in order to take up the fresh and rich lands of our colony of Canada. And it seems to me not at all an impossible assumption that before the end of this present century we may find that our population, our fellow-subjects beyond the seas, may be as numerous as we are at home.

It is upon this expectation he bases his suggestions of making an early start to bind the empire together in one great self-sufficing, economic unity. Briefly put, the argument is this: The United States, originally a British colonial possession, has heretofore been the chief recipient of the outflow of people from the United Kingdom, to the comparative neglect of the present colonial possessions of the United Kingdom. The United States has become a nation of 80,000,000, while the colonies of England have all told only 10,000,000, despite the vast natural resources of some, such as Australia and Canada. Now the British overflow has turned to the British colonies, and will strengthen them as in the past it strengthened the United States. It is time then to take advantage of this process to establish a system of trade preference between the United Kingdom and her colonies, so that all will profit by the growth of all and wax strong together.

As an instance of how to do it, Mr. Chamberlain cited the example of Canada. In 1898 it gave British goods a preference of 25 per cent; in 1900, she increased that preference to 33 1-3 per cent. The result has been a steady increase in the trade between Canada and the mother country, so that from £6,500,000 sterling in 1897-8, it is now £11,000,000 sterling, and is still increasing. In return Canada asks a preference for its grain, and Mr. Chamberlain intimated that he considered it a just and reasonable demand. It could only be given by putting a duty on grain imports to be abated in the case of imports from Canada.

It is significant that the only example of the actual application of the general principle is that which directly concerns the United States. The suggestion has fallen flat in Australia, whose press frankly declares that the competition against which her protective duties are chiefly aimed is that of England herself. The idea of preference to British goods is out of the question. Canada, however, accepts the suggestion joyfully. She is quite willing to give British goods preference in exchange for a preference for Canadian goods over grain shipments from the United States, and has, in fact, done so in the hope of inducing the reciprocal concession she craves. Thus the new imperial protectionist policy more immediately concerns the United States than any other power in the world, for the United States is aimed at both in the inception of the idea and in the sole practical application of it which receives serious consideration.

Mayor Dennis Mulvihill of Bridgeport, Conn., has a counterpart in James E. Burke of Montpelier, Vt. Mr. Burke, who has been declared mayor of Montpelier by the supreme court, is a blacksmith, by trade, and labor unionist in sentiments. He ran as a Democrat on a local option platform.

Two Old and Lively Gazettes.

The Pittsburgh Gazette celebrated the 117th anniversary of its existence last Sunday, and the Scioto Gazette takes pleasure in the fact that it is older than the state of Ohio by the matter of some four years. The two Gazettes have done duty under the honored name for more than a century, without change, and are proud of it. Each goes back almost to the colonial days, and their histories are worth something more than a mere sketch such as The Gazette of Pittsburgh gave on Monday, and as the Scioto Gazette modestly published when it rounded out the century mark. Both must have been started right to have existed and flourished for so many years. Neither shows signs of the wearing of age, but both are as frisky and far more readable, undoubtedly, than in their earlier days, when home news was published when not more than a month old, and foreign news was a wonder two months after the event that brought it about. While The Pittsburgh Gazette is a great big paper and the Scioto Gazette a moderate sized weekly, the fact that it is native to Ohio soil and published in Ohio more than balances the difference in size. But here's to both Gazettes—may they live long and prosper!—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A MODERN SIBYL.

Clear the stage! She comes again!
Call the choicest of bouquets.
Smite your palms with might and main.
Be prepared with words of praise.
She will soon to us explain
All the errors of our ways
And the remedy she'll state—
Will the sweet girl graduate.

Red those lips whence wisdom flows,
Bright those eyes that clearly see.
Golden hair tied up with bows
Tops that brain's deep subtlety.
Listen, and she will disclose
Lots that's new to you and me.
And our doubts she'll dissipate—
Will the sweet girl graduate.

Problems that have puzzled us
She will solve with perfect ease,
Questions of the day discuss—
Any question that you please.
Why should mortals fret and fuss
With such oracles as these?
When in doubt with patience wait
For the sweet girl graduate.

Bless her hopeful little heart!
She has yet a lot to learn.
Life has something to impart
To her ladyship in turn.
Most auspicious is the start,
Anybody may discern.
Here's to her, at any rate—
Vive la sweet girl graduate!

ERASMUS WILSON.

Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
Or, make pale my cheeks with care,
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fairer than the day,
Or the flowery meads in May,
If she be not so to me,
What care I how fair she be?
—George Wither.

In other words, if she be unkissable, she is not the woman for you.

And that's no joke, at least not all a joke, as many a man has found out. And fully as many women have discovered that unkissable men are not what they were cracked up to be.

There are cold blooded men who can live comfortably with marble statues, or with plaster paris casts, or even with dummies, but these are the fag-ends of men, and not the real thing. And it may be said that only insensate figures of women can live in the same houses with them without fighting and fussing and having lots of trouble.

Therefore, you must not jump to the conclusion that kissing is a silly and unnecessary thing, and never was intended for any practical use. Nature is not guilty of having made and provided such a thing—such a good thing—for nothing, much less for nothing more than a stumbling block to lay in your path. Not much.

In fact, nature never made anything that wasn't good, and for a good purpose.

If you will keep that one great fact ever in mind it will save you much worry and discomfort, and help you to become good and wise.

You cannot have a very good and exalted opinion of your Creator if you believe, or even think, that He created things just to trouble you, and to make your life miserable, and to finally lead you to a sad end. You may try to think Him good over all, and you may say you believe it, yet you can't believe it through and through.

How much more gratifying and comfortable to believe that everything God has made was good, and what He does is good, and that He never tried to make any of His creatures uncomfortable, not to mistery to their lives, but, on the contrary, He has in a most wonderful way, so adapted his creatures to conditions on earth that they may be comparatively comfortable and happy, if they will.

There's the rub—if they will.

* * * * *

You may abuse the good, and thereby get bad results, but that is your fault. You may put your finger in a fire made to warm and cheer you, and get pain and misery. Is that any fault of the fire, or of the delicate nerves in your finger which enable you to enjoy the pleasures possible to the sense of touch?

Of course not. It is your own fault, plain and simple. True, you may by an accident get your finger in the fire, yet even then you may be much at fault. But the fact remains that fire was made for a good purpose, and so were your nerves, and as long as they are properly used, or remain in their proper relations, you will not suffer from burnt fingers.

Beauty and delicacy, softness and sweetness, were given to women to make them attractive to men.

Strength and courage, vigor and force, were given to men to make them attractive to women, and to give them power over other things of life.

Womankind naturally feels inclined toward mankind, and mankind is attracted to womankind. In short, they were made for each other, and together they will be, and together they will go through life, and that in spite of human law, iron bars, or stone walls, or anything save death.

As well forbid the sunbeam to kiss the mountain top, or the stately oak to shelter the woodland flowers.

It was so written, and so shall it be, that man and women will forever incline to each other, and that each true woman will cleave to one man, and each true man cleave to one woman, and naught but death shall part them on earth.

* * * * *

There is one woman to whom a man may not, will not cleave, and she is the woman unkissable—to him unkissable.

A woman may be a perfect paragon of virtue, a great knowledge box, a model fit for an inspired sculpture, yet her lips may be as cold to you as marble lips, her eye as lifeless as the eyes of the dead, and her touch as repulsive as the touch of a serpent. The artist may rave over her, the critic pronounce her faultless, and the modiste declare her simply splendid, yet she may not be the woman for you. Indeed she may be your evil demon instead of your good one. And yet, you may give ear to all the fine things said concerning her and, without consulting your own heart and feelings, take her to be your wife—take her for better or worse, only to find out that she is the worst ever, for you. She is all right at a distance—the greater the better, perhaps.

As unkissable as a statue and as unresponsive to love's caresses as a dressmaker's dummy, of what use can she be, except to pose as a specimen of nature's clever handiwork?

But then you don't have to take her any more than you have to put your finger in the fire. If she should catch you by an accident, or through your own carelessness you will have to put up with her, the same as a burnt finger.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer—A long time you seem to be coming back again. I mean you are approaching the kissing question. It may be silly and foolish, but the folks like it all right.

Our folks at home—the old folks—say it is nonsense, but I take notice they read it with as much interest as the young folks. They were young once themselves, but when you go after them about what they did they turn it off and talk about something else. I guess they know what it was, anyway.

An uncle of ours was here from Ohio when you had a piece in on kissing, and he read it, and got so interested in it that he wouldn't come to breakfast until he finished it, and mother scolded him for being so foolish, and he such an old man. But he said he hadn't forgot about it, and hoped he would die before he did.

I think he was sensible, don't you? He is awful old, but he kisses the girls when he gets a chance, and the girls let him, for he is awfully nice, and as polite as a young man. If he wasn't so many years old he would beat most of the young men with the girls. He knows so much, and then he is so kind-hearted and sociable.

I don't think it right, nor a bit nice for a girl, or a woman, to allow every fellow to kiss her, nor to put herself in the way just to get kissed, but I don't think it wrong and wicked to take a nice kiss if it comes your way. And I have noticed that folks who have the most to say against it are not the ones to turn away if not one is looking. Well, I don't think it is exactly nice to kiss when somebody is looking, but there are times when they are not looking.

One of your correspondents wanted to know of another correspondent if he would like to know that his wife had been kissed by other fellows before they were married. Well, I would say that I wouldn't want a man who had never kissed a girl, for I don't think he would be all right. Of course, when he takes me for his best and only, and after we are married, I shall want him to stop all outside business, and I will, too. Married folks shouldn't do any kissing outside the family.

I know young girls whose mothers would beat the life out of them if they knew they allowed boys to kiss them. This makes the girls to go and do things they are told not to do, and then they lose respect for their parents and don't mind anything they tell them. I think it is better to have some sense and not be too cranky, don't you? SISTINE ELMO.

* * * * *

How does "Sistine" strike you? She doesn't tell her age, but she is evidently old enough to know some things, and to know them right. And there is a good deal in that. The girl who knows what is right, and is not afraid to speak her mind concerning it, is most likely to be willing to listen to what others may have to say, and to profit by that which they learn by experience.

A girl who does right because it is right, even if she is a bit free and independent in her ways, is safer than the girl who is good simply because she doesn't know anything else. In countries where girls are kept in bandboxes, and only allowed to peep out when the real world is shut off from view, have to have chaparones when they grow up, and they generally need them, too, moreso than girls who have grown up among boys and girls, and are familiar with life and its affairs.

Girls can't have better companions than boys, and boys are worse off if they have only boy associates. It used to be thought that female seminaries should be surrounded by high walls topped off with broken bottles, sharpened spikes and things most uncomfortable to climb over. It is not thought so now, and since the walls have been torn down there are not nearly so many disgraceful school escapades, elopements and unfit marriages.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 3.—There is always something coming up to disturb the equanimity of the meek and hopeful commuter. Now it is firebugs. A great many business men of Manhattan go to and from West Chester county, sleeping in the bracing atmosphere of White Plains, Mount Kisco, New Castle and other towns and villages known and beloved of the rural New Yorker. There are many wealthy residents of those places and their outskirts, whose names are prominent in financial and commercial circles in lower New York city. Richard Croker, Jr., is one of these wealthy residents. As is well known, "Dick" possesses many valuable dogs, although he has one less than he had before his $10,000 bulldog died a few weeks ago. Anyhow, there have been more than a dozen farmhouses and barns burned in the past two months, and it is believed that incendiaries should be blamed for the deeds. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the detection of the rascals, and petitions have been sent to Gov. Odell that he will call out the military or something, and capture the firebugs. The sheriff of West Chester, also, has been disturbed by complaints of citizens in the matter, and altogether the county is ablaze with indignation as well as burning barns. What the object of the criminals is has not been determined. The general opinion is that it is to "get hunk" with some one among the wealthy and influential people, any of whom may have found it necessary to rebuke someone of the rapscallion class to which the incendiaries most likely belong. Richard Croker never sleeps save with one eye on his dog kennels.

Saved His Wedding Day.

This was a big day for June weddings in and near New York. Perhaps the most general interest was in that at Ardsley-on-the-Hudson, wherein Miss Juanita Ceballos Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hewitt, became the bride of Rufus L. Sewall of Boston. Aside from its being a very swell affair, this marriage might have been interrupted or prevented altogether had not Mr. Sewall been able to establish an incontrovertible alibi last week, when he was suspected of knowing something criminal about the death of the gardener, Heffernan, who was shot in the very shadow of the Ardsley clubhouse one night.

Pittsburghers on a Liner.

The big White Star liner, Oceanic, swung out of her slip to voyage over to Liverpool this morning. Several prominent Pittsburghers were aboard, including Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mellon, James Smith and Miss Smith. Other passengers whose names are familiar to Pittsburgh are Daniel J. Sully, the "cotton king," who was lately engaged in a pitched battle on 'change with W. P. Browne, the little fighter from New Orleans; the countess of Orford, and Clem Studebaker, Jr., whose family is famous for its wagons.

Old Stagers Held Street Reunion.

Robert McWade, one of the historic players of "Rip Van Winkle," and Horace Lewis, well known in Pittsburgh for his performance of "Monte Cristo" in a long run a few years ago, but who has been doing Sol Smith Russell's part in "Poor Relation" this season, met on a Broadway corner this afternoon. Charles Hager, formerly Tom Keene's leading man, and Edward Locke, fresh from his hit in "My Lady Peggy Goes to Town," joined the group, and every man was kept busy bowing and smiling to a hundred well-known actors and actresses, more or less, who passed the corner within 10 minutes. The theatrical world is abroad in Broadway indeed on these sunny afternoons.

Devery in Enemy's Country.

There is warm expectation over in Brooklyn. "Big Bill" Devery went over there tonight to make a speech. He invaded Hugh McLaughlin's territory with a brass band and torchlights, and there was a great gathering of the opposing clans of Tammany and Deveryism. Devery said he would be the boss of the occasion. McLaughlin, venerable and cynical, said that time will tell.

Erie Is Being Improved.

Excitement was rife downtown and up as far as the Waldorf-Astoria today when the report got abroad that the Gould interests had obtained control of the Erie system. In connection with this report came the assertion that the road is to be greatly improved. As a matter of fact improvements have been in progress for the last year or two. All the new powers will have to do—if there are new powers—is to keep at work.

Yacht Race Unsatisfactory.

Unlike the big automobile race in France, the ocean yacht race off the coast of America yesterday and today passed off without mishap of any kind. It was not entirely satisfactory, however. The Endymion came in first, but the Kiawassa won on time allowance, which is a great deal like a boxing contest being won on a foul.

His Chance Will Come.

Interest in yachting is so great here that the dear friend of everybody's, "Old Subscriber," has been writing to the papers complaining that no provision is made for the public to witness yacht races by sending forth excursion steamers. "O. S." says that only members of the New York Yacht club and their guests have any chance to see yacht races, and that he, for one, would have liked to see the struggle between Reliance, Constitution and Columbia, last week. He may possess his soul in peace with regard to the international race for the America's cup, however. As a rule, the excursion steamers at that event are so numerous and persistent that it is only by the utmost vigilance that the officials are able to keep a clear course at all.

Glennon Knows He's Out.

When Edward F. Glennon, who used to be Devery's wardman, was dismissed from the police force this afternoon, a curious example of legal technicality was displayed. Glennon never blinked nor answered. Three times Davis asked the question, always with his eyes fixed on Glennon. At last he announced that Glennon was dismissed from the force for being absent from duty five days without leave. This was what Glennon wanted. He had been dismissed before, but reinstated because of a technical error in the indictment which caused his dismissal, and the proceedings this afternoon were to make the record right. Glennon did not smile, but no doubt it struck him as a great deal of a farce, as it did most persons present.

Last Chance for Life.

Arthur Flanigan, the negro, who was reprieved by Gov. Odell a few hours before he was to be executed in the death chair at Sing Sing, is fighting desperately for his life. Flanigan is charged with killing a keeper at the West Side police court prison. He says he did not do it. There are some that say he did. The governor is awaiting developments that he can trust. When he gets them, Flanigan will either be executed, or put on trial again.

Lessons of the Flood.

Such is the situation, such are the results of the sudden overflow of ordinarily harmless little creeks and rivers, called upon to carry away at immense volume of water caused by heavy rains over a large area of country—a demand which has transformed the shallow Kansas river, normally about half a mile wide, into a raging flood five miles in width. What is the lesson? Clearly this, that those who dwell by these rivers and do business in their vicinity should do all in their power to make their position as secure as possible against this always menacing danger.

It is a danger which "comes like a thief in the night." Last spring, for instance, Des Moines was flooded and thousands of dollars' worth of damage done. Its people argued that they would be exempt this spring, and suddenly their situation is even worse. It is the same forgetfulness of danger that characterized the dwellers at the base of Mont Pelee, the same false sense of security that cost the people of Galveston such a terrible lesson. The latter, however, have heeded the lesson and have builded barriers against the fury of the sea. So it should be with the dwellers on the banks of rivers which it is known may overflow any spring—what spring no one can foresee. It is folly always to expect a season of drought to follow a season of rain. It is wiser always to be ready for what may happen; to build the strongest bridges and the stoutest dikes, and to employ the most skilful engineers to devise plans of protection against these floods, or at least to reduce their destructiveness to the minimum. This may cost a large sum of money, but it will not cost so much in the end as the untamed floods.—Chicago Tribune.

The Kansas river has gathered up the floods over what may be regarded as the storm center, and has covered every acre of its bottom lands with a deep and rushing flood. The reason why it is worst at North Topeka is that in that spot people have had the temerity to build a considerable suburb on the lowlands. Their temerity is comparable with that of the people in volcanic regions, who, gradually forgetting an eruption in a long period of immunity, are led by momentary interest and advantage to reoccupy the dangerous ground, only to see the disaster descend upon them at last. Normally the inhabitants of these low river lands are mere campers, who abandon their shacks and fly to the safe uplans at the approach of a flood.

Such calamities as the overflowing of the Kansas river bottoms at North Topeka and Kansas City, Kan., of the Des Moines river at Des Moines, Ottumwa and other points in Iowa; the Blue river, a tributary of the Kansas, at Beatrice, Neb., and the Salt creek at Lincoln, Neb., were inevitable some time, but that fact does not di

VETERAN SCORED GOV. PENNYPACKER

Department Commander Scott Criticised His Refusal to Approve Men Recommended.

THINKS POLITICS TO BLAME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALLENTOWN, PA., June 3.—Escorted by 500 National guardsmen from the Fourth, Eighth and Thirteenth regiments, 2,000 Grand Army comrades paraded here today, signalizing the opening of the thirty-seventh annual encampment of the Pennsylvania department G. A. R. The city is beautifully decorated in honor of the veterans. When the business meeting was begun, Edwin Walton of Philadelphia, was elected department commander for the ensuing year.

In the exercise of my duty under the provisions of the act of assembly, I certified to Gov. Pennypacker the following named, honorably discharged soldiers: Thomas G. Sample, Levi G. McCauley, Richard H. Holgate, John L. Grim and Dr. Alfred M. Smith, for approval and appointment to membership on the Soldiers' Orphan schools commission. Without giving any reason for his action, the governor refused to approve of the selection of Comrades Grim and Smith, both of whom possess characters of the greatest excellency, and are richly endowed with all qualifications essential for membership on the commission.

Although requested, I declined to withdraw the names of said comrades and substitute others. The governor then, in utter disregard of the provisions of the statute and arrogating to himself authority and power that he did not possess, appointed Comrades James Morrison and T. M. Mahon, whom, for the most satisfactory reasons, I had declined to recommend to membership on the commission. I do not believe that the governor has a right, though he has assumed to have without giving reason, to say that any honorably discharged soldier of good character and mental attainment is unfit to occupy a place on said commission or has any right or authority to appoint or can lawfully appoint any comrade who has not been recommended for approval by the department commander to a place on the commission.

I am of the opinion that the action of the governor presents a case where legislation has worked out backward and has injected politics into the Grand Army of the Republic.

The statistics show a total membership of 26,608 with 546 posts. During the past year there has been a loss of six posts with a net loss in membership of 968. There were 1078 death since the last annual encampment.

W. P. Atkinson of Erie, was elected senior vice commander for the ensuing year; Dr. Alfred Smith of Beaver Falls, medical director, and the Rev. John W. Sayres of Chester, chaplain, the latter for the 33d term. Jenkins Evans of Berwick and Andrew Lee of Hazleton, are candidates for junior vice commander, the election for which will be held tomorrow. Gettysburg has no opposition for next year's meeting. Gen. Gobin is chairman of the committee of reports, which will present its recommendations tomorrow.

The ladies of the G. A. R. elected these officers: President, Mrs. Kate Blair of Philadelphia; senior vice president, Mrs. Mary McClure of Pittsburgh; junior vice president, Mrs. Hattie Johnson of Grafton; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Goward of Philadelphia; board of managers of the home at Hawkins station—Hattie Mandbaugh, Braddock; Agnes Langwich, Pittsburgh; Anna Smith, Homestead; Jennie E. S. May, Pittsburgh; Mary A. Lindsay, Allegheny; Josephine Gloss, Allegheny; Lucy Dewald, Allegheny; Ellen Knobloch, Pittsburgh; Ellen Shallenberger, Braddock; Ruth Jones, Allegheny; B. F. Brant, Allegheny; Mrs. S. C. Laughan, Turtle Creek.

The Woman's Relief corps opened its convention tonight.

The statistics report as submitted follows: Members 3,908, in 116 corps. In its 19th year history, the corps has paid $89,544.29 for relief and posts were assisted to the extent of $45,453.89. The corps maintains a home at Brookville valued at $60,000.

SHEET STEEL SCALE FIXED.

Committee of Amalgamated Agrees With Manufacturers' Representatives.

At a session which lasted only about three hours, the sheet steel scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers was adjusted yesterday. Charles Carpenter and Percival F. Smith, representing the American Sheet Steel Company, held a conference at the Hotel Lincoln with President Theodore J. Shaffer, Secretary John Williams, Lewellyn Lewis and Charles James, Martins Ferry, O.; John Hagan, Piqua, O.; Edward W. Jones, Newport, Ky.; Thomas O'Hara, Birmingham, Ala.; William A. Johnson, Middleton, O.; William O'Neil, Wheeling, W. Va.; Joseph Bowen, Ashland, and Richard Lynch, Wheeling.

All the changes made were not announced. It is thought the manufacturers granted 15 per cent advance to the sheet mill hands. In the general sheet mill scale the workers asked for a renewal of the present wages. It is a sliding scale based on the selling price of the product and has not been changed for several years.

CROWDS GET BIGGER.

Carnival Spirit and the Boston Girls' Band Bringing Out the People.

Last night at the United Labor carnival was the best that has yet been held. The crowd was the biggest of the week and the shows and attractions secured a fair business. There seemed to be more life in the crowd than at any previous time, too. The carnival spirit is taking hold of Pittsburgh and the indications are that the next few days will see a large increase in the attendance.

The concerts being given by the Norma Porter band are attracting considerable attention. The band is composed of young Boston girls and was organized especially for this engagement several weeks ago by Miss Porter. The class of music that is being rendered if of the kind that the Pittsburgh public likes, high class, and the daily concerts are greatly appreciated.

Phones Against Their Religion.

ELKS' ANNIVERSARY.

Entertainment by Local Lodge No. 11 at the Temple Last Night.

The first anniversary of the entrance into the new building of Pittsburgh lodge No. 11, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at Fifth avenue and Jumonville street, was celebrated last night at the Temple. Miss Marion Ballou, formerly of the Grand opera stock company, was to have been present, but was detained and wired the managers to that effect.

The address of welcome was delivered by E. J. Small. J. E. O'Donnell made an address in which he referred to the fact that the Pittsburgh Elks had helped the Johnstown sufferers at the time of the flood. The rest of the program was: Address by F. L. Gosser; "Angel's Serenade," with violin obligato, Miss Carolyn Sehroth; travesty suggested by Jerome Sykes' "The Billionaire," Stowell, McKeever and Hartley; sketch, O'Brien and Criswell; coon songs, Phillips and McCue; new drill by 10 persons, after style of the Florodora sextet.

Some of the entertainers who appeared last night will be at the monster minstrel show of the Elks at the Bijou theater next Monday and Tuesday nights. The musical program last night was in charge of Charles M. Couch and his orchestra.

South Carolina Excursion Train Plunges Into a Washout.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 3.—Six miles out from Sumter an excursion train on the Atlantic Coast line, loaded with negroes coming into Columbia, ran into a washout caused by a cloudburst. Conductor Clements was instantly killed, as were four passengers, and about 30 others were hurt. Engineer Wilson was badly scalded, but not seriously injured.

Surgeons were sent on extras from both Sumter and Columbia. A negro who saw the washout made a desperate effort to warn the train, but the engineer failed to see him.

Few people can understand the feelings of the pugilist as he is being counted out. He hears the seconds ticked off. He struggles to rise, but struggles in vain. He has lost the fight.

There are some who are making a losing fight for life that can appreciate this; those whose lungs are diseased. With every tick of the watch, they know that they are being counted out.

The great question is how can a quick rally be made to continue the fight against disease? Many who have asked that question have found a satisfactory answer in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures bronchitis, obstinate, deep-seated coughs, hemorrhage, night-sweats, emaciation, and other conditions which if neglected or unskilfully treated may find a fatal termination in consumption.

"When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. John T. Reed, of Jefferson, Jefferson Co., Ark., "I was very low with a cough, and would at times spit up blood. I was not able to do any work at all, was weak and my head was dizzy. The first bottle I took did me so much good that I had faith in it and continued until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I do not look like nor feel like the same man as I was a year ago. People were astonished and said they did not think I could live. I can thankfully say that I am entirely cured of a disease from which had it not been for your wonderful 'Discovery' I would have died."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

RUPTURE MEN, Women and Children CURED In 30 to 60 Days

Every statement I make regarding the efficacy of MY ELECTRO CHEMIC METHOD to permanently and painlessly cure Rupture and rectal diseases is backed by the unsolicited written testimony of hundreds of persons in Allegheny and surrounding counties.

If you are wearing a truss you are not only shortening your existence, but are burying yourself from a cure. There is no instance on record where a truss was ever known to cure Rupture.

There is no necessity for any man, woman or child to undergo the dangerous, painful surgical operation since the discovery of My Electro Chemic Method. I have given years of study to perfecting my treatment and have never had a single failure in my entire practice.

THERE IS NO CUTTING, NO PAIN, NO DANGER, NO DETENTION FROM WORK.

DR. GEO. B. WIX, The discoverer of the Electro-Chemic Method.

He has devoted years and years of unbroken study to the development of his treatment, and has accomplished the greatest record of CURES in all medical and surgical annals. His printed promises are as good as a bond, because he has the facts and the power to back them up.

MORELAND TRUST COMPANY MERGES WITH GUARANTEE, TITLE & TRUST

Objection Is Voiced to the Rapidly Increasing Group of Pittsburgh Banks.

GUARANTEE BOARD GROWING

Personnel of the Moreland Will Take Slight Place in the Directorate of the Merged Trust and Father Will Locate in New Building in Fourth Avenue.

[illegible] Trust Company will [illegible] business this morning at the corner of Fourth avenue, the home of the Moreland Trust Company, of which company it became the possessor by a deal closed yesterday.

The announcement is to many a surprise. There had been rumors of the Moreland company being interested in a deal under way, but it was known to comparatively few persons that the new group headed by the Guarantee Title and Trust Company was to become the owner. There were reports last evening that still another institution, a well-known national bank, is to be added to this growing interest. It will be remembered that in addition to the three institutions named above the Guarantee interests now control also the People's bank of Homewood.

The Guarantee acquires the entire stock of the Moreland and the directors of the latter go actively on the board of the Guarantee. The deal is a complete merger of interests, none of the Moreland interests reserved. When the Guarantee opens for business this morning it will be with J. H. Forest as assistant treasurer and Alexander Dunbar as assistant secretary. Its title department will still remain in the Frick building.

The deal was consummated by W. C. Temple of the Moreland Trust Company and W. A. McCutcheon of the Guarantee Title and Trust. The terms of the merger are not made public, but the fact that all the Moreland interests continue in the Guarantee show them to have been eminently satisfactory to both parties.

The trust company merged yesterday was formed in the summer of 1901. The moving spirit was A. M. Moreland, formerly secretary of the Carnegie Steel Company, who has been president of the latter company. The vice president is W. C. Temple, who has devoted active attention to the company's affairs, and the company has grown rapidly, its deposits amounting to nearly $3,000,000.

The Moreland's directors are A. M. Moreland, W. C. Temple, J. H. Forest, Alexander Dunbar, J. M. Hastings, S. E. Baker, W. W. Wishart, W. A. McCutcheon, G. C. Hartman, I. W. Frank, J. M. Roberts, A. C. Overholt, Peter Hermes, M. E. Salsbury, H. W. McKee, Frederick Davidson and J. L. Koenemann.

SCHAD BOASTS BILL WILL PASS

Thirteenth Ward Councilman Says Pest House Will Be Removed.

ANOTHER GOLD BRICK IN SIGHT

Three Strong Sources of Opposition to Scheme to Taking Municipal Hospital Out of City—Township Authorities May Quarantine Against Pittsburgh.

"The ordinance to purchase the Andrews farm in Robinson township for the municipal hospital will be reported affirmatively out of the finance committee and will go through both branches of councils in a jiffy," declared Common Councilman Charles C. Schad of the Thirteenth ward, yesterday.

Councilman Schad claimed that he knew what he was talking about, but Councilman W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the finance committee, was of a different opinion. Chairman Stevenson said he could not understand why Schad was so confident, but the Thirteenth warders claim that they have received solemn promises that they will be relieved of the obnoxious pest house. On the other hand it is reported the Thirteenth ward contingent, who have not fared very well with the new administration, are destined to receive another gold brick.

The proposition to purchase the Andrews farm for $25,000 will be considered at the meeting of the finance committee tomorrow and is bound to precipitate a hot fight. The residents of the Thirteenth ward will swarm to city hall in large numbers to demand favorable action by the committee.

The Thirteenth ward councilmen, who are agitating the removal of the pest house to a point outside of the city, are confronted with several conditions which are likely to prove serious obstacles to their scehme. One obstacle is the proposed new location of the pest hospital. The Robinson township authorities declare that if Pittsburgh attempts to locate a pest house in their midst a quarantine will be promptly established against this city and it will be unable to convey patients to the hospital.

Another obstacle is the fact that there is apparently no money in sight with which to purchase the Andrews property. The officials of the public safety department state that there is $80,000 available from the last bond issue for the hospital, but this has nearly all been eaten up by contracts for the enlargement of the present hospital buildings. These contracts were let last year, but are delayed by an injunction obtained by Thirteenth ward citizens, and this injunction is still pending in the county courts.

The physicians raise still another objection to the change of the location of the hospital. They declare that it would be impossible to haul a smallpox patient seven miles over a country road to the hospital, that he would die from exhaustion before the destination were reached.

WATCHMAN KILLS GUEST AT HOTEL

E. M. Hart, a Government Surveyor, Killed in Mistake for a Burglar.

BALL PIERCED HIS HEART

Failed to Obey Command to Halt and Is Shot Down in Doorway of Country Hostelery—Brother Awakened by the Shot Makes Awful Discovery.

While guarding the hostelry against invasion from burglars Edward Thomas, night watchman at the Hotel Jefferson in Jefferson township, near West Elizabeth, early yesterday morning shot and killed E. M. Hart, a government geological surveyor. The shooting of Hart caused intense excitement among the guests at the hotel and before quiet was restored a number of men narrowly escaped being shot by the frenzied brother of the dead man and the proprietor of the hotel, Robert Jenkins.

Night Watchman Thomas claims the shooting of Hart was due to an error on his part, as he thought the dead man was a burglar because he failed to comply to the watchman's order to halt when he entered the front door of the building. Thomas gave himself up after daylight to the authorities. He was overcome when the identity of the dead man was ascertained. Coroner McGeary has decided to hold an inquest into the death of Hart in this city on next Tuesday. Hart's remains were brought to Pittsburgh yesterday and removed to the home of his brother, L. C. Hart, at 231 Matilda street, East End.

RESULT OF PREVIOUS ROBBERIES.

The shooting of Hart was the result of the operations of a gang of burglars for some time past in that neighborhood. Several days ago the hotel at Walton, a small mining town near West Elizabeth, was besieged by a gang of burglars while their confederates carried the hotel safe to a vacant plot nar the hotel and looted it.

According to the story of the shooting as told by Thomas, Surveyor Hart must have left the hotel while the watchman was making his rounds outside of the building. Thomas said yesterday that he had been in the rear of the hotel for some time before he shot Hart. After he returned inside the hotel he stopped in the lower front hall. At about 1:25 o'clock Thomas says his attention was attracted by someone quietly turning the knob to open the front door. When the door was about half open he distinguished in the dim light of the hall lamp the form of a man. Thomas called out to the man to halt, demanding "Who's there?"

Either Hart made no answer, or spoke too low for Thomas to hear his response. Hart evidently did not understand the dangerous significance of the watchman's demand, as he boldly stepped into the hall and the next instant Watchman Thomas' revolver cracked and Hart fell to the floor with a bullet through his heart.

ALMOST ANOTHER HOMICIDE.

Instantly the guests were aroused and rushing to the top of the stairs prepared to defend themselves, as it was thought a gang of burglars had attacked the hotel. Among the first to reach the stairs was L. C. Hart and Robert Jenkins, the proprietor. When a lamp had been secured the two men descended the stairs and Hart made the startling discovery that the man lying dead on the floor was his brother. He savagely attacked Watchman Thomas and while the two men wrestled over the hall floor Jenkins rushed back to his room and secured his revolver and returned to the head of the stairs in time to see the two struggling men trip and fall, locked in each other's embrace, on to the body of the dead man.

The struggle continued after the men fell, and Jenkins followed their movements in an effort to get a shot at one of the men, not understanding clearly what had happened or who the men were. While the struggle was going on Daniel Jenkins, a brother of the hotel proprietor, appeared, and after a struggle succeeded in wresting the revolver from his brother.

MISTAKEN FOR A BURGLAR.

Thomas and Hart were separated, and although the former was greatly affected by the discovery of what he had done, he was able to explain to those awakened by his shot that he had mistaken the dead man for a burglar.

Since the robberies in that section have been occuring almost nightly three watchmen have been employed to guard the Hotel Jefferson. It was yesterday stated that all the guests at the hotel had agreed that in case anyone left the building at night the watchman should be notified so that they could watch for their return. Surveyor Hart arrived at the hotel several days ago, and he either was not told of the night rule or else had forgotten its importance. The hotel is situated in an out of the way section of the township and is about one mile above West Elizabeth.

Mr. Hart was 36 years old and his only surviving relative is the brother who was visiting him at the hotel.

NEW RAILROAD

TO RUN BY WAY OF LIGONIER

Meeting Will Be Held in This City Next Week at Which Final Decision on the Line from Indian Creek to New Florence Will Be Reached.

A new railroad, connecting the Baltimore & Ohio, at Indian Creek station, near Connellsville, with the Pennsylvania railroad at New Florence, is planned by the interests in the Seger Coal and Coke Company of Pittsburgh. Other concerns heavily interested in Westmoreland and Fayette county coal and timber lands are associated with the Segers in this plan, and the prospects at present indicate that the project will be made a go.

A joint meeting of the parties in interest will be held in Pittsburgh next week to take the matter up for final decision. Preliminary surveys sufficient for a location have been completed and the engineers report that a feasible route for a low-grade road can be found. The route passes through Ligonier and will open one of the largest tracts of valuable timber and coal lands which remain still undeveloped by railroads in Western Pennsylvania.

In addition to the coal and timber, the glass rock and blue rock and other building stone deposits are very large, and it is claimed that these alone would justify the expense of constructing the line. The stone is of superior quality and almost unlimited in quantity. The demand for the quality found there is far in excess of the present available supply.

In anticipation of favorable action at the coming meeting, steps have already been taken by those promoting the new line to secure options on rights of way at points where difficulty might later arise.

It is expected that this line will prove attractive to passenger traffic as well as freight. The country through which it passes is being yearly more closely settled and the natural position of the road as a link between the Baltimore & Ohio and its controlling line, the Pennsylvania railroad, would lend to an interchange of business under the present pressure.

PERSONALS

James H. Maddy, chief clerk to First Vice President George D. Potter of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, passed through the city last night on his way to Chicago. While at the station he said the company is still receiving more motive power, and by fall would have sufficient to handle all traffic offered. In addition to the locomotives already delivered, 100 more will be received by fall. These will enable the company to place all the engines in this territory that will be used. It is the intention to place the new-style Atlantic type engines on the Pittsburgh division. Speaking of the improvements being made to the road, he said: "The work on the yards at Glenwood, Connellsville and New Castle are progressing rapidly and will soon be ready for occupancy. The third route for the relocation of the Pittsburgh & Western line is being surveyed and will probably be ready for the officials to choose one of the three routes in time to commence work by fall. This improvement will cost over $4,000,000."

D. M. Hausmann of Hanover, Germany, left Pittsburgh last night for Buffalo, and from there will go to Schenectady. He has been in Pittsburgh three days inspecting the electrical plant in the Homestead works of the United States Steel Corporation. He is an electrical engineer and is acquiring data for the purpose of writing a book on the subject.

Samuel F. Nixon, who is building the theater on Sixth avenue, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh viewing the progress being made. He was accompanied by E. H. Marshall, architect, and William J. Davis, who manages a [illegible] Pittsburgh.

DIRECTOR M'ILVAIN IS SEVERELY SCORED

Head of Allegheny Department of Public Works Handled Without Gloves by Select Councilman Chas. F. Kirschler.

"This man's actions is an outrage and an insult to every member of this committee. Mr. McIlvain is the servant of the public and owes it to the taxpayers to attend committee meetings when his presence is needed."

This statement was made last night by Councilman Charles F. Kirschler, at a meeting of a committee of Allegheny councils appointed to inquire into the delay in the paving of a number of streets in the city. Director E. J. McIlvain was the man about whom the remarks were made. He was in the committee room talking to City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter when Chairman John T. Bealor called the meeting to order. The director immediately left the room and Mr. Kirschler's speech followed. The latter asked that City Clerk Lafayette Wills be sent to find Director McIlvain and bring him back. Clerk Wills returned and reported that McIlvain had taken a car for Pittsburgh. Then Mr. Kirschler spoke. He said:

"This man has attended every committee meeting held in Allegheny since he was appointed, although he was never before invited to be present and his presence was never necessary. Tonight, when he should be present, he runs away. I say it is an outrage and an insult to every member of this committee. Mr. McIlvain was president of the Empire Asphalt Company that has a number of contracts with the city that should have been finished more than a year ago. He knows why the work was never started, and it was for this reason that he was invited here tonight. Now he is gone, and this committee can do simply nothing until Mr. McIlvain is heard. I ask that the chairman have the city clerk send a letter to Mr. McIlvain asking him to be present at a meeting of this committee next Wednesday night, and that a copy of that letter be kept."

Chairman Bealor instructed City Clerk Wills to do this and the meeting was adjourned.

Despite the fact that notices had been sent to the Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company and the Empire Asphalt Company that a representative should be present at the meeting, neither company was represented. Another meeting of the committee will be held next Wednesday night. The streets in question are Manhattan, Frazier and Kentucky, in the Fifth ward, and Marshall avenue in the Tenth. According to the contracts the companies hold with the city, these streets should have been paved almost a year ago, but nothing has been done.

Your Vacation in Colorado

Burlington Route

We run a VERY fine train from Chicago to St. Paul.
Our dining car service is famous.

Consider Colorado as a place to spend your summer vacation and you will find that it meets the requirements. Colorado has been brought nearer to the East by our fast train service—only one night on the road from Chicago or St. Louis to Denver.

The railroad fare is low during the summer—about one-half the regular fare and on certain days less than half.

Colorado has hundreds of moderate-priced hotels and boarding houses—more perhaps than any summer resort country. The prices range from $8.00 per week upward.

Nowhere can be found such a glorious combination of climate and scenery as in Colorado. The air invigorates, strengthens, revives—it is Nature's own tonic. All the outdoor sports that can be enjoyed anywhere are possible in Colorado. Plenty of golf courses, and the finest kind of trout fishing.

Just consider these facts for a minute and then write me for a copy of the Burlington's "Handbook of Colorado." It does not attempt a description of Colorado's charms, but it does tell facts about 200 or more hotels and boarding houses—shows the location, how reached, name and address of proprietor, rates by the week and month, principal attractions, etc. No charge for a copy. Will be glad to send copies to your friends.

SAID IT WAS THE WAY THEY DO IT IN AMERICA

Suicide's Dying Reply to Husband—Cases the Coroner Had Yesterday.

"That's the way they do it in America," said Mary Steinbring, aged 29, of Penn township, yesterday, when her husband found her writhing in pain on the floor shortly before her death from the effects of carbolic acid she had taken with suicidal intent.

John Roderick, aged 25, of No. 1327 Penn avenue, was despondent from being out of work, so he went to the porch on the fourth floor, and, taking a small knife, cut his wrists and then dived over the porch railing. He was instantly killed.

A coroner's jury yesterday pronounced the death of Frank Konecek of No. 20 Bridge street, Etna, to have been caused by organic heart trouble. It had been rumored that Konecek was murdered by enemies.

An unknown man was killed by a Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston train at Munhall yesterday morning. The body is at the morgue.

Louis Arnold, aged 23, died yesterday of injuries received by being struck by a car in Shady avenue, Allegheny. He was single and resided in Shady avenue.

Gertrude Gordon, two years old, of No. 1 Harlem avenue, Allegheny, died at her home yesterday from injuries received on May 27 by falling from the second story window and fracturing her skull.

Wilbert Armstrong, 10 years old, of No. 7522 Finance street, died at his home last night from a gunshot wound received on May 26 at Tioga and Collier streets. He and Charles Sylvester were shooting together, and the rifle accidentally went off and struck Armstrong in the right hand. Lockjaw developed and killed him. Coroner McGeary will investigate the case.

VISITED HOME BUT DID NOT REVEAL IDENTITY

Mysterious Stranger Thought to Be Rosser Who Disappeared 22 Years Ago.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 3.—Conductor "Jake" Apgar of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie main line, tells a story which contains all the romantic features of an Enoch Arden tale. Conductor Apgar says that a day or two ago an aged man, with snow white hair and beard, boarded his train at Ellwood junction, northbound. He was followed by a younger man who told the conductor his name was Rosser, and said his home was in Ellwood. The younger man said he was trying to learn whether the older man was his father, who deserted his mother over 22 years ago.

The stranger first appeared at Ellwood Sunday and spent the day wandering over the Rosser farm, but did not visit the house. Mrs. Rosser was struck with the familiarity of his appearance, which called to mind her husband, whom she had not seen for 22 years. The aged man wore a G. A. R. button. Rosser served four years in the civil war. The old man refused to tell his name.

Speedy Show Girls.

Myrtle Arndt, the singer of "Hiawatha" at the Duquesne garden, and Miss McEwan, another of the show girls, will attempt to walk to the 24th story of the Farmers bank building in seven minutes. This novel contest is the result of a wager between the girls for a five-pound box of candy and John B. Reynolds, manager of the company, has offered a gold piece to the winner. If permission can be obtained from the bank people the contest will take place some day next week at noon.

THE DEATH ROLL

Paul Scholl.

Paul Scholl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Scholl, died yesterday at the family residence, No. 1009 Perry street, Allegheny, of consumption. Deceased was in the 21st year and was born and reared in Allegheny. For the past two years he had been studying medicine and for a time was employed with the Walther Drug company. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the family residence.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Josephine Gillis, 75 years old, widow of Christian Gillis, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Hazelwood avenue, near Calvary cemetery. Funeral services will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Rosa Williams, 50 years old, died yesterday afternoon at the family home at New Galilee, Pa., where funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be made in Homewood cemetery tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Gertrude Kramer, 71 years old, widow of H. B. Kramer, died yesterday morning at her home, No. 1423 Colwell street.

Could Not Arrest Boys.

Special Officer James O'Connor was prevented yesterday from making a number of arrests because of the juvenile court law which prohibits the detention of children under the age of 14. Officer O'Connor secured information that would have led to the arrest of the boys that entered the barn of Luke Barrett in Brownsville avenue on Monday night and cut the halters from several horses, but the best he could do was to notify the parents of the boys and advise them to settle with Barrett.

ANOTHER DEATH DUE TO THE RIOT

LEO KAIRNS REPORTED DYING

William Davis Recovers Sufficiently to Be Sent to Jail—County Detective Wants to Interview a Dozen of Uncle Sam's Sailor Boys.

Samuel or "Sandy" Garrett, colored, who was shot during the riot at High Bridge at West Liberty Sunday, died at the South Side hospital from his injuries yesterday afternoon. William Davis, also colored, who was almost lynched by the rioters, recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and was committed to jail by Coroner McGeary, charged with inflicting the wounds that caused Garrett's death.

Leo Kairns, who was shot during the riot, is in a dying condition at his home in Duquesne Heights. The physicians operated on the boy Monday. He became worse yesterday and is not expected to live.

County Detective Robinson is positive that Davis shot Garrett from the chicken house. Davis said that Kelly inflicted the fatal wound just before he was killed. Garrett, in his antemortem statement, said he was unable to tell whether Kelly or Davis shot him.

Garrett was 24 years old and lived in South Eighth street. He came to Pittsburgh from North Carolina about two years ago. About six months ago Garrett was shot and wounded during a fight in a contractor's camp in Greentree borough.

LOOKING FOR SAILORS.

Detective Robinson is looking for a dozen sailors from the gunboat Alliance who were in this city Sunday on a leave of absence. There were two sailors in the mob that killed Kelly and wounded Davis. Roy Matthews of the training ship Monongahela at Philadelphia was arrested at the home of his parents at No. 19 Shingiss street and taken to District Attorney Haymaker's office. Matthews convinced Haymaker and Robinson that he was visiting a friend in Crafton at the time the riot occurred and was released.

A delegation of colored citizens visited Haymaker's office yesterday. They were headed by attorneys J. W. Holmes and W. M. Randolph. They asked Haymaker to punish all who participated in the riot, and that the negro gamblers who congregated in Payne's quarry be punished as well as the men and boys who attacked them. The district attorney assured the delegation that he would do all he could to convict the offenders in Sunday's riot.

Charles Kelly, the mob's victim, was buried yesterday morning. The services were held at the Ebenezer Baptist church, Miller and Colwell streets. The funeral was even more largely attended than was expected.

SENSATIONAL FUNERAL SERMONS.

The Rev. W. W. Brown, pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist church, was assisted by the Rev. W. T. Kenny, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church. Mr. Brown preached the sermon. He took for his subject "The Fool's Past," founded on Matthews vii.:13, "Wide is the gate, broad is the way that leadeth to destruction and many there be that find it." He said in substance:

"In life there are two ways—broad and narrow. The broad leads to destruction and death found Charles Kelly in this broad way. In this broad way are found desperate characters, gamblers, drunkards and rioters. Charley Kelly leaped from High Bridge station straight to hell. The demons had a high time in hell last Sunday night and satan instigated the riot in which Charles Keily met his death. To young and old who are on this b[illegible] way the life of Charles Kelly serves [illegible] an example. To all those who are on [illegible]s broad way I say 'Stop. Come back.'"

The step-father, mother and sister of the dead were present at the services.

Kelly was 25 years old and came to Pittsburgh three years ago from Chattanooga. He was born in Huntsville, Ala.

EAGLE WILL SCREAM IN SCHENLEY PARK AS USUAL

Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow Announce Fourth of July Celebration Will Be Held.

Director Bigelow announced yesterday that a Fourth of July celebration would be held in Schenley park this year as usual and that Mayor Hays would start at once to arrange for the demonstration. No definite plans have yet been made for the affair, but it is expected to be similar to those of past years, consisting of patriotic exercises and sports during the day and a display of fireworks at night.

Mayor Hays said that councils would be asked for authority to pay the lumber bills left over from last year's celebration which have been held up by Controller Larkin.

Allegheny is also preparing for a celebration. Mayor Wyman has issued a circular letter asking for public subscriptions. The North Side is planning to have a fireworks display from Monument Hill and Troy Hill.

The Hill Top also proposes to have a celebration in McKinley park and a special committee appointed by the Hill Top board of trade has been appointed to make the arrangements. Fireworks will be bought in large quantities and the Homestead Library band will be employed for the occasion. The city is to be asked to provide electric lights for McKinley park.

Humane Society Officers Appointed.

Contracts for County Bridges.

Contracts were awarded by the county commissioners yesterday for the construction of the Streits run, Saw Mill run, Lowrie run, Millers run, Bull creek, Sandy creek, Grush creek, Pangburn run and Deer creek bridges.

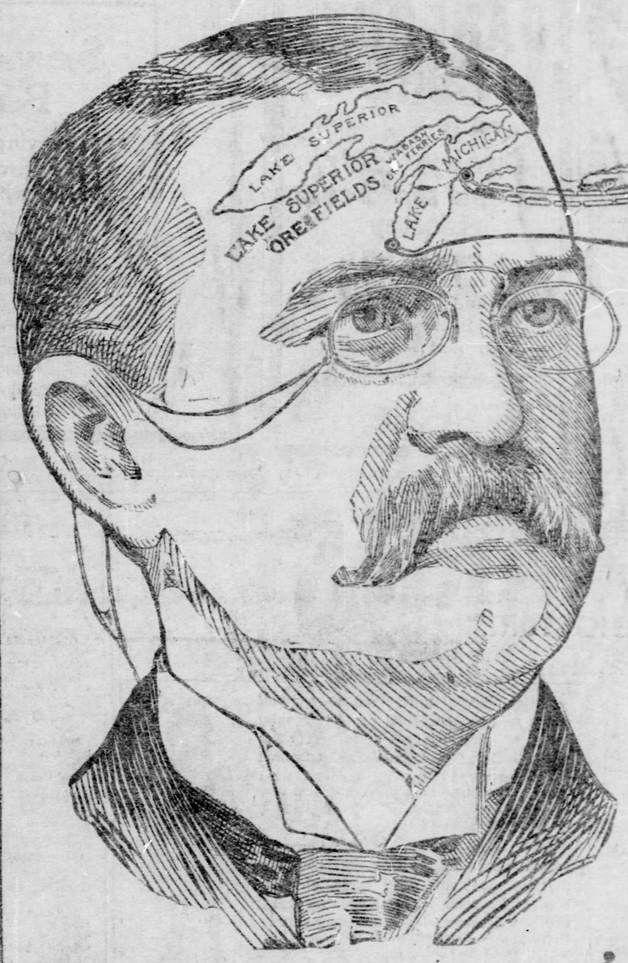
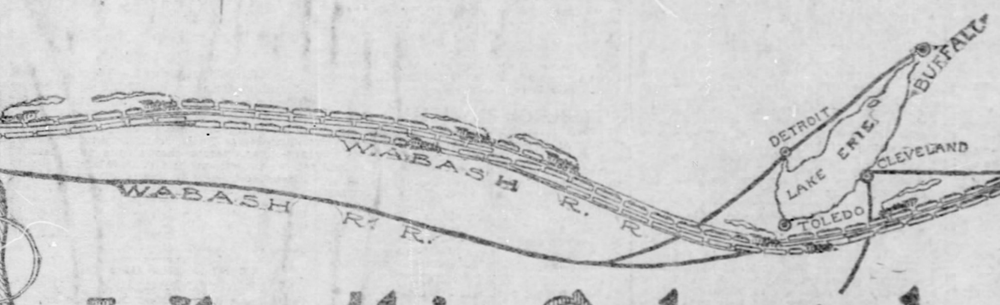
RAILROAD FARES WILL BE REFUNDED TO PURCHASERS LIVING ANYWHERE WITHIN 100 MILES.





Why this Colossal Plan creating the Great new City of Gould was put into execution

When George J. Gould saw what made President Ramsey, of the Wabash Railroad, and President J. W. Patterson, of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad, so anxious to bring the great Wabash system to Pittsburgh, he said:

"Gentlemen, carry the flag east as you desire. Pittsburgh's miles of giant industries, its 70,000,000 annual tonnage to compete for, its fearful appeal for cars with which to get its raw material into its mills and its finished product out to market, present a condition which ought to be met. Pittsburgh must be allowed to grow to the prouder position to which her wonderful natural advantages are calling her."

Perhaps the fact that the two great railroad presidents were Pittsburgh boys, born and bred here, had something to do with this masterful plan which originated in their brains. They knew the possibilities of Pittsburgh better than strangers could ever learn them, and the beauty of it all was that President Ramsey had behind him a financier of remarkable judgment and rare courage to indorse and carry out their plans.

George Gould, in fact, is "a chip off the old block." Still greater than was Jay Gould, the last past-master, because he is the marvel-product of a more marvelous age.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS WILL BE EXPENDED EACH MONTH IN WORKMEN'S WAGES.

The Wabash interests are planning to build in Gould City their own engines; their own cars; their own rolling stock. The yards will contain track enough for 100 engines to be in motion at the same time. Thus the road will be equipped to compete with and secure the greater part of Greater Pittsburgh's immense tonnage.

The great railroad shops at Gould City, when completed, will give employment to not less than 5,000 men. The first crew of 1,000 men will go to work about next November. The average disbursement in monthly wages will easily amount to $450,000.

Think of what $450,000 circulating monthly among the citizens of the City of Gould will do for its real estate! Such a stupendous industrial movement is bound to send prices on real estate in all this vicinity to a height never before dreamed of! The farmer who was "land poor" will wake to find himself a millionaire! The owner of a small piece of land will see with delight its value soaring higher and higher! The shrewd investor who grasps the opportunity in the bud will grow rich from his earnings! Real estate backed by such overwhelming evidence of growth and expansion can't help but make its every owner wealthy!

The new Bridal Route reduces the Pan Handle distance three miles. Another feature which will command unbounded interest will be the handsomely equipped vestibule Cannon Ball trains which will beat the best records of other lines to Chicago by almost 2½ hours.

The City of Gould will prove a more advantageous Suburban Home for the mighty armies employed in the great commercial circles of Pittsburgh than Sewickley, Edgewood or some part of the East End, BECAUSE of the unequaled railroad service.

Choice lots

Splendid lots on Ramsey, Patterson and Washington Avenues and Murray Street, the business thoroughfares, will be offered at $300 to $1,000.

Some extra choice sites will go as high as $1,500, but for none are we asking a higher figure than $1,500. Very few will be offered at over $600. Very many will be offered at less than $600.

The wave of expansion has already rendered it impossible for any one to get accommodations in Bridgeville, which adjoins the City of Gould and is a modern town with City Water, Gas and Sewerage—advantages in process of extension to Gould; Churches and Public Schools being already there.

Bridgeville today is a beautiful little town of 2,000 inhabitants—dotted with fine houses and surrounded by gentlemen's country-seats.

NOT A LOT HAS BEEN NOR WILL BE SOLD UNTIL EXCURSION TRAINS ARRIVE.

Notwithstanding the fact that nearly 200 applications for lots have already been received, no purchase will be allowed or ratified until the morning of the sale. Among the applications we note the names of business men of Pittsburgh and towns as far east as Altoona—as far west as Decatur, Ill., where one of the big central plants of the Wabash is located—but you have our word that the most searching methods will be employed to keep salesmen from discriminating in favor of their friends or those who have notified them in advance.

Two of the business streets will run parallel with the railroad. Ramsey Avenue will be the first to be paved. The business lots will be 25x110.

We do not expect the sale to last over three hours before the tag on every lot in the business section will be taken off. The sale will certainly come to a close before the middle of the afternoon, as the residence lots, 30x110, will go like wildfire.

There never was a great industrial city started with homes enough to house one-tenth of the men it will be found necessary to employ in these shops. This is a historical fact. It shows investors the money they will be able to make by getting in at the start and realizing their gains when premiums will be offered by the thousands who come later and must have homes for themselves and families!

Think of the scramble for homes at South Sharon and Lorain when the machinery in the great plants at these places was first put in motion!

Think how 2,000 men who started to work in the Altoona shops so many years ago had to live in Tyrone, Johnstown and other places until they could possess their own roof-trees in Altoona, the seat of their employment! This will give you an idea of the conditions in the City of Gold after the great Wabash industries are planted! But man cannot estimate or realize what will be the mounting value of real estate after this gigantic venture has taken root and spread itself out!

SHIELD OF HONOR CHANGES LAWS

Insurance Rules Are Made to Conform to the Ohio Statutes.

TO OPEN SHORE RESORTS

Atlantic City Trolley Company Will Soon Have Cars Running to Absecon Pittsburghers Registered at Seaside Hotels.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 3.

Action on reports of officers occupied the time of the delegates at today's session of the supreme lodge Shield of Honor. The recommendations contained in the report of the supreme master were all adopted. He made particular mention of the work of organization and called upon the state and subordinate lodges to be more active in the securing of new members. At the present time the greatest activity is being manifested in Ohio and in Western Pennsylvania, where new lodges are being formed and those in existence are increasing their membership. A change was made in the laws of the order relating to the insurance feature. This was necessary that the rules should conform to the insurance law of Ohio. The convention will end tomorrow with an election of officers.

MRS. DUNLOP ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Robert T. Dunlop, wife of the proprietor of the Hotel Dunlop, entertained the ladies of the Afternoon Euchre club this afternoon at her country residence in Bakersville. A progressive euchre was the feature of the day.

WILL REACH NEW RESORTS.

The Atlantic City & Suburban Trolley Company will have its cars running on the shore road by July 1. The company is laying tracks in Florida avenue. The road will run from that point to Pleasantville and Absecon, and it will open up to visitors a delightful section of country that has heretofore been closed to them. Few of the visitors know that at Absecon there is an oyster industry whence is shipped over 300,000 bushels of oysters every year. Most of these go to Philadelphia and New York. When they leave here they are called "Absecons." When shipped from New York to Pittsburgh and the west they are called "Shrewsbury" and "Rockaways." A ride on this new trolley road to the oyster beds and a chance to eat fat oysters just out of the water will be well worth the time it takes.

TELEPHONE INTERESTS MERGING.

The present paramount subject here, and which should prove of interest to Pittsburgh financiers, is the long sought opportunity to consolidate the various independent telephone companies of this state, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. The Interstate Telephone Company of New Jersey having joined hands with the Keystone of Philadelphia and the Pittsburgh & Allegheny, will give long distance transmission from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi within a short time. Local capitalists in the person of Louis Kuehne and his assistants have brought about this culmination of a fight that has been brewing against the Bell interests for many years.

PROMENADE CONCERT POPULAR.

TOOK A BIG JUMP.

Girl Leaped from Third Story Window During a Fire Caused by Explosion.

Minnie Prim, aged 20, of Mt. Oliver, jumped from the third floor, 35 feet, of the building occupied by the W. J. Gilmore Drug Company, at No. 426 Seventh avenue, yesterday morning, and escaped with a broken ankle and a severe bruising.

A preparation containing ether was spilled on the third floor of the building and the fumes coming in contact with a gas jet, caused an explosion. A panic resulted among the employes and they made a rush to escape. Several went down the fire escapes, but Miss Prim was so badly frightened that she jumped. Others injured were: Jerome Doerr, aged 16, of Mt. Oliver; R. Hutchins, chemist, of No. 514 Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg; Amelia Klinger, aged 20, Nettie Bowers of Mt. Oliver; Margaret Wuerl, aged 22, and Fannie Floitzinger, aged 21.

Miss Prim is the worst injured and will be confined to the hospital for some time. Hutchins, who was handling the chemicals that exploded, had both legs scorched and is badly burned about the face and arms. The rest are burned about the face and hands, but not seriously. It is said Miss Bowers and Miss Wuerl wanted to jump when the room had filled with smoke, but were prevented by the firemen. The fire caused a loss of about $2,000.

WANTS HIS BILL PAID.

Proprietor of Commonwealth Sues for Goods Supplied Legislative Junket.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—James Ross, proprietor of the Commonwealth hotel, today entered suit against the commonwealth for the recovery of $5,911 16 for supplies furnished members of the legislature on excursion to New York in April, 1897, to attend the Gen. Grant monument dedication ceremonies. The suit is brought under an act of assembly passed by the recent legislature.

CATHOLICS WANT MORE CHURCHES

At a meeting of the episcopal council in the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum building yesterday, petitions were presented from Bellevue, Avalon and Ben Avon for the establishment of a church at the former place, and also petitions for one at Swissvale. The matter of granting authority was held under advisement. The Catholics at Bellevue have secured an option on a piece of property in Lincoln avenue, near Jackson street. The property is said to be worth $15,000.

Knox to Join Roosevelt.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—Attorney General P. C. Knox and his brother, S. B. P. Knox, spent several hours in Uniontown today, and left for Pittsburgh to join President Roosevelt's party there tonight.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR THREE BATTLESHIPS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Bids were opened at the navy department today for the construction of the Minnesota, Vermont and Kansas, the three 16,000-ton battleships authorized by the last congress, each to cost not exceeding $4,212,000. The Newport News Shipbuilding Company of Newport News, Va., were the lowest bidders for one vessel, the William Cramp & Son Ship & Engine Building Company were the only bidders for more than one ship. Following are the bids:

Newport News Shipbuilding Company, one vessel, department's plans, to be completed in 42 months from date of contract, $4,110,000; William Cramp & Son Ship & Engine Building Company, one vessel, department's plans, to be completed in 42 months, $4,190,000; or two vessels, department's plans, in same time, $4,181,000 each; Fore River Ship & Engine Building Company, Quincy, Mass., one vessel, department's plans, 42 months, $4,179,000; Eastern Ship Building Company, New London, Conn., one vessel, 42 months, $4,192,000; New York Shipbuilding Company, one vessel, department's plans, 42 months, $4,165,000.

These battleships will be the most powerful vessels of the American navy. They will have a required speed of 18 knots, a displacement of 16,000 tons, a main battery of four 12-inch, eight 8-inch, and 12 7-inch breech-loading rifles, and a second battery of 20 3-inch, 14-pounder, rapid-fire guns; 12 3-pounder semi-automatic guns; six 1-pounder automatic guns; 2 1-pounder semi-automatic guns; two 3-inch field pieces, two machine guns, and six automatic guns.

BOX OF OVER THOUSAND GIFTS SENT TO INDIA

Young People of Local Presbyteries Remember Missions in the Far East.

A box containing over 1,000 gifts to the Presbyterian mission in India was sent yesterday by the young people's branch of missionary societies, which met in the afternoon in the Second Presbyterian church.

A talk on missions in Mexico by the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant, a former Pittsburgh pastor who resigned his position of missionary in Mexico recently on account of his health, was one of the principal features of the meeting.

Dr. Chalfant stated that 10,000 English-speaking people live in Mexico, of whom 8,000 are from the United States. He said a Presbyterian church was established in the City of Mexico last January.

Mrs. N. S. Bartz, vice president, resigned, her husband, the Rev. N. S. Bartz, having accepted a call to North, Pa.

Miss Anna Rosborough and Miss Ada Robson were elected delegates to the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society at Canonsburg on June 17.

The branch adjourned to meet in the Second church on the first Wednesday of October.

WILL PLEAD SELF-DEFENSE.

George Merkel Claims That Genkinger Attacked Him With a Chair.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—George Merkel, against whom a true bill was returned this week for the murder of John Genkinger, whom he killed in the apartments of Mrs. Eva Rumbold, will plead self-defense when his trial begins next week.

Merkel is worth $50,000 and will devote his entire fortune to defending himself. He has written to friends that he was being attacked by Genkinger with a chair when he fired the fatal shot. Merkel has for years been an enthusiastic sportsman, and his friends claim that he could have killed Genkinger on the first shot had he been shooting to kill.

ALLEGHENY STUDENT WINS A YALE HONOR

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 3.—(Special.)—Frederick Lauriston Bullard of Allegheny, was today one of the orators at the annual commencement exercises of the Yale Divinity school. His theme was "A Plea from the Jew." He declared that the Anglo-Saxon treated as the Jew has been would have developed the same traits and shown the same weaknesses. It was announced after the exercises that Mr. Bullard has won one of the four leading scholarship honors of his class. He was graduated from the University of Wooster, O., in 1891 and received the degree of Master of Arts in that college in 1894. He will immediately enter the pulpit.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick woman as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—MRS. B. A. STRAP-HANGERS TO GET CHARTER

Formal Hearing in Common Pleas Court Saturday, No Opposition Being Expected.

MEMBERSHIP STILL GROWING

Wilkinsburg Citizens Lining Up With the League, Declaring That the Service They Get Is Poor in Every Way.

The formal hearing on the charter of the Strap-Hangers' league takes place in common pleas court No. 2 Saturday Saturday morning. No opposition is expected. The Pittsburgh Street Railways Company will not endeavor to thwart the securing of a charter by the people who have banded themselves together for better traction service.

Until the charter is granted no special efforts will be made by the managers of the league to secure new members. During last week, however, many persons have visited the offices of the league, No. 97 Schmidt building, Fifth avenue, and signed the roll, which now runs up above 2,400. When the charter is granted means will be adopted to secure many more members of the league.

The borough of Wilkinsburg is furnishing numerous signers. Many residents of that place have filed their protests against the traction service there. About a half-dozen new signers from the borough came into the office of the league and after becoming members told a story about a trolley accident that happened at Rankin junction on Tuesday night.

At about 6 o'clock on that night the controller of a car laden with park visitors got out of order, and the passengers were forced to dimount on the narrow platform and several children barely escaped being badly hurt in the crush. The signers were indignant because another car was not provided and the unfortunates were compelled to take the already well-laden cars. Some of the passengers waited an hour before they could get to Wilkinsburg.

Contract to be Let.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—Caldwell & Drake of Columbus, Ind., William Miller & Sons of Pittsburgh and Norcross Bros. of New York will submit bids tomorrow for the building of the new court house. The county commissioners have requested the judges of the common pleas court to meet with them after the bids have been opened and participate in the selection of a contractor. In this way the commissioners hope to award a contract that cannot be disapproved by the court, as on two previous occasions. The commissioners have decided to build the structure of granite.

Was Her First Railroad Ride.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 3.—Mary Finke, aged 77 years, a resident of Poland township, today took her first ride on a railroad train. She had not been away from the farm on which she lived, for 18 years, and now she is on her way to Minden, Neb., where she will spend the remainder of her days with her sons and daughters. Some 30 years ago she remembers having come to Youngstown, six miles from the little farm on which she lived. When she boarded the train she was badly frightened, but she said that she enjoyed herself in the city and thought she would enjoy the trip.

MILLIONAIRE SCRANTON WITNESS IN LIBEL SUIT

Had Accused Councilman of Confessing to Having Taken Bribes.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SCRANTON, PA., June 3.—W. W. Scranton, the millionaire, was a lively witness today in the criminal libel suit brought against him by former Councilman Finn. In the closing days of former Mayor Bailey's administration, a few years back, the Barber Asphalt Company was after a paving contract, in which there was said to be considerable "graft." An ordinance was passed favorable to the asphalt people, and awaited Mayor Bailey's signature.

The allegation was made, that, through the operations of the company's local agent the mayor's signature was bought for $1,000, Finn acting as "go-between" to pay the money. Mr. Scranton published a letter in which he said Finn had "publicly confessed that he had taken bribes."

When asked if he knew Mr. Finn personally, Mr. Scranton replied: "No; he was pointed out to me though as a fellow who took bribes and then squealed."

After denying that he bore any malice toward Mr. Finn, the witness went on to say:

"I simply regard him as I would a skunk in a clump of bushes. I felt it my duty to warn the people to keep away from the bushes. I bore no malice toward the skunk." Mr. Scranton created somewhat a sensation by saying that it was his impression that E. B. Sturges told him about Finn "squealing."

Mr. Sturges, who is the president of the Municipal league, was highly incensed upon learning of Mr. Scranton's accusations and at the opening of the afternoon session went on the stand and denied that he told Mr. Scranton that Finn had taken bribes and squealed. The case will be submitted to the jury by Judge Edwards tomorrow morning.

SAID GOD SENT HER TO WIN OVER HANNA

LIMA, O., June 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Agnes Allingham, claiming Cincinnati as once her home, was picked up in an almost unconscious condition on the streets today and placed in the county infirmary. She was the housekeeper of Ohio's war governor, Tom Corwin, and at one time was well to do. She is partially demented and claims that God sent her through Ohio to convert Senator Hanna to Roosevelt. She is 70 years old.

PITTSBURGH PHYSICIAN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

ALLENTOWN, PA., June 3.—The eclectic medical convention of Pennsylvania, in session here, today elected the following officers: President, D. William Rouch, Pittsburgh; vice presidents, Drs. B. F. Bittner and Hannie Sloan; secretaries, R. E. Holmes and W. O. Grant; treasurer, R. E. Warner. M. Grant McGinnis and J. D. Robertson were elected honorary members.

WILL SPEAK ON TYPHOID.

Dr. Vaughn, Who Will Be Guest of New Castle Physicians, an Expert.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan, will be the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Physicians' club of this city at Cascade park, Wednesday, June 24.

Dr. Vaughn was a member of the commission appointed by President McKinley in 1899 to investigate the outbreak of typhoid fever among the troops raised for the Spanish-American war and is a recognized expert on typhoid. That disease has been an epidemic here during the past spring and Dr. Vaughn will speak on typhoid before the New Castle physicians.

STATE CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Eastern Firms to Furnish the Printing and Binding Supplies.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding Pomeroy today awarded the following contracts for the ensuing two years, the bids for which were opened on Monday:

Megarges & Co., Philadelphia, fine book and bill paper, gummed folio parchments, cover paper, cards and cardboard; Wolfe Bros., Philadelphia, linen map, coated book and plate paper; Charles H. Mullin, Mt. Holly, ledgers, caps and folios and commercial safety; Johnston & Co., Harrisburg, fine writing paper, fine cover paper and envelopes; Whiting & Co., Philadelphia, bond, bank note, map, etc.

Burglars Blew Open Safe.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 3.—The safe in the store of James A. Chambers at Pancake, a small village about two miles east of this place, was early this morning blown open by burglars, who gained an entrance to the store in the rear. The safe was blown to atoms. All the money secured was 150 pennies which had been left in a tin box.

PAPERS SCORE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Seating of Ackerman As Chairman Arouses Westmoreland County Organs.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., June 3.—The Pennsylvania Argus and the Westmoreland Democrat, the official organs of Westmoreland county Democracy, score the state executive committee for seating Henry S. Ackerman as chairman of the county committee.

A determined effort is being made to oust the Keenan faction from the control of the county organization at the primaries on Saturday, June 13. The Doty faction has been sending emissaries to every election precinct of the county and securing pledges from the candidates for county committeemen. The Keenan faction is also lining up to make a desperate resistance to the Doty faction's plans.

ARRESTS WILL FOLLOW THE CORONER'S INQUEST

SHARON, PA., June 3.—Deputy Coroner T. C. Hazen has secured evidence in regard to the death of 6-year-old Willie Washington at Sharpsville which will result in arrests after the inquest. The physicians today examined James, 7 years old, who is alleged to have killed his brother, and found his body covered with cuts and bruises. He was in such a serious condition that he was unable to attend the funeral of his brother today.

BURGLAR BEAT AND SHOT AT DEFENSELESS WOMAN

Mrs. George Deats Had Narrow Escape From Death in Her House.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WEST NEWTON, PA., June 3.—Mrs. George Deats was attacked by a robber who entered her house near here, at 10 o'clock this morning, and barely escaped with her life. She was in the yard in the rear of the house, which was unoccupied at the time. Hearing a noise she entered the kitchen. A man of heavy build, tall, with smooth face and a handkerchief over his head, was in the next room, and he rushed at the defenseless woman, striking her over the head and then choking her.

She uttered a cry, and the intruder drew a pistol and fired two shots at her head, neither of which hit her. Fearing that rescue would come because of the noise made, the man disappeared in the direction of the Monongahela river. He took with him $130, a gold watch and some clothing.

WIFE TOLD STORY OF INHUMAN TREATMENT

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 3.—Mrs. Julius Ostopeck, who had her husband arrested on the charge of assault last night, said in police court this morning that they were married in Johnstown, Pa., six months ago, and that her husband brought her here and placed her in a disorderly house. She says that he demanded all the money she earned and that he spent it. Being Polish she was unable to tell anyone of her situation and it was not until he beat her when she refused to give him money, that the facts came out.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

To shut a team like the New York Giants out twice in succession is quite a feat for any club to perform, yet the Pirates turned the trick, and those who were figuring Clarke's crew out of the pennant running this year had better get their thinking caps on. The score of the second shutout was 5 to 0, and 4,400 people enjoyed the treat.

Like Tuesday's game the contest of yesterday was a spirited one from start to finish, and the Giants, seeing another coat of whitewash awaiting them, fought with the fury of a wounded tiger to avoid the humiliation, but try as they might they could not get a man on third base, and only once during the game did they get a runner as far as Tommy Leach's station, and that was in the fifth inning, when after two hands were out Strownbridge reached first on a single and chased to third when Bresnahan planted a long single in right. Mugsy McGraw and his cohorts begged big Dan McGann, the next batter, to save the team from a second shutout, and big Dan tried hard enough, but the best he could do was a bounder to Tommy Leach, and he was an easy victim at first base.

Ivan Mac McGinnity, who had been saved up for the Pirates, was called on to do the pitching and so well did the sporty boys think of his chances that they refused to wager anything better than even money on the champions. McGinnity has been making playthings of all the other clubs, but he got fooled as far as the Pirates were concerned, and what is more, he found his pitching master in Sam Leever, who produced an article of pitching yesterday that far outshone the New Yorker.

The grand stand spectators had a lot of fun with McGinnity, who pouts like a spoiled child every time a run is scored against him, and seems to take it as a personal insult for any opposing player to make a safe hit of any kind. Claude Ritchey, the Emienton boy, who was heralded as not being fast enough for the big league this year, took a particular delight in insulting the iron man, and in four times at bat "Little All Right" scored four hits, three singles and a double, and every hit he made was a timely one.

The weather conditions suited Sam Leever to a nicety. The day was dark from overhanging clouds and Sam had all of his speed so that he whizzed the ball over the plate so fast that the opposing batters could not see it. Then the schoolmaster had that fast breaking curve of his working and it proved a puzzler to the Giants. The support accorded Leever was the same as that furnished Phillippe on Tuesday, simply gilt-edged, particularly by Leach, Wagner and Kruger, who fairly eat up base hits.

The first inning passed without anything doing in the Pirates' camp, but in the second, after two hands were out, Ritchey singled and went to third on Kruger's neat single to right. The double steal that Sam was successfully worked and Ritchey brought home the Pirates' first run. The second run came in the fifth inning with two out, and Beaumont was the boy to produce it. Kruger singled, and on one of McGinnity's curves and drove it to the deepest part of middle field. Bresnahan and Browne gave chase, but by the time they got the ball back to the infield Beaumont was across the plate with a home run.

In the sixth Bransfield gave Mertes a chase into deep left field and took three bases on the hit. "Kitty" scored on Seybold's two-bagger to left. Wagner opened the eighth with a single that nearly tore McGinnity's leg off. Bransfield sacrificed Hans to second and he scored on Leach's single to right. Tommy went from first to third on Ritchey's infield single and scored on the latter's force out at second. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Al Buckenberger and his crew of Boston beaneaters will be here today for a three days' stay. Buck has a fairly strong team with him this season and it is liable to give the Pirates trouble.

Oom Paul Kruger was the hero of the left field bleachers yesterday and every time the little fellow went out to the field he was cheered. This was a deserved tribute, as Kruger made some fine catches in left field, and his single in the second inning was a very timely one.

Hans Wagner was in great fielding form yesterday and the way he mowed down base hits set the crowds to wild cheering. In the eighth inning Hans chased clear out into left field and gathered in McGann's fly, and followed it up with a sensational pickup of Mertes' hot grounder that looked for all the world like a safe hit.

Beaumont's home run in the fifth inning was a beauty bright and set the crowd wild. The smash was a terrific one, the ball going to the deepest point in middle field. An occupant of the scorer's box called the turn on the hit, having remarked when Beaumont appeared at the plate, bat in hand, "Well, here's where Beau gets a home run," and he did sure enough.

Manager Fred Clarke secured his physician's consent to don a uniform and yesterday he was out with his fellow players during the preliminary practice. Clarke cavorted about the field like a young blood and acted like a boy just out after a long stay indoors. He chased grounders with a reckless abandon and made some catches that drew applause from his old side partners in the left field bleachers.

When the umpire called play and threw the first new ball out to Leever, Sammy proceeded to dirty it up, and when he got through with his process the new ball looked as though it had just sneaked out of some second-hand shop. The New York players raised a howl and Umpire Johnson took the soiled ball away from Leever, threw it under the Pittsburgh players' bench and handed Sammy a new one, with orders not to rub it in a mud puddle.

Umpire Johnston gave Warner a shade the best of things in the fifth inning when he called a strike on a ball. Warner had swung at the ball and was about to start for the bench, thinking his third strike, when, to his surprise, the umpire sang out that it was a ball. Leever entered a protest, but the umpire refused to listen to him. After that Warner drove a hot one at Ritchey, but was out at first.

The double steal executed by Kruger and Ritchey in the second inning was a pretty bit of base running. Claude was on third and Oom Paul on first and the latter started for second and drew a throw from Catcher Warner. Ritchey started with the ball and completed his end of the play in fine style. Pitcher McGinnity was angry over the play being made and he said a few things to Warner which would hardly do to print.

McGinnity pitched great ball in spots, but there were times when the Pirates simply would not be handed base hits. In the third inning McGinnity struck Sebring out on three pitched balls. The first two were called by the umpire, but the third one Sebring swung away at and never came near the ball. The iron man could not kick on his support, the only slip-up being made by Babb in the ninth inning, and it did not prove costly.

In the second inning Bowerman got out in the coachers box back of first base and tried his best to rattle Leever. "Here's where we turn the trick and get five runs," yelled Bowerman when Mertes, the first batter sent a single to right. The schoolmaster then let out a few links of speed and after the side had been retired without another hit, the crowd got after Bowerman and hooted him clear back to the bench. That was the last of Bowerman's coaching for the afternoon.

The expulsion of Christy Mathewson from the coachers' box, as well as the playing field, gave the spectators a chance to laugh at the big pitcher's expense. Mathewson was out posing in the coachers' box in the fifth inning and he used language Umpire Johnston took offense at. The pitcher was ordered to the bench, but entered a protest and was then ordered off the field. He took his time about going and tried to hide back of the water barrel in the local players' bench, but he was chased out of that and was forced to witness his teams' second shutout from the right field bleachers. The crowd laughed and jeered Mathewson, who was blue in the face with anger.

E. L. A. AND SHADYSIDE ELECT ATHLETIC OFFICERS

Elections of athletic officers were held yesterday at two local schools. Kerr Price was chosen captain of the Shadyside academy baseball team for next year and East Liberty academy elected two officials for the association and managers of teams. At East Liberty Albert Evans was unanimously elected president of the athletic association and Albert McCracken secretary. Pritchard was run against McCracken, but the latter won with a few votes to spare. Evans was also chosen manager of the football team for the coming season.

Kennedy "Pawee" Bunton was elected manager of the baseball and basketball teams. He had no opposition for the managerial position of the nine, but Clyde Taylor, who opposed him for the basketball honors, was defeated by the verdict. Bunton is captain of the hockey team, and, with the management of the baseball team, he was considered enough for one person. Bunton will be the manager of the baseball team. "Whitty" Colvin was a candidate against Bunton for manager of the nine. Lew Edwards had no opposition for manager of the hockey team. Edwards was the first player in the league to played point on the seven, and put up a good game.

The captain of the nine to succeed Jay Zahniser, who will be graduated in the spring, and that for the football team will not be elected until the end of this term. But three men are eligible for the captaincy of the eleven—Edwards, Taylor and Fahlbusch.

Price had no opposition for the captaincy of the Shadyside team. All the players assembled in the academy yesterday morning and held the election. Price plays short and is popular with the players.

The East Liberty academy nine, which has demonstrated its strength with the local school teams, will play the Washington and Jefferson nine this afternoon at Washington. E. L. A. has one victory over the Pittsburgh college team, and this game Coach Bowley can get one from the Washington collegians, who have a clear title to the college championship of Western Pennsylvania. East Liberty will play as follows: C. Hull, catcher; Kruger, pitcher; Burns, first; Russell, second; Zahniser, short; McCracken, third; Edwards, left; E. Hull, middle; Henderson, right.

DARTMOUTH BEAT YALE.

The Blue Team Contained Many Substitutes.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 3.—(Special.)—Dartmouth won today 12 to 2, because Yale put a substitute team in the field. Wescott started to pitch and was an easy proposition. Joe Patton replaced him in the seventh. Yale sent in five substitutes before the game closed, including Tom Shevlin, the football player and hammer thrower. Don Thompson had an off day at third, making two errors, and was replaced by Freshman Carter. Barnwell made two sensational long running catches. Glaze pitched a phenomenal game for the Green Mountain boys, and Shaw at first base made two seemingly impossible catches, four runs and two hits. Great for Dartmouth made two home runs. SMATHERS WAS HERE.

On His Way to Chicago to Watch McChesney Run.

E. E. Smathers of New York, formerly of this city, was in town a short time yesterday, but did not linger long. Mr. Smathers is the owner of McChesney and other celebrities of the running and trotting tracks, and he was on his way to Chicago to watch the work of McChesney in the Harlem handicap, to be run in the Windy City on Saturday afternoon.

McChesney has not been doing much running of late, but was entered in an event at the Hawthorne track on Tuesday and made such a strong showing that the experts are picking him as a sure winner of the Saturday event. Then horse is sure to carry a large bunch of Pittsburgh money, as local followers of the runners have an all-abiding faith in the ability of the Smathers horse to carry off the race.

LONG SHOTS PROVED TO BE GOOD THINGS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 3.—Hermis, who was recently sold to E. J. Thomas, for the reported price of $60,000, made his first appearance of the year at Gravesend today, and, although beaten, ran a good race. The race in which the son of Hermence—Katy of the West—ran was a mile and a sixteenth and after running second to Dublin, the winner, to well into the stretch, he stopped and finished fourth in the race. Dublin equaled the track record by running the distance in 1:46 flat.

Out of eight starters in the Greater New York steeplechase only three finished, the others either falling or refusing. The winner turned up in the 15 to 1 shot, Adjadamus. The Chamblet horse made the running for about two miles, when Haider, his rider, took him back and allowed the favorite to show the way to the last jump, when he closed again and in a driving finish won by a length from the favorite, Illuminate, who in turn was 12 lengths in front of Tankard. Not a favorite won all the races going to long shots. Summaries:

First race, about 2 miles, steeplechase—Prince Cochran, 30 to 1 and 10 to 1, won; Yardarm, 110, O'Neil, 4 to 5 and 1 to 3, second; Sun Gold, 167, Bullman, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, third. Time 4:10.

Second race, the Greater New York steeplechase, about two miles and a half—Adjadamus, 140, W. Heider, 15 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Fulminate, 156, Donohue, 3 to 5 and 3 to 10, second; Tankard, 150, G. Green, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time 4:58 2-5.

Third race, 5 furlongs, selling—Vagary, 103, O'Neil, 6 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Walterin, 108, Bullman, 11 to 20 and out, second; Bluish, 108, Hauck, 7 to 2 and 7 to 10, third. Time 1:01 4-5.

Fourth race, handicap, 1 1-16 miles—Dublin, 114, Hauck, 10 to 1 and 5 to 2, won; Waterboy, 111, Odom, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Herbert, 110, Bullman, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, third. Time 1:46.

Fifth race, 1 mile and 70 yards, selling—Hamilton

CITY WAS CHIEF VIOLATOR

Inspector Norris Mead Estimated It Would Cost $300,000 for Pittsburgh to Remove Its Overhead Wires—Penalty Not Enforced.

The eight years, in which the telegraph, telephone, electric light, signal and trolley companies were given to remove their overhead wires and bury them in conduits, expired on last Saturday and there are many miles of wire in the city that are yet unburied, showing a failure on the part of the companies to comply with the law.

In 1892 an ordinance was passed requiring all overhead wires to be buried within three years, and in 1895 an ordinance was passed by councils extending the time limit to May 30, 1903. A general ordinance was passed previous to 1895 fixing a maximum penalty of $300 and a minimum penalty of $50 for "each offense," but is the opinion that the ambiguity of this clause practically renders the penalty void, as it would be hard to ascertain what "each offense" meant.

It develops that the city is the chief violator of the law, as the downtown district is practically the only section in which its wires have been put under ground.

Morris Mead, formerly chief inspector of the bureau of electricity, who retired on a pension recently, is the best posted man in the city on the subject of wires. He stated yesterday that it would cost the city between $250,000 and $300,000 to bury all its cables that remain above the surface. The city has done no work in this line for two years, owing to the failure of councils for two years past to make any appropriation for the purpose. The delay of the telegraph, telephone, and electric light companies to lay conduits has been another cause of delay, as the city uses their conduits for its cables.

Mr. Mead stated yesterday that the ordinance required all lines on the following thoroughfares of the city to be laid under ground by May 30, 1903: Penn avenue, Liberty street, Center avenue, Forbes street, Fifth avenue, Wylie avenue, Second avenue and Carson street. He said the law had been generally complied with in the downtown district, although the Allegheny County Light Company still kept its lines downtown on poles, claiming that if its wires were buried the city would be left in darkness until the work was completed. The ordinance provided that each company shall lay at least one-eighth of its wires each year, commencing in 1895.

SUMMER AMUSEMENTS.

"Wang" to Be Heard at Duquesne Garden and Good Programs at All the Parks.

At the Duquesne garden next week, with the usual Saturday matinee, the musical comedy selected to introduce an entire new cast of all-star principals in opera will be "Wang," the clever musical comedy which first brought DeWolf Hopper into prominence. "Wang" is the opera comedy by Cheever Goodwin and Wilson Morse, compilers of several of the most successful musical comedies of the day. It is bubbling over with pretty music and abounds in scintillating comedy. Amongst the most catchy numbers in "Wang" are, "Ask of the Man in the Moon," "A Pretty Girl a Summer Night," "The Man With the Elephant on His Hands," "Baby, Baby," etc. The make-up of the principals will include William Danforth, principal comedian of the Frank Daniels' Opera Company, Norma Kopp, the prima donna of the Bluebeard company, which has just closed in New York; John J. Martin, principal comedian of the Bostonians; Miss Mary Madge Lawrence, Ben Lodge and others of equal note.

For the second week of free vaudeville at Southern and Oakwood parks excellent bills have been secured, and the Sunday concerts will include the Third Regiment, Phinney's and the Braddock Library bands, together with a host of good singers. Princess Chinquilla, the charming reservation Indian maiden—the only one, in fact, in vaudeville, will head the bill at Oakwood park, and with her will be Ed Nevell, the cowboy entertainer. They are a very clever team. The Ansell troupe of dancing girls will be the headliners at Southern, and they are said worth seeing. The improvements at both parks are marked, the new stages being much better than the old ones.

The popularity of Kennywood is best demonstrated by the vast crowds that flock to the pretty resort every afternoon and evening, which shows that the pleasure grounds up the Monongahela valley are fully established as a summer resort for the whole of Greater Pittsburgh. But the attractions, both novel and musical, fully justify this popularity. Rocereto's concert band will give all the concerts next week, and lots of bright, catchy popular music will be played. The big steeplechase building has become popular, and the steeplechase itself has become the most generously patronized amusement of the exciting kind ever seen in the Greater Pittsburgh.

BELLEVUE'S FLOWER SHOW.

Civic Improvement Leagues Will Give an Exhibit in Masonic Hall on Saturday.

Bellevue, Avalon, Ben Avon and Emsworth civic improvement leagues are giving a flower show in Bellevue Masonic hall Saturday, and the residents of the four boroughs are co-operating to make the affair a success. Included in the exhibit will be cut flowers, roses, peonies, flowering shrubs, potted plants, palms, ferns, wild flowers and wild shrubs.

Potted plants should be sent to Masonic hall tomorrow afternoon or evening and all cut flowers Saturday morning before 11 o'clock. Anyone having plants too large to be delivered by hand should notify the committee at the Suburban Life office, No. 461 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, by this evening and a wagon will call for them, a representative of the committee accompanying the wagon to insure proper care of the plants. All potted plants should be labeled with name of the owner.

The committee will arrange to have exhibitors' names on all offerings, in except when requested not to do so, in which case they will be placed in the general collection of that particular kind of flower. In sending flowers the name of each, with variety stating whether it is an annual, biennial, perennial or hardy, should be given. All cut flowers not claimed by exhibitors will be distributed to the hospitals.

The exhibition promises to be one of the social events of the season. A first-class orchestra will be in attendance afternoon and evening, the hours being 2:30 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock. Admission free. The committee is as follows:

Bellevue, J. F. Tilley, Frank Young, E. M. Butz, Mrs. F. W. Kiefer, John Gullett, Fred Burki, J. H. Braglon, Mrs. George F. Wright, William A. Hadly; Avalon, R. M. Jones, W. G. Gibson, Mrs. John Colebery, Miss E. A. Miller; Ben Avon, H. P. Joslin, Mrs. H. S. Harper, Mrs. T. G. Evans; J. W. Vickerman, chairman.

RUSH FOR ART LINENS.

There's a magic in a 25c price, when attached to something lovely that's worth from 50c to $1.00. That's why there was such a rush at Campbell's yesterday for the bureau scarfs, pillow shams and table covers, in fine white muslin, beautified with spachtel work and blind embroidery—some hemstitched and some with scalloped edges. Not little ones, but rather 32 inches square and scarfs that measured 18x54 inches.

And next to these is a fine line more elaborately embroidered, for 50c, that every fastidious woman will recognize at sight, as $1.00 and $1.50 art linens.

LEGAL NOTICES.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.—Of valuable real estate, situate in the city of Pittsburgh and vicinity. The undersigned administrator, with the will annexed of Johanna Montgomery, deceased, will sell, under the powers given by said will, at public sale, on the respective premises hereinafter set forth, on the following described real estate of the decedent: 1. On Wednesday, June 24, 1903, at 10 o'clock a. m.—A large number of lots in the Twenty-third ward, said city of Pittsburgh, in McCrickart & Montgomery's plan (plan book 5, page 75), Nos. 16 to 24 inclusive, Nos. 27 to 37 inclusive, Nos. 62 to 65 inclusive, Nos. 67 to 76 inclusive, Nos. 82 to 110 inclusive, Nos. 113 to 137 inclusive, Nos. 161 to 165 inclusive. Said lots Nos. 113, 114 and 115 are improved, having erected thereon four 4-room frame houses, and will be sold subject to the lien of four certain mortgages aggregating in amount $2,800. Also two small triangular lots of ground in the said plan. No. 2. On Wednesday, June 24, 1903, at 2 o'clock p. m.—No. 5660 Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, said city of Pittsburgh, lot fronting 40 feet on the south side of Stanton avenue and extending back 160 feet, preserving the same width to Carmine alley, having erected thereon a 10-room reception hall brick dwelling house (comparatively new); subject to a mortgage of five thousand ($5,000) dollars. 3. On Wednesday, June 24, 1903, at 3 o'clock p. m.—No. 5836 Center avenue, Thirteenth ward, said city of Pittsburgh, lot fronting 22 feet on the southern side of Center avenue and running back 120 feet to the south, being 47 feet in the rear, having thereon erected a 7-room frame house, slate roof and having all modern improvements. 4. On Thursday, June 25, 1903, at 10 o'clock a. m.—All the following described lots of ground, situate in the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, in the county of Allegheny and state of Pennsylvania, being numbered 10, 22, 34, 35, 36, 37 and 38, in the plan of lots laid out by the Pt. Pitt Coal Company, as per plan thereof recorded in the Carnegie, on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad, containing in all five and one-half (5½) acres of ground. Terms of Sale—One-fifth of the purchase money in cash, the balance of said third in thirty days on the delivery of administrator's deed, under the power of sale in said will. On examination of title hand money to be returned to purchaser if titles are found not to be good. The remaining two-thirds of purchase money to be payable in two equal annual installments, with 6 per cent per annum interest, payable semi-annually, to be secured by common bond and tight mortgage on the land, containing 60 days' act. fa. clause insurance (if improved), and tax clauses and clause providing for attorney's commission of 5 per cent for collection. All properties sold subject to present leases, if any, which will be made known on day of sale. For plans and further information see the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Administrator, or Hall & Adair, Frick building. Horace J. Miller, 415 Grant street, attorneys for estate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE—The undersigned, assignee of the Lloyd Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburgh, a corporation, will expose at public sale all the goods, chattels and effects of the said company, on the premises where said goods are now stored, corner of Sturgeon street and South avenue, Allegheny City, Pa., on Friday, June 12, 1903, at 3 o'clock p. m., including office furniture, safe, desk and chairs, machinery, consisting of dynamo, lathes, drill presses, etc.; material on hand, consisting of partly finished coal mining machines, bar iron and steel, etc.; also small tools, consisting of set stocks and dies, etc. Also 3 letters patent of the United States, issued to Joseph Boland and George W. Fritz, for improvements in machines for lining coal; also 4 letters patent of the United States, issued to Francis M. Lechner, for improvements in machines for mining coal; also applications now pending for patents for improvements in machines for mining coal, made in name of Francis M. NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY. WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE climax of a rather desultory spring social season was reached yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Frick gave their garden party at Clayton, their home in the East End. It was the largest and smartest social affair of the season and was intended as a farewell by the host and hostess, who leave today for the east. The hours were from 4 o'clock until 8. The invitation list was large and all of Pittsburgh society tripped up the crimson-carpeted steps beneath the porte cochere.

Mr. and Mrs. Frick received in the east drawing room, an exquisite French apartment, which was decorated with palms, ferns and white roses. The entire mansion was thrown open for the affair, while the extensive grounds were utilized for the enjoyment of the guests. The Frick conservatories were stripped of their flowers. Rows of waxen-leaved begonias bordered the long driveways and the grounds were dotted with the rare tropical plants which are housed within the conservatories during the winter. There was a riot of color in the overflowing boxes of flowers which encircled the piazzas, while hanging baskets filled with flowers and ferns, the curious hanging Japanese ferns and other rare plants were suspended from arches and balconies. The porches, which almost surround the house, were lined with tall palms, with the exception of the east porch, which is enclosed with glass. The east side was completely banked with tall tropical plants, among which appeared choice ferns and begonias. The deep window seats were banked with smaller foliaged plants and with orchids and gloxinias from the Frick conservatory, which are among the finest in the country.

Within the house the decorations were superb. The east drawing room appeared with its exquisite decorations in green and white, and in the dining room were beautiful pink Bridesmaid roses, which formed a massive centerpiece on the large round table, while buffet and sideboard were decorated with the same flowers. Regal American beauty roses gave a vividness of color to the rich dark furnishings of the library. Tropical plants appeared in the hall. Throughout the house, upon the walls of every apartment, hang the choice masterpieces of the painter's brush, gathered by Mr. Frick in every part of Europe and in this country.

Refreshments were served both in the dining room and upon the wide lawn on the east side of the house, where small tables were placed each decorated with a cluster of La France roses in a large cut glass bowl. Music was a delightful feature of the garden party which was the smartest event of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Frick expect to leave today for the east, and will spend a few days with their son, who is a sophomore at Princeton, before going on to Prides Crossing, where they will again occupy the Montgomery Sears cottage. Mr. Frick is building a magnificent country home on the north shore.

Teets—Christfield.

The marriage of Miss Jennie L. Teets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Teets of Cedar avenue, Allegheny, to John Gilbert Christfield of Chicago was a prettily appointed home ceremony last evening, performed at 8:30 o'clock by the bride's pastor, the Rev. J. M. Thoburn of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. There were about 60 guests present, all from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, with the exception of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. M. A. Christfield of Chicago. The bride was girlishly gowned in white point d'esprit, with yoke and sleeves of duchess lace and carried a shower of white roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Annie Beatrice Dean of the East End, wore white embroidered chiffon and carried white roses. The little flower girl, Miss Marian Bell, also of the East End, was in white and carried a basket of white rosebuds. Minor Blest, a cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man, and the ushers were Frank Willison and Edward Cartwright. The house decorations were carried out in white and green with roses, peonies and potted plants. After the reception and supper Mr. Christfield and his bride left for Chicago, where they will live in Warren avenue.

Stahl—Martin.

In St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Homestead, last evening the marriage of Miss Maud Elizabeth Stahl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl, and John Barrett Martin, was solemnized. The wedding was a handsome one and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jesse Pennymartin, pastor of the Wilkinsburg Lutheran church, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Seaman, pastor of the Homestead Lutheran church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Pearl Stahl, as maid or honor, and Miss Elsie Bender of Hamilton, O., and Miss Carrie Hantz of Greensburg, a cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Francis Ives Woolleit of Boulder, Col., a classmate of the bridegroom at Washington and Jefferson college, was the best man. The ushers were Andrew Earl Sloan, and Harry G. Sloan of Sheridan avenue, East End; John Milton Ryall of Pittsburgh and John H. McClure of Elizabeth. The bride was given away by her father.

After the marriage ceremony the bridal party and the guests went to the Hotel Victoria, where dinner was served and where later a reception was held. This morning Mr. Martin and his bride leave for Buffalo, Niagara, Toronto and the Thousand Isles. After June 20 they will be at home in Third avenue, Homestead. The bride is well-known in Homestead. She was educated at the Maryland seminary in Baltimore, and Miss Elsie Bender, one of her bridesmaids, was a schoolmate. Mr. Martin is teller of the Homestead National bank. He is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college.

Johnson—Bushnell.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Edith Taber Johnson, daughter of Dr. Joseph Taber Johnson of this city, to Henry Davis Bushnell of Pittsburgh, took place this afternoon at the suburban home of the bride's father in North Arlington Heights, in the presence of a small company, including only the immediate relatives of the two young people.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Frances Bushnell, sister of the bridegroom, and the groomsman was the bride's brother, Bascom Johnson. The Rev. James Gibson Johnson, the uncle of the bride, officiated. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock and was followed by a collation. The relatives present returned later in the evening to Washington, leaving "Locarn Farm," as their country home is called, to Mr. and Mrs. Bushnell, who will remain there for a week before going to their future home in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Bushnell, whose home has been until the last six weeks, in Plainfield, N. J., is now in business in Pittsburgh. He will take his bride to the Hotel Kenmawr after their wedding trip, where they will stay until they find a house. Mr. Bushnell is a member of the old Bushnell family in Pittsburgh, his father and Mrs. George W. Biggs of Craig street, Bellefield, being brother and sister. His maternal grandfather was Robert Sellers.

Smith—Chester.

A pretty home wedding took place in the Sewickley valley last evening. It was the marriage of Miss Margaret D. Smith and Wilfred D. Chester at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Van R. Smith, in Thorn street, Sewickley. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. William Lo. Campbell of the Sewickley Presbyterian church before about 50 relatives and intimate friends of the young couple. Owing to a recent death of a relative of the bride the affair was not so elaborate as had been intended. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen R. Smith, and was given away by her uncle, James H. Aiken of Allegheny. The bride's gown was of white mousseline de soie with lace trimmings. The maid of honor wore white and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Roses, palms and smilax were used in decorating the house, the parlor being in green and white and the dining room in green and pink. Dinner was served, after which the young couple departed for a trip. They will return to Sewickley, where they will reside.

Miss Howe's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, who recently returned from an extended wedding trip through Europe, were the guests of honor at a beautifully appointed dinner given last evening at the Pittsburgh Golf club by Miss Elizabeth Howe of Bidwell street, Allegheny. The dinner was served at 8 o'clock and in addition to the hostess and Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin, the guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Moorhead, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie, Mrs. Louise Sproul, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. Denniston Lyon, Miss Eleanor McC. Chalfant and Miss Annie Chalfant, Mrs. Julia Watson, formerly of Bidwell guest, Miss Hazard of Providence, R. I.; Charles Hanford, Mr. Lewis, Frank Sproul, Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw, and her fiance, Henry L. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Laughlin, Irwin Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Perkins, Miss Louise Speer, Miss Alice Brown, Miss Willa K. Forsyth, Dallas Byers, George Singer and Eben Byers. The table decorations consisted of a beautiful combination of white and yellow iris.

School Girls' Progressive Luncheon.

A gay little affair yesterday was the progressive luncheon given by Miss Ann M. Houston of Pacific avenue, East End, for Miss Margaret McKinney, the muchfeted young guest of Miss Edith Stanton of Marchand street. There were four tables, which were decorated in red, white, pink and yellow roses. In addition to the hostess and honor guest covers were laid for Miss Stanton, Miss Grace Kerr, who is entertaining the same set of girls today at her home in Burgettstown, Miss Helen Dickey, Miss Elsie Braun, Miss Helen Sands, Miss Ruth Johnston, Miss Sarah Pfeil, Miss Harriet Duff, Miss May Shrom, Miss Nan Blait, Miss Lida Young, Miss Edna McKee, Miss Margaret McClelland and Miss Hilda Sadler. The guests included this year's graduates of the Pennsylvania College for Women, as well as those of last year's class of which Miss McKinney was a member.

Will Wed a Schoolma'am.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—At a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burnham at their home, No. 81 Grant street, this evening at 7 o'clock, announcement was made of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna Gray Burnham, to William Costolo Black of Uniontown, the wedding to take place at a later date. Miss Burnham has been for several years a teacher in the Uniontown schools and just closed a successful term on June 2. She is also an active worker in the Methodist church. Mr. Black was for some time assistant cashier of the Peoples bank of Uniontown and is now connected with the Citizens Title and Trust Company. He was for several years agent for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Uniontown. At the recent election he was chosen a member of the Uniontown school board.

Postmistress Weds.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—Miss Georgie E. Shaw and William W. Wilson of Wilkinsburg were quietly married this evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. L. N. Wilson of this place, the Rev. C. F. Ehrenfeld of California, an uncle of the bride, officiating. Miss Shaw is postmistress of this town and her marriage was deferred for some time because her successor has never been appointed, she having resigned last December.

Horner—Wilson.

Miss Julia Lillias Horner and John Edgar Wilson were married at the bride's home in Braddock last evening, by the Rev. William G. Reagle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Forty relatives were present and there were no attendants. The bride wore white crepe de chine over white satin, trimmed with lace, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. A wedding supper followed the ceremony. Mr. Wilson is an official of the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company plant at Rankin. He has built a handsome home in Fourth street, Braddock, where he has taken his bride, the usual wedding trip being omitted.

Luncheon at Red Gables.

Mrs. Finley Hall Lloyd of "Red Gables," Shields, near Sewickley, gave a handsome luncheon at her home yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The affair was the third in a series she has given and was in honor of Miss Eleanor Van Court Wiliard of Allegheny, whose engagement to William George, a cousin of the hostess, has been announced. Covers were laid for 14. Those present besides the hostess and honor guest were Miss Virginia Oliver, Miss Margaret Jamison, Miss Janet Walker, Miss Florence Walker, Miss Isabel Cooper, Miss Lucy Christy, Miss Ethel Christy, Mrs. Joseph Rohrbacher, Mrs. Marshall Christy, Mrs. H. Page Worden of Pasadena, Cal., Mrs. George Rice and Miss Mary Campbell. Pansies and iris were used to decorate the table and were arranged in baskets tied with yellow ribbons. Mrs. Lloyd will give the next luncheon in her series tomorrow afternoon.

Seniors' Entertainments.

Miss Clark of the faculty of the Pennsylvania College for Women gave a luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Kenmawr in honor of the members of the senior class of the college. It was a pretty and jolly affair. The graduating class this year consists of nine girls, Miss Harriet Duff, Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon, Miss Anna Hunter, Miss Jennie McSherry, Miss Ruth Johnston, Miss Sarah Pfeil, Miss Mary Wilson, Miss Hilda Sadler and Miss Anna Myra Petty.

The seniors are included in nearly all of the entertainments which are being given for Miss Margaret McKinney, who was graduated from the college last year. Miss Petty will give a luncheon for her classmates on Friday afternoon, June 12, after the commencement festivities are over.

Off for Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. John Fremont Shafer will sail from New York for a summer abroad next Wednesday, June 10. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Shafer's mother and sister, Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Lawrence, of Cleveland, O.

Miss Grace Hamilton of North Highland avenue will join a party of friends who will sail for Europe in a couple of weeks. They will spend the summer abroad.

Jean-Louis Ferrero, a young pianist and composer of the East End, has arranged to sail for Europe on June 17. He will go directly to Paris for study and will later visit Geneva, Switzerland, and Germany, expecting to return to Pittsburgh early in October.

Shadyside Card Party.

Miss Edna Pearl Little gave a large card party last evening at her home in Westminster place, Shadyside, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Kelly. Previous to her marriage Mrs. Kelly was Miss Nellie Murphy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pennell Murphy of Bayard street, Bellefield. Six-handed euchre was the game, the tables being placed in the parlor, library and dining room. Pink roses and peonies were used to decorate the parlor, American beauties were in the library and yellow daisies in the dining room. Quantities of foliage was also used throughout the house. At the close of the game 10 prizes were awarded. Nearly 100 guests were in attendance.

Announcement of an Engagement.

Announcement was made yesterday of the engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Wrenshall of Washington, Pa., to Lee DeWitt Hemmingway of Allegheny. The wedding will be some time this summer. Miss Wrenshall is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wrenshall of North College street and is a graduate of Washington seminary. Mr. Hemmingway is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college and is in business in Allegheny.

A Homestead Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Florence Edna Jacobs, daughter of ex-Justice Jacobs of Homestead, and Harvey F. Botsford, will take place next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobs. The marriage will be solemnized by the Rev. Maitland Dushane Hynson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Homestead. The wedding will be very quiet because of a recent bereavement.

Close—Bolar.

A pretty wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Edna J. Close of Deerfield, Mich., and Harry W. Bolar of Leechburg, Pa. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. Scofield of the Methodist Episcopal church, Oak Grove, Mich. Many guests, friends and relatives of the couple were present from Western Pennsylvania. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bolar will live in Pittsburgh.

Notes of Society.

A charmingly arranged luncheon was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Julia Watson Horne at her home in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, in honor of Miss Hazzard of Providence, R. I.

The series of benefit entertainments at the Ursuline academy in Wineteddle avenue, East End, ended yesterday evening with an invitation euchre, given in the auditorium of the academy. A number of handsome prizes were awarded at its close.

THE last meeting of the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the Consumers league until fall was held yesterday morning at the Twentieth Century club. This meeting was really the last for the year, for at the opening meeting in October the annual election of officers will be held. The business of the board was concluded for the year. The treasurer's report showed a balance in the treasury. The committees recently appointed to visit the various stores, shops and factories spent some time yesterday in discussing their plans. They will continue their work throughout the summer and in the fall will be able to report on their investigations and will present an up-to-date white list of the firms entitled to the use of the labels of the Consumers league. Mrs. William J. Asklin is general chairman of the visiting department of the Consumers league; Mrs. Mattie Patterson is chairman of the subcommittee to visit the cigar stores, and factories; Miss M. E. Stevenson, department and drygoods stores, and Miss Nannie Barclay, the confectionery establishments. The white list will also include the names of such dealers and manufacturers as provide proper conditions for the health and comfort of their employes.

Fresh Air Work.

The fresh air work of the Association for the Improvement of the Poor is about to be inaugurated for 1903. From a small beginning in 1878 it has grown to be an important feature of the work of the association. The Fresh Air home in Oakmont, donated by the late J. B. D. Meeds, will be opened June 15, and will be kept open until September 15. In the main building and the cottages there are accommodations for 75 people.

Children are received, ranging in age from babyhood to 12 years. They make a two weeks' visit to the home in the country, where wholesome food and good air make them better able to fight for existence when they return to the city.

Outings of one day are also a part of the fresh air work. These are intended for families so situated that they cannot be away from home for a longer period. The working woman's vacation is another branch that has been successfully carried on for the benefit of those who otherwise could not have the benefit of trips away from the hot town. Last year 70 women were thus favored and the managers have secured two excellent places to send these women this year.

Money is needed to carry on this work. Circulars are being sent out to those who may be interested, this method being adopted in preference to using solicitors. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. W. A. Herron, the president, or Mrs. S. E. Lippincott, the secretary, at 140 Sixth avenue.

Organized Women of Pittsburgh.

The Permanent Civic Committee of Women's Clubs of Western Pennsylvania, is an organization which represents 2,500 women of Pittsburgh and vicinity. Its object is the general civic and sociologic betterment of the community and its influence has been felt in many directions. Especially noticeable results of its influence have been found in the successful passage of the juvenile court bills, the tenement house bills and the anti-expectoration bill. Gov. Pennypacker signing the first two but vetoing the last. The committee is preparing new and broader plans which will be put into effect next fall.

A Club Outing.

The Prytaneum Study club of Homestead, closed its club year yesterday with an outing at Kennywood park. The guests of the club were the families of the members, and the picnic was a very enjoyable one to the men, women and children who took part in it. The club will open its season in the fall with a new program of study.

Business Women's Club.

The Business Women's club of Allegheny will hold its annual meeting on Monday evening, June 8, at 8 o'clock, in the club rooms, 640 Arch street, Allegheny. The meeting will be conducted in the assembly room while on the second floor an exhibition of the work of the different classes will be held.

DEATH LIST GROWS AT GAINESVILLE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

GAINESVILLE, GA., June 3.—The dead list from Monday's tornado has reached 85. The situation has at no time been exaggerated.

At the temporary commissary great crowds of starving people were gathered at daybreak this morning. They held orders signed by sub-committees on relief, who had been through the desolated district. To each one was issued provisions, according to his needs. In nearly every instance the order was for rations for one person for one week.

As some families have several members this issue will last for one day. The supply at the commissary, unless replenished, will soon be exhausted.

About 60 funerals of victims were held last night and today. There was no attempt at any sort of ceremonial; in many cases a clergyman was not present. The bodies were rapidly consigned to the ground with a hastily uttered prayer or the singing of a hymn. For half an hour almost one funeral a minute was conducted.

TRESTLE COLLAPSED.

Engine on the Walhonding Valley Railroad Plunged Into River.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—One hundred and fifty feet of the trestle on the Toledo, Walhonding Valley & Ohio railroad over the Tuscarawas river collapsed today and a locomotive was thrown into the river. As far as can be learned, no one was injured, although reports received here are meager.

It is not known whether the trestle was washed away or was broken by the weight of a train. It was reported at the Pennsylvania office that the line would be tied up for several days.

PITTSBURGHERS ATTEND CLEVELAND WEDDING

CLEVELAND, O., June 3.—(Special.)—Many Pittsburgh guests were present at St. Paul's church this evening for one of the most beautiful weddings ever seen in Cleveland. Miss Winifred Ely, daughter of Mrs. G. Frederic Ely of Prospect street, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Kirkpatrick Bole. The Trinity church choir boys passed down the aisle singing the wedding march. They were followed by the ushers, including Edward B. Aiken, under whom there were 10 bridesmaids including Miss Virginia Johnson of Pittsburgh. Among the guests was Robert A. Bole of Pittsburgh.

Child Dies of Fractured Skull.

Gertrude Gordon, a 2-year-old child, whose parents live at No. 1 Harlan alley, Allegheny, died last night at St. John's hospital from injuries sustained by falling from the second-story window of her home on May 27. Her skull was fractured.

FOUR PERSONS DROWNED.

HANNIBAL, MO., June 3.—Four persons were drowned today by the sinking of the steamer Flying Eagle and a barge. The cause of the accident was due to the blowing out of a cylinder head of the boat's engine, disabling her and placing the craft at the mercy of the swift current. The barge then struck a bridge pier and sank. The drowned are: Lonnie B. Curtis, aged 11; Martha Coppedga, aged 8; Harry Richenberg, aged 17, and Peggy Harvey, cook on steamer.

There were 240 Sunday school people on board. They were thrown into a panic, but the teachers and other adults on board managed to restore order and, by jumping to a barge at the foot of a neighboring pier and to the bridge, set an example which the little ones were not slow to follow. Those who were drowned were panic stricken and did not leap from the bridge or barge.

TWO WAREHOUSES IN SECOND AVENUE

BELLEVUE FRONTAGE SOLD

The present year is likely to witness more warehouse building in this city than any other two years in the history of Pittsburgh. Two more big buildings of this kind have just been arranged for, both to be erected in Second avenue. One will belong to the Dilworth estate and will be put on a lot 38x80 feet, on the south side of the avenue, adjoining the engine house a short distance below Smithfield street. The building will be seven stories high, of slow burning construction, and will cost $45,000. Plans for it are now being prepared by Architects Dean & Stophlet.

The contract for the other warehouse, which will be owned by Weaver, Costello & Co., has been awarded by Architect Charles Bickel to William B. Bennett. It will be a six-story building of the slow burning type and will measure 40x80 feet, on the south side of the avenue, below Wood street. The cost will approximate $45,000. With these two buildings included there will be built six warehouses this summer in the district between Seventh avenue and the Monongahela river and between Ross street and Market street.

Architect E. M. Butz has bought from George M. Bole 300 feet of the old Bole holdings on the east side of Euclid avenue, near Jefferson street, Bellevue, for $15,000, or $50 a front foot. The plot is 144 feet deep and will be divided into six 50-foot lots, which Mr. Butz will improve at once, with six reception hall brick houses of 10 rooms each, to cost $48,000. The houses will be finished in hardwood below and will have two bath rooms each.

Mr. Butz has also disposed of two more of the 22 houses which he recently completed in Reimar place for $14,000, or $7,000 each. They are 10-room reception hall dwellings, on lots 30x95 feet each, and are situated in Monticello street, near Homewood avenue. No. 7209 was bought by Dr. Blanche F. Greaves and Dr. Harrison A. Greaves, late of Philadelphia, and No. 7211 was secured by Mrs. Edith B. Swindick of Clarksburg, W. Va. Both bought for homes.

Frank McCann and Andrew J. Miller have bought from Philip Pearlman a property, 25.9x49 feet, at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Fifteenth street, for $12,500. A three-story brick building occupies the lot.

Wilson E. Griffiths sold to Marie A. Siedle a residence property, 62.5x150 feet, on the north side of Ripper street, near St. Clair street, Nineteenth ward, for $12,400.

Options have been secured on two more properties at Sharpsburg, by agents acting presumably for the West Penn Railroad Company, which is thought to be the buyer of the long line of properties in Main street, the sale of which has been noted from time to time. The last two options are on lots fronting on the river and lying between Thirteenth street and the plant of the Valley Ice and Supply Company. Nothing below Thirteenth street has been sought for before and this move indicates that the purchasers intend to put in at least one track between the ice plant and the river.

Through the Aronson Realty Company the property at No. 4 Eighth street has been resold for $17,500. It was bought some time ago by Attorneys I. L. Aronson, W. D. N. Rogers and O. S. Richardson, who now convey it to J. W. Richie. The property consists of a lot, 19x60 feet, on which is erected a three-story brick building occupied by Architects Mueller & East. The same brokers have sold for Otto E. Heineman to a Fifth avenue merchant four brick houses on a lot, 54x90 feet, facing in Vine street, between Wylie and Webster avenues, for $13,000.

An interesting bit of history as applied to Pittsburgh realty values leaked out yesterday in connection with the sale of the Hotel Duquesne property for $800,000. The present owner, Mrs. Sarah L. Black of Swissvale, acquired the Smithfield street parcel, 44x60 feet, from the Jackson estate by inheritance. The L in the rear, facing 60 feet in Wood street and running back toward Fifth avenue 84 feet, was bought when the dining room of the hotel was built 15 years ago. The price paid was only $8,000, or about $11.90 a square foot. When compared with the price which D. F. Henry paid for the entire property, $104.17 a square foot, this figure seems ridiculously small. Of course the front wing of the property is much more valuable, which brought up the average in the late sale, but even then the price of the rear lot has increased fully 50 times in the 15 years.

Architect M. Nirdlinger will be ready for estimates on the Avalon borough hall about June 25. The estimated cost is $25,000. The same architect is preparing plans for a two-story flat and store building to be erected in Vine street, for W. Wagner, at a cost of about $10,000.

W. J. White has sold for W. H. Whitfield a 12-room reception hall brick house, on lot 33x153 feet, in Darlington road, near Wightman street, Twenty-second ward, for $10,500. This is the last of three similar houses which Mr. Whitfield built in that street last year. The buyer is S. E. Dusenberry, who will occupy the property as a home.

Avalon: F. A. Hess & Co. sold for Charles A. Wilson to John M. Frey a two-story frame house, lot 40x105 feet, at No. 641 California avenue, Avalon, for $5,500.

Gibbon street: James W. Turner sold for Mrs. August Boehling to P. J. Edwards a six-room brick house, lot 21x65 feet, in Gibbon street, near Magee street, Sixth ward, for $3,500.

Building permits were issued in Allegheny yesterday as follows: To Brown chapel, brick church at Hemlock and Boyle streets, Third ward, to cost $21,000; to Joseph Ilienberger, three-story brick hotel in East Ohio street, near East Diamond, Third ward, to cost $17,000.

Building permits were issued to Fred Maul for a two-story brick dwelling, in Irwin street, Twenty-second ward, to cost $15,000; George H. Schwan, two-story brick dwelling, in Irwin street, Twenty-second ward, to cost $6,000; the Commercial Building Company, two-story frame dwelling, in Hoosac street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $2,600; Adam Lang, six two-story brick dwellings in the rear of Brushton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $10,000; Mary Zahniser, two-story frame dwelling, on Jansen street Eighteenth ward, to cost $1,800; P. V. Obiecunas, three-story brick dwelling in Sarah street, Twenty-fifth ward, to cost $7,000; F. Szuziski, two-story frame dwelling in Flag street, Twenty-seventh ward, to cost $2,500.

Lawrenceville—The Lawrenceville branch of the Consolidated Real Estate Company sold for Mary J. Langley to Reese Snowden an improved lot, 22x100 feet, in Charlotte street, for $2,600.

Pennsy Lines West Will Not Destroy Property of the Western Union.

The Pennsylvania will destroy no property of the Western Union Telegraph Company on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh. This statement can be made on the authority of the counsel for one of the interested persons.

At present the Pennsylvania is trying to oust the Western Union by legal action from the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, two of its lines on which the terms of the Western Union contracts are said to have expired. The suits have already been entered and testimony is now being taken in the case. The two cases will come up for argument soon.

In the meantime the drastic action taken on the lines east of Pittsburgh, where poles and wires were leveled in two days, is not to be repeated in the west. The effect of this destruction of property was not exactly to the liking of the Pennsylvania itself, it is said, and the powers in New York had little difficulty in making a truce which will prevent its repetition.

The evacuation of these two rights of way by the Western Union is of the greatest importance to the Pennsylvania in its plan of connecting closely with the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company. It will give the Postal a through route from New York to Chicago and Cleveland, along the Pennsylvania's right of way. The New York-Chicago business is the most profitable done by any telegraph company, and the addition of the many new trunk lines this Pennsylvania route will give the Postal means much to that company.

ERIE DEAL DENIED.

Refusals Come from All Sides Regarding Purchase by the St. Paul.

NEW YORK, June 3.—A member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., said today: "Control of Erie has not changed and we feel sure that nothing of that sort is contemplated."

This statement was made in the presence of Norman B. Ream of Chicago, who is said to be a large holder of Erie stock.

Bankers who represent both the Goulds and Harrimans in their various railroad schemes were equally emphatic in denying the reports.

A leading member of the Rockefeller interests characterized the reports as absurd. Finally Chairman Miller of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road vouchsafed a denial of the story that $25,000,000 of new St. Paul stock had been issued, much less sold, to purchase Erie stock, or for any other purpose.

TO OPERATE RESTAURANTS.

Pennsylvania Company to Take Over Cafes on Lines West.

Following the policy of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the operation of its station restaurants, the Pennsylvania Company is to take over the ownership and management of the various cafes at points on the lines west of Pittsburgh. As in the east, they will be under the control of the dining car department.

Charles Watts, general superintendent of the passenger transportation of the Pennsylvania lines west, left last night for Chicago to meet E. W. Westley, superintendent of the dining car department.

Elected Board of Directors.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Refrigerator Transit Company was held last Monday in St. Louis. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: G. W. Warner, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., A. G. Bird, W. C. Stith, J. M. Johnson, S. S. Knight, E. M. Prindeville, the latter named being elected president of the company. J. H. Kerr was appointed general manager. The company is controlled by the Missouri Pacific, the Iron Mountain and the Wabash.

Railroad Notes.

George L. Gumip, general agent of the passenger department of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, with headquarters in Cincinnati, was in this city today conferring with Ft. P. Gallagher, the local representative of the road.

D. B. Kinch, chief electrician of the Union Station building, who has been in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad for 12 years in the various electrical departments, has handed in his resignation to assume the superintendency of the Frick building.

John J. Driscoll has been appointed trainmaster at Connellsville to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of E. A. Brooks to the superintendency of the New Castle division of the Baltimore & Ohio. Mr. Driscoll was was formerly assistant trainmaster at Connellsville.

TO ABSORB OLD COMPANY.

Bartlett Stove and Range Company Will Succeed J. C. Bartlett Company.

The plans of the Bartlett Furnace and Range Company, incorporated this week in Connecticut, provide for the absorption of the J. C. Bartlett Company. This company, which is now going through bankruptcy proceedings, will be taken out of the court within a few months and its affairs straightened out. The new company will deal in stoves and ranges and may build and operate a foundry, although no location for a plant has yet been chosen.

The officers chosen for the new company are: President, W. H. Cochrane; vice president and general managers, J. C. Bartlett; secretary, E. J. Lloyd and treasurer, J. Reitz, Jr.

BRADLEY FILED ANSWER.

Says He Legally Holds the Position of Oil Inspector.

An answer was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 by John Bradley, to the quo warranto proceedings brought in behalf of William Shore, Sr., requiring him to show cause by what right he is exercising the functions of the office of oil inspector of Allegheny county. Shore is an appointee to the place by Mayor W. B. Hays.

Bradley says that he is legally in possession of the office, having been appointed by the judges of common pleas court No. 1. The right of the mayor to appoint is disputed and it is set up that Shore's claim is without legal standing.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Practically all new business is at 6 per cent. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, June 3.—Money was in active demand in the market today and rates were steady; discounts were easier; on the stock exchange there was a better tendency and operators were more cheerful, owing to a rally in Canadians and Americans and less disquieting New York and Montreal advices. Consols were firm. Americans improved a fraction to above parity but the transactions were not important. Prices hardened later and closed firm. Grand Trunk rallied sharply on the traffic returns being considerably above the estimates. Rio Tintos improved on the copper statistics and on account of Paris buying.

BERLIN, June 3.—Business on the bourse today was inactive but the markets had a better tone than yesterday.

PARIS, June 3.—Prices on the bourse today opened with a marked improvement and closed firm.

Total receipts this day, $2,134,562; total receipts this month, $6,704,296; total receipts this year, $517,273,767. Total expenditures this day, $1,730,000; total expenditures this month, $5,897,000; total expenditures this year, $476,066,852; deposits in national banks, $154,323,354.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Special.)—Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,562,000; payment by banks to government, $3,000,000; balance on the day's transactions, $44,000. Paid by banks to government: total net payment by government to banks since Friday, $408,000.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The production of gold at Cripple Creek in May was 50,200 tons of ore of $1,765,000 gross value. The product thus far this year aggregates 270,135 tons, worth $9,170,752, a substantial increase over last year.

While the management has refrained from exploiting it, it has leaked out that the Dalton and Lark group of mines, for which the Bingham Con. nearly two years ago took out no less than $1,000,000, has become a steady mining and is now providing the means with which to pay its own bills.

Sinking of the shaft on the South Swansea mine at Silver City has been resumed.

Under a franchise recently obtained by the management of the Highland Boy Con. of Bingham from the management of the Yampa, the former began driving for its Leonard ledge.

From the new furnace with which the Dixie group of mines out of St. George is equipped the management is drawing 12,000 pounds of copper bullion daily.

Salt Lake shareholders of the Polar Star Mining Company, whose properties are located adjoining the great North Star in Grave Valley, Cal., are in receipt of information from camp which indicates a most important discovery, while sampling and blocking ore indicate riches equal to any that have been uncovered in the region of bonanzas.

Rapid progress is being made in the construction of the new mill for the Rhode Island Consolidated people at Yankee Hill, and if the machinery is placed it will be running within 20 days. Manager Seemann reports the recent strike made through the Manhattan tunnel as improving with drifting and that enough ore is now blocked out to keep the mill running on 50 tons a day for several days.

It is reported on good authority from Crestone, Col., that Wilson & Berryman, leasing on the old upper workings of the Independent mines, have opened up a big body of high-grade milling ore that caused such a boom there four years ago and caused the present owners to pay $1,400,000 for the property and put up a 120-stamp mill.

Philadelphia capitalists have taken over the Tenderfoot mine, 12 miles south of Joseph, Wallowa county, Oregon, and will erect a mill at once. Magnificent specimens of sparkling gold ore have been taken from the Tenderfoot mine, but the majority of the ore is free milling gold, susceptible to the amalgamating process.

L. W. Steedman, manager of the Paragon mine at Murray, Idaho, says owing to deep snow and high water, the company has been unable to resume work, but that a force will be engaged this week. The company is sinking the main shaft, which is down 100 feet. When the 250-foot level is reached a crosscut will be run to the ledge, a distance of 145 feet.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Owing to lighter offerings its advanced sharply in London, spot closing at a gain of £3 15s at £129, while futures were £3 5s higher at £127. In New York (in, influenced by the gains abroad, it also firmed, closing at $28 90@28 75. Copper advanced £1 for spot in London, closing at £90, while futures gained £1 5s and closed at £88 5s. Locally copper was dull and nominal. Lake, electrolytic and casting are quoted at $14 75@14 87½. Lead declined 1s 3d to £11 8s 9d in London, but remained unchanged here at $4 37½. Spelter was unchanged at $5 75 to New York, but in London it advanced 5s, to £29 15s. Iron closed at 52s 6d in Glasgow and at 46s in Middlesboro. Locally iron was weak and lower. The metal exchange made no alteration in the official prices for merchant iron, but in the open market these descriptions were quoted about a dollar a ton lower to conform with the decline in southern, making No. 1 foundry, northern, $19 00@20 00, No. 2 foundry, northern, $18 00@19 00, No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, are quoted at $18 50@19 00.

In the Oil Fields

The first three days of May furnished nothing for oil operators in the lower southwest fields. On the west side of the Pine Grove extension in Wetzel county, W. Va., operators holding leases in the vicinity of the South Penn Oil Company's good producer on the Lisa Lemasters farm are losing no time in starting new work. The gauge of the Lemasters farm well (or the 6 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning was 160 barrels, as against 200 barrels for the previous 24 hours. On the east side of the Pine Grove district the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the Hannah Shreve farm is holding up at 110 barrels a day.

In the extension No. 1 on the T. A. Sherman farm has been drilled into the pay and produced 100 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district the South Penn's test on the Mary L. Postalwaite farm has been drilled into the pay and is producing 25 barrels a day.

In Wetzel county, Fifth district, the South Penn has completed and shot its No. 1 on the James Yost farm and the hole has filled up 1,100 feet with fluid from the lower sand.

In the lower end of the Folsom district the South Penn has completed and shot No. 35 on the Ginna Robinson tract and the well produced 100 barrels the first 24 hours. The South Penn has drilled its No. 9 on the Rachel Talkington farm 10 feet into the Gordon and the well produced 35 barrels the first 24 hours.

To the north of developments No. 1 on the George Heldrith farm has filled up 1,200 feet with fluid from the 50-foot.

In the Fallon Timber district, Wetzel county, the Red Stares Oil and Coal Company has drilled its test on the Barr farm into the Big Injun, and the well has made one good flow.

In the Bristoria field, Greene county, the South Penn Company has shot its well on the L. C. Grim farm and the well produced 50 barrels the first 18 hours. In the Whisky Run extension in Ritchie county the Hands Creek Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 Clara W. Kelley and No. 3 Mahaney heirs' farm are holding up at 100 and 250 barrels, respectively, and Leonard, Egan & Co.'s No. 2 H. Walters at 200 barrels a day.

BRIDGE HEARINGS RESUME.

Good Reasons Why Fort Wayne Structure Should Not Go Higher.

The hearing in the matter of raising the Fort Wayne railroad bridge was taken up before Capt. William L. Sibert yesterday. It was the hardest fought day of the hearing held so far and the railroad company had not finished its case before adjournment to this morning at 10 o'clock. After the Pennsylvania railroad has completed presenting its massive evidence the river interests will be heard. A. P. Dyer, Chief Engineer Thomas Flynn and Assistant Engineer G. H. Burgess presented the case for the railroad and the same men represented the river interests, M. A. Woodward and others. John Flynn, Jr., testified that 18,000,000 tons of freight are hauled over this bridge yearly, and that 16,000,000 tons are hauled over the Pittsburgh Junction railroad bridge. It was stated also that the combined tonnage of these bridges was greater than the tonnage of the river could be, even though the shipments on the river should increase as much as the rivermen claim. The case of the Rumsey and D. T. Lane was again threshed over, and the arguments which applied to the other bridges are also used by Capt. William L. Sibert in this case. The hearing will be continued this morning at 10 o'clock. Eighteenth street bridge will be given a hearing of the same character Saturday.

The stage of water at the Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 3.6 feet and the river was rising.

NOTES OF THE RIVERS.

The steamer W. H. Flint was inspected yesterday.

The new Columbia is at the wharf of the Cincinnati line being fitted out. She is of the same pattern as the old boat, but has a handsomer cabin.

The steamer Hudson of the Cincinnati line will begin Saturday to make daily trips between Cincinnati and Coney Island, a summer resort about 10 miles from Cincinnati.

Chief Engineer John Roberts of the Wheeling Bridge and Terminal Railway Company has suffered a relapse in his recent illness of typhoid fever, and will not be able to return to his duties for a few months

THE STOCK MARKET IS VERY SENSITIVE

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The feeling in Wall street continues very sensitive. This was again demonstrated by the course of the market yesterday. London prices came higher and foreigners bought about 20,000 shares at the opening, but the tone of the market was far from strong. In fact, shortly after the opening there was a decline all along the line, the basis for which was not more tangible than rumors that trouble might occur in the anthracite coal region between the miners and operators over the question of selecting the conciliation board for the district. Shorts were disposed to cover on the decline, and inasmuch as the Canadian securities which were so weak the day before were well supported, and advices from Montreal were to the effect that the liquidation had been complete, the market recovered. The advancing tendency was hardly checked by the additional engagement of gold for export today, and later when sterling exchange became easier, and a small portion of the previous engagements were cancelled, leaving $4,700,000 as the total amount of the shipments, the tone of the market became quite strong. This was the situation about 2 o'clock, when St. Paul was up to 152¼, Pennsylvania 127¼, Baltimore & Ohio 88⅞, Missouri Pacific 105⅝, Atchison 74⅜, Union Pacific 84½, Canadian Pacific 123½, New York Central 127½, Amalgamated Copper 68¾, United States Steel common 32⅜ and the preferred 82⅜. These prices all showed gains over the top of the day before, and the street was congratulating itself that the turn had really come and that the close would show substantial progress in the upward movement. The entire complexion changed, however, with the rather hasty marketing of a block of about 20,000 shares Pennsylvania Railroad. It was a foreign house that handled the selling of the order. It may have been selected by the bears for the purpose of creating the impression that something was wrong, or it may have been bona fide liquidation. As usual on such occasions, the traders "helped" the seller by freely offering stocks. Pennsylvania broke to 125½ and closed at the bottom, the lowest since the underwriting syndicate was announced. The rest of the market sold off in sympathy, St. Paul leading the decline with a drop of 2 per cent. Much of the early gains was wiped out. The close was considerably below the highest prices, and in some instances showed declines compared with the previous close. The street did not pay much attention to the rumor that the St. Paul had sold its $25,000,000 treasury stock in the open market for the purpose of acquiring control of Erie, and the reports of railroad earnings, which were generally favorable, were also ignored. However, the firmer tendency of time money rates and the slight advance in call money, which reached 3 per cent, was looked upon as a warning that large shipments of gold cannot be made and the money market at the same time be able to furnish funds for speculation. The sales for the day were 717,100 shares.

The report by the treasury department of the amount and kinds of money in circulation on June 1 was issued yesterday. The total is $2,382,174,825, an increase of $7,821,105 compared with last month and an increase of $127,758,850 compared with the corresponding date last year. The largest increase in any item since June, 1902, was in gold certificates. The total amount of the latter now in circulation is $281,254,489, an increase of more than $75,000,000 for the year. The amount of national bank notes now outstanding is $395,090,918, an increase of about $47,000,000. The statement, taken in connection with the weekly reports of the associated banks of New York, permits of some deductions as to the distribution of the increase in circulating medium. As stated, the increase for the year in the amount of all kinds of money in circulation was in excess of $127,000,000. Counting in the new circulation issued, New York banks have retained only $2,000,000 of the total increase, the remaining $125,000,000 being distributed throughout the rest of the country. Compared with two years ago, the increase in the total amount of money in circulation approximates $197,000,000, and comparing the New York bank statements for the same date it is seen that the banks of the metropolis now hold $8,437,000 less cash than two years ago. In other words, the country has gained more than $205,000,000 cash of all kinds, this sum including the amount lost by the New York banks to the interior and the addition reported to have been made to the general stock in circulation. And here a somewhat curious state of affairs appears. Notwithstanding the loss of cash and the lower surplus and cash reserves of the New York banks, the money market at that center continues easy, at least so far as surface indications go, while the money markets of the interior, save possibly Philadelphia, is stringent. In Pittsburgh the money market is reported as firm as at any time this year. The only explanation for this condition here is the policy of the United States Steel Corporation in withdrawing surplus funds from this market, and the subscriptions for new bank and trust company capital, the bulk of which, it is believed, was paid for with borrowed money. Another somewhat singular feature appears in this connection. Notwithstanding the comparative stringency of the Pittsburgh money market, local securities have been holding well; there has been no severe slump in values. On the other hand, the shrinkage in values in Wall street during the past four weeks has been in the face of easy money, so far as rates on call loans are concerned.

Although there was a moderate increase in the volume of trading, there were no very striking features to the local stock market yesterday. Westinghouse Electric was the most active, and after advancing to 94, sold off to 93½, closing at the decline. The first preferred was unchanged at 93½. Airbrake was firmer and on small transactions advanced to 162. The strength of Pittsburgh Coal common attracted considerable attention and on sales of 1,500 shares the stock advanced to 28, closing firm at the best. The preferred was dull and a shade lower at 86¾ and 86½. River Coal common was moderately active and firm at 10⅝ and 10¾. There were no transactions in the preferred, but the stock was firm at 39¾ and 40¼. The steel stocks moved within an extremely narrow range and all issues closed at slight gains. Pittsburgh Brewing was lower, the common declining to 31½ and the preferred to 45⅝. Ohio Fuel Supply was also lower, declining to 43½, while Manufacturers Light and Heat held steady at 42½ and 42¼.

There was a little more doing in the banking group, but as a rule the tendency was downward. American Trust sold at 325, a decline of 10 points from the last previous sale. Commonwealth Trust declined 5 per cent to 245 and Real Estate Trust was 3 per cent lower at 305. Exchange National Bank, Iron City Trust, North American Savings and Merchants' Savings and Trust were all lower. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust advanced to 280, and Monongahela National Bank was 5 points higher at 300.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

"It will not take many markets like today's," remarked a local broker yesterday, running the New York tape through his fingers, after the close, "to bring about an era of stagnation similar to that of a few years ago, when Wall street was agitating some innovation to attract the public back to the market. The big men have been forced to pocket enormous losses. Even if they have the money, they are not in the mood to try and recoup themselves by speculation. They will probably try economy and stick more closely to other lines of business. The public is standing idle waiting for the bottom. Within the past three weeks we have had about three strong markets. Just when there seemed to be some assurance that the turn had come, just that moment the bank would come out and it was in the wrong direction. Yesterday afternoon and for a short time today, it looked as though the market were good for a five-point rally at least. In five minutes the tone completely changed, the pivot being the selling of a large block of Pennsylvania railroad. I asked our people in New York what was the matter and they replied that there was a rumor that some house had to be carried over. The Toronto failure seems to have made the street fear that some New York house may be forced to suspend. It may merely be a bear canard, but it is unsettling. If this thing continues much longer the public will retire until it feels absolutely confident that a change for the better has come. That confidence will not come until the market averages 5 to 10 points recovery."

Philadelphia Company was firmer, selling at 42¾, an advance of 1¼. Ohio Fuel Supply was heavy, declining to 43½ at the close, a loss of 1 point. Manufacturers Light & Heat was steady at 42¼@42¾.

Local bank and trust company shares were weak, as a rule, and some rather sharp declines ocurred on the marketing of small amount of stock.

It was current gossip yesterday that Widener and Elkins had picked up about 25,000 shares Twin City Transit on the decline, which occurred on Tuesday. The stock was quite active yesterday within a range of 95 to 95.

The Wall street house that was most prominently identified with the selling of the high grade stocks last month was a buyer of Pennsylvania railroad yesterday.

The General Electric Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the common stock, payable July 15.

Among the rumors current relating to the Erie was one to the effect that the first preferred would go on a 4 per cent basis in July, and that 1 per cent would be declared on the second preferred. It was also reported that the Goulds were buying the common for control.

The directors of the Union Traction of Philadelphia have declared a second semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent. The terms of the lease by which the Rapid Transit Company absorbed Union Traction last July were that for the first two years a dividend of 3 per cent was guaranteed, the next two years 4 per cent, the next two 5 per cent, and 6 per cent thereafter for the remainder of the 999 years.

A Montreal special says: "Leading bankers and brokers here expected that finally a low level has been reached in the local market and look for a steady advance in such issues as Canadian Pacific, Twin City, Detroit Rapid Transit and Nova Scotia Steel. The feeling is still uncertain in Dominion Iron & Steel and Dominion Coal issues."

Arrangements to ship gold in the aggregate amount of $4,100,000 was reflected yesterday in a stronger tone to the New York time money market. Short time loans were not quotably higher, but eight months money was up half per cent to 3@3½ per cent, and six months money at 3 per cent against 2½@3 per cent, the previous ruling quotations. Some lenders were asking 4½ per cent for four months funds, as against 4 per cent the previous quotation.

The Real Estate Trust & Savings Company of Allegheny will clear through the Ft. Pitt National Bank.

The Southern Railway and the Price will shortly own their terminals in New Orleans, to say $5,000,000. Bonds will probably be issued to cover the cost, guaranteed by both companies. President Yoakum says this will give the Frisco facilities fully as valuable as either the New York Central or Pennsylvania terminals in New York. The location will embrace two miles of water front.

The announcement of a further reduction in the price of southern iron had no effect upon the steel stocks. The latter were relatively firmer than anything else at the close of the market.

The board of directors of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable June 10.

The decline of nearly 100 points in Chicago & Northwestern stock has been generally attributed to Wall street to selling by Rock Island interests. Last year several directors of Rock Island purchased heavily of Northwestern stock, with the intention, of either securing control of or representation in the management of the Chicago & Northwestern. The Rock Island interests failed to secure control of the Chicago & Northwestern, and it has been very generally believed that they sold their holdings of the stock of the company after they had failed to get high authority. It is stated that the Rock Island interests still own the Chicago & Northwestern stock which they purchased last year, and intend to continue to hold it as an investment.

The financial statement of the Dollar Savings Fund and Trust Company of Allegheny, taken at the close of business May 29, shows that the bank is steadily increasing its business. Within a six months period, that is since November, 1902, the deposits have increased to the extent of over $500,000. During the same period the corporation has sold to its stockholders 1,000 shares. Aside from this the sum of $18,000 has been applied to the surplus fund, making the total surplus now $1,001,800.

MARKET IS IN HANDS OF THE PROFESSIONALS

There Was Disappointment in the Speculative Rank in Wall Street.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 4.

The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: The movement in the stock market yesterday was something of a disappointment to the speculative rank and file, but in conservative circles the day's dealings were regarded as little more than a professional demonstration, in which fortune at one time favored the bull and at another the bear contingent. The movement of the day was highly irregular. The market opened fairly steady, but receded, then came recovery and a demonstration of strength, which gave encouragement to the weather watchers in the offices. Prices began to yield, however, at the outset of the last hour, and broke sharply at the close upon what had every appearance of being an actively planned and well-executed bear raid. The the close speculative sentiment was decidedly mixed.

The day's news was again mixed, but the favorable features were of a negative, rather than a positive character, while the adverse factors contained some actually disquieting elements, such as the threatened resumption of a strike in the anthracite coal region and the unfavorable turn of events in the labor situation among the local building trades. Against the favorable side of the account was figured the fact that the collapse of one banking house in Toronto was not followed by others and that the weak Canadian favorites made substantial recoveries in price. To this were added the satisfactory railroad traffic returns and somewhat better reports from the region of the Lyons. Gold shipments, a reported cut in the price of pig iron, a late recovery in wheat and corn on crop damage news and some intangible rumors made up the quota of fadverse news.

The trading of the day was very largely of a professional character. The news developments were scarcely of a nature to invite confident buying, although many men regard prices as intrinsically attractive, and would probably make some speculative ventures for the advance if the future labor and crop outlook were cleared.

SOUTHERN PIG IRON DECLINES

No Large Purchases of Bessemer But Conditions Are Strong and Well Maintained.

A PHENOMENAL PIPE YEAR

Structural Shapes in Good Demand. Car Shortage Again Threatening and Coke Consumers Are Trying to Stock Ahead at Furnaces.

Lower quotations for southern pig iron have been named by the iron manufacturers in session at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday, and the reduction in price has been accepted with very little comment, and with no great effect upon the northern market. The new price for No. 2 foundry iron is $15 at furnaces, or $19.85 Pittsburgh and, as northern iron is offering at very near the same figures, there is nothing particular in the decline to disturb the situation. Furnaces in this vicinity are naming lower figures for foundry iron than were in force a week ago, and the market is quiet. A number of inquiries for round lots of basic are out, but not at all quick to develop into actual business, as buyers are inclined to hold off from making purchases for second half, while enough stock is being received on old contracts for immediate requirements. However, sellers are not discouraged and hold to the belief that buying will soon be under way, and that there will be more trouble to get iron than orders before the summer is over. Forge iron is held at same prices as ruled a week ago, with the market quiet.

No heavy tonnages of Bessemer pig have followed the United States Steel Corporation transactions of a week ago, but the situation is strong and sales of small lots are being made on a basis of $19 to $19.25 valley furnaces. These figures are slightly in excess of those obtained for the large sales of last week, as is natural, and seem to be the controlling prices at the present time, as they are readily obtainable.

Despite the reductions of last week, the situation retaining all the elements of strength it has held for some time. Producers are not at all inclined to make any concessions, and are fearless in asking a dollar a ton above prices at which foreign billets may be secured.

FINISHED MATERIAL STEADY.

Finished material is steady, and producers all report a good business for the week. While there has been some falling off in sales of sheets and tin plate in districts particularly affected by labor troubles, the aggregate demand is heavy, with a large tonnage going into consumption. Bar iron is reported to have lost premiums formerly paid in the east, but that is a mere adjustment of prices, and does not affect the general situation.

Manufacturers of merchant pipe report the heaviest business ever known, with more orders coming in than can be conveniently handled. Tonnage has been increasing ever since the opening of spring, and the growth continues, with every indication favoring a record year.

Structural shapes and plates are moving out steadily on specifications, which, while individually smaller than those received a year ago, find compensation in the fact that the number of different orders is increased. With the settling of strikes in the several sections affected, which now seems probable before very long, there will be a heavy year's business. Contractors say they are bidding on twice as much structural work as ever before, but that much of it is being held back on account of the excessive cost of building, and will likely not be put under way this season.

Car shortage is again facing shippers, and an attempt is being made to prepare for congestion. Coke is being stocked at furnaces as largely as possible, and where there are ovens shut down now it is because there are not transportation facilities for getting coke to destination, and there is no economy in stocking it elsewhere than at furnaces. If there is a shortage of cars now, the outlook for a severe scarcity later, as this is early in the year for such a condition to be manifested. The Southwest Steel Corporation is getting all coke possible to its furnaces, and has notified the Hostetter Coke Company that it will require half of its output for the balance of the year.

HEAVY NAIL AND WIRE DEMAND.

Conditions in the hardware market continue in a tense state, orders coming in for large quantities and full lines of goods in all departments with shipments far in excess of those in any former spring. A very large demand still prevails for nails and wire, dealers and consumers apparently being in receipt of such business that their stocks are moving out promptly, more than demand never before seen. The building business is in excess by 20 per cent of last year, and this accounts for the immense demand for nails. About the same condition exists for builders' hardware, which is moving out in large volume, the character of goods going into buildings being very much superior to that of some years past. An immense business is being done in Albion tools. Bicycles and sundries are moving out in constantly growing volume, business in this line looking more favorable as time progresses and bidding fair to surpass trade in this line for several years. Window glass is in very much better condition than for some time, the trade apparently feeling that there will be higher prices to pay in the near future, and for this reason orders are for large quantities. Masury paints, colors and varnishes continue to move out in large quantities. Prices in nearly all lines are strong, Sept. 30, of course, by the tremendous demand that is keeping manufacturers going and causing factories to report their inability to ship inside of four to six weeks.

SOUTHERNERS CUT PRICES.

Birmingham Meeting Decides to Meet the $15 Level of the Market.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

The leading southern makers, as an association, have at their meeting at Birmingham decided to sell at $15 for No. 2 at furnace for delivery during the balance of the year. This will probably be widely heralded as a cut of $1.50 per ton, applied to the former nominal prices of $16.50 to eastern and $17.50 to western points. As a matter of fact the market has been at the $15 level for at least two weeks and it looks as though the declarations were engaged in a stern chase of the market.

The real question is whether buyers will abandon the waiting attitude in which they have persisted for some time past, and begin to cover for the future, or whether they can and will persist in buying from hand to mouth; whether an "official" recognition of the true market by a group of leading furnaces will be sufficiently powerful incentive for action. It is pretty generally conceded that founders have bought very little thus far for the second half, on the threshold of which we now are, but this does not necessarily lead to immediate contracting on a large scale.

The point is made that we are approaching a level at which a number of poorly located and poorly supplied foundry furnaces will find it hard to make ends meet. It is well understood that every pot which can make iron is making it, and that all costs which are very high. In fact the best of furnaces, controlling their own raw materials, are struggling with cost figures which they would have deemed impossible three years since. But with the exception of Alabama do not blow out until the last hope has been exhausted, while pressure on inflated costs usually yields considerable readjustments. The next few weeks will probably see position of buyers, to be determined largely by the rate at which they expect to meet.

The steel market has been growing somewhat easier, further weakness being reported freezing in the Chicago district, where some round sales have been made. In the central west and in the east the supply is growing somewhat more liberal. Foreign steel can apparently be had only at 1 car lots, with other manufacturers adding freight from Pittsburgh to this price.

Generally speaking, the finished iron and steel trade is quieter, and, on the whole, the tonnage of new work is falling off somewhat in a number of branches, and that notably in the east. The bar trade continues unsettled to some extent. The trades which chiefly serve the building industry are adversely affected by the labor troubles. Report has it that leading interests have been studying the question of prices for next year. This is known to be a fact in steel rails.

As showing how enormous has been the structural tonnage, the fact may be noted that the American Bridge Company booked over 101,000 tons during May.

VOTE ON BOND ISSUE.

Stockholders of Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company Meet Today.

Stockholders of the Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Company will meet today to vote on the proposition to bond the company to the extent of $1,000,000. There is no expectation of the plan being opposed. The returns from $1,500,000 of the bonds to be sold will be devoted to the extensions of the company's work in various ways, while $300,000 is to remain in the treasury.

The Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Company was recently incorporated by T. H. Barnsdall and his associates in the oil and gas business. It has a capital stock of $6,000,000 and owns 11 gas plants in various towns and cities, as well as the oil interests of Mr. Barnsdall and some of his associates.

WESTERN WHEAT CROPS INJURED BY FLOODS

From all over the country come reports of a very strong flour market, and local wholesale dealers are considering the advisability of putting prices up. There is no quoting no actual change in quotations had been made, but opinion prevailed that there was every prospect of an advance by Saturday if not earlier. Floods throughout the west have had quite an effect upon winter wheat crops, which were almost ready for harvest, and Kansas will probably have little more than enough saved from the wreck to use for seeding purposes. Spot spring wheat is very scarce, old stocks being well used up, and good milling grades are hard to obtain. There will be some damage to corn in the west, owing to floods, but this will likely be replanted where destroyed, and it is too early yet to predict a shortage.

New crop coffee has commenced to come down to Brazilian seaports, and there is much interest felt as to the extent of the yield. Bears in the market have been predicting enormous results from the crop, but newspapers in Brazil hold that the outturn is disappointing, and that not more than a medium yield will be obtained. Stocks on hand in this country are very heavy, and price is low, so that there is not now much inducement to buy. Sugar is unchanged in price, and demand at first hands is said to be light. Why this should be is puzzling to the trade, and better things are looked for in the near future. Refiners will be sufficiently powerful incentive for action. It is pretty generally conceded that founders have bought very little thus far for the second half, on the threshold of which we now are, but this does not necessarily lead to immediate contracting on a large scale.

California cherries came forward in very large quantities, and the market went off a dollar a box. Other tropical fruits are held at former prices. California apricots are coming due from that state, and are expected in next week.

Strawberries were firmer yesterday at unchanged prices, and the market gave evidence of more strength, as stocks were reduced. However, and it is likely there will be firmer conditions unless receipts today are larger than expected. Some fancy Maryland berries from North Carolina are late arrivals in the market, and are now among the regular offerings.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The market for coffee futures opened dull at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points, which was followed by the call, which, quite in keeping with featureless foreign news, displayed steadiness under expectations of a fair decrease in the world's visible supply for last month, closing steady, net unchanged to 10 points higher. Sales were 10,500 bags, including July at 3.80c; September, 4.00c; October, 4.10c; November, 4.15c; December, 4.45c; May, 4.50c; spot Rio, quiet; mild easy. BALTIMORE, June 3.—The eighth annual convention of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers association met here today, with about 300 delegates present from all parts of the country.

CHICAGO MARKET WAS SOMEWHAT EASIER

July Wheat Closed Lower, But Corn and Oats Were a Shade Higher.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 3.—There was a reversal of yesterday's bullishness on the board of trade today, and the markets in general were easier. July wheat closing 4@4¾c lower. July corn was a shade higher and oats were up ¼c, while September provisions closed from 17½@18c lower. An improved weather map and rather disappointing cables resulted in lower prices in wheat at the outset. July being off ⅝@1c to 1⅛@1¼c, at 74⅝@74¾c. There was a fair volume of business early in the day, but price fluctuations were rather limited. Commission houses were inclined to take profits on sale after selling up to 75¼c. July sold back to 74⅜c and during the latter part of the session a steady tone prevailed, with trading less active than earlier in the day. Pit traders were good buyers throughout the day and shorts also bought freely. Outside markets were easier, with the exception of St. Louis, and foreign news was more favorable. Bradstreet's report showing a decrease in the world's visible supply of 1,000,000 bushels, was considered a somewhat bearish factor. Closing prices were about steady, with July off 4@⅝c, at 74⅜@74½c, September, 77⅛@77⅜c, closed 76¾c; December, 77⅝@78c, closed 77¼c. Corn—Receipts, 61,500 bushels; shipments, 287,427 bushels; spot firm; No. 2, 57c elevator and 57c f. o. b. boat; No. 2 yellow, 57c; No. 2 white, 57c; options market opened weaker because of clearing weather, showing a decrease in the world's visible supply of 1,000,000 bushels, was considered a somewhat bearish factor. Closing prices were about steady, with July off ¼@⅝c, at 47⅜@47½c. The improvement in the weather conditions, together with large receipts, was responsible for the early selling movement. There was a good demand from a leading provision interest and prices gradually rallied and later in the day the market became quite firm on a good general demand. Closing prices were 1@1¼c higher, with July a shade higher at 47⅞c, after ranging between 46¼ and 47¾c. Local receipts were 1,081 cars, with 138 cars of contract grade.

Oats stood up well against a good deal of profit-taking and developed a fairly firm undertone. Prices were easier early on the improvement in the weather and in sympathy with the decline in other grains and offerings were quite liberal. Later in the day a good demand developed and prices held steady. After selling lower they closed ¼@⅜c higher at 34⅝c. Local receipts were 416 cars.

Provisions also experienced a slump in the volume of trade and prices tended toward a lower level, but the market was steady, due to the price of hogs and to the easier grain market. Buying by brokers caused a slight recovery and closing prices were steady at the decline. September pork sold from 15c at $16 87½, September lard was 7½c lower at $8 87½, while ribs were down 10@12½c at $9 15@$9 17½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 15 cars; corn, 320 cars; oats, 15 cars; hogs, 22,000 head.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The drygoods market has not shown any general activity and the demand from buyers is somewhat restricted on account of the higher level of prices. The buyer is operating conservatively and while he has purchased a fair yardage during the last two or three weeks, he is not adding materially to this stock. In spite of this fact goods in certain lines are increasingly difficult to get for nearby delivery and with increased curtailment this difficulty will continue to grow.

POISON FOUND IN CROKER'S KENNEL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 3.—(Special.)—Following the burning of 15 stables near Mt. Kisco, the residents became further alarmed today when they learned that attempts had been made to poison the valuable bulldog owned by Richard Croker, Jr., and the costly bloodhound of Col. Fred Feigel. Young Croker has 25 bulldogs and his kennel master found poisoned meat around the buildings.

MAYOR IGNORES CIVIC LEAGUE

EXECUTIVE SEVERELY SCORED

Evidence to Substantiate Charges That Twentieth Ward Meeting Was Packed With City Employes and That McTighe Abducted Councilman Fleming.

Mayor William B. Hays has refused the request of the Voters' Civic league to make a public investigation of two sensational incidents of the recent technical school controversy in which some of his subordinates of the city administration are said to have been unduly conspicuous, and as a result of this refusal the league yesterday issued a red-hot statement denouncing the attitude of the mayor.

The charges which the mayor refused to investigate were that Supt. John P. McTighe and another officer of the police department removed George S. Fleming from the council chamber and thus broke up a quorum, and that employes of the department of public works were sent under orders from the head of the department to pack a meeting of citizens of the Twentieth ward.

The Voters' Civic league wrote a letter to Mayor Hays on May 20 setting forth that Italian employes of the department of public works, all of whom reside in the Nineteenth and Twenty-fourth wards, made an attempt, under orders issued by Assistant Superintendent W. D. Gearhart, of the bureau of highways and sewers, to pack a meeting of citizens in the Osceola school house, Twentieth ward, on the night of May 9, that on the same evening Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe invaded the select council chamber and took Councilman George S. Fleming away by the arm, over to the Hotel Duquesne, although he held back, and that Fleming was closely guarded at the hotel until a buggy was obtained and the councilman placed in it and driven away.

LEAGUE OFFERED EVIDENCE.

The letter of the league to the mayor recites further details of both these affairs and insists that the mayor redeem his ante-election promises to give a pure administration by making a pure, open and public investigation to be followed by such action as each case demanded. The league offered to place at the mayor's disposal all the evidence in its hands, including the following order issued by Assistant Superintendent W. D. Gearhart to his foreman:

Notify your men to go to the Osceola school house tonight at 7:30 and report to me at the meeting. Take the most intelligent men and tell them to be there. They know how to vote. Orders from Bigelow. Trouble brewing.

The evidence also included affidavits of Harry F. Davis, D. C. Shaw and William A. Renshaw and the statement of Lee S. Smith, who are said to have seen the Italians at the meeting and to have seen them handled by the police superiors.

In reference to the McTighe incident the league stated it had secured its information from James H. Willock and councilmen who witnessed the affair.

Mayor Hays' reply to the request of the league was as follows, 10 days after the request was written:

MAYOR HAYS' REPLY.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 30, 1903.

S. W. Childs, Esq., President; Curtis, M. Willock, Esq., Secretary; the Voters' Civic League, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen—I received your communication of May 20, 1903, and have given it my personal and careful attention and examination as to the allegations therein contained. As a result I have arrived at the conclusion that there is no real foundation for the charges and that it would be of no public benefit to proceed in the matter.

I beg to assure you that my desire is that at any time any citizen who may have cause of complaint as to the conduct of public affairs shall make the same known to me, and such matters will always receive careful consideration, but at the same time the people will recognize my right to make a preliminary inquiry for myself and not to engage in investigation when I am satisfied no cause exists therefor. Respectfully yours, W. B. HAYS.

CRITICISM OF MAYOR.

In its statement to the public yesterday the executive committee of the league made the following comments:

The league courteously requested an investigation and offered to prove the charges. The mayor ignored this request, but instead constituted himself prosecutor, defendants' counsel, judge and jury and declared the accusations unfounded. There can be no honest controversy as to the truth of the charges.

This administration is on trial. It made many promises. Its officials and employes have been charged with offenses that affect the very root of free speech and legislative freedom. When these charegs were brought to the notice of the mayor, with a proffer of the proof necessary to substantiate them, he waives them aside with his letter and claims the right to dispose of accusations so serious by an ex parte preliminary and private inquiry.

The league cannot accept as a proper statement of the obligations of the mayor his concluding paragraph in which in effect he states: "I shall be glad to have you make known to me any cause of complaint, but will reserve the right to pay no attention to the charges." The league conceives it to be the duty of the chief executive to give a hearing to any reputable organization or party that presents charges of a serious character against city officers or employes.

Anything like an open investigation is denied because the head of the city government in the face of such proof as was here offered states that in his opinion "there is no real foundation for the charges.

M'Keesport's Postoffice Held Up.

McKeesport's new $100,000 postoffice building is being held up in the attorney general's office, according to a report received yesterday by Postmaster William V. Campbell. The government has not yet had a report from the attorney general on the validity of the title, but as soon as this can be secured the site will be paid for and work commenced.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

In Jacoby versus Barton the rule was discharged.

In Pennsylvania Railroad Company versus Cronin the rule was discharged.

In the case of the improvement of Pennsylvania avenue, Edgewood, exceptions were sustained and the report of the viewers set aside.

In the case of the National Building and Loan association versus Grootsch, no answer having been filed by either party, the rule was discharged and the sheriff ordered to proceed with the writ.

In the condemnation proceedings brought by the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company against William Kessler and others, a jury awarded the latter $62,000 damages. The property is on the South Side.

Applications were made for charters for the United Societies of the Greek Catholic Religions of the United States of America and the Slovak Roman Catholic church of Archangel Gabriel of Allegheny. Attorney William Vokalep represents both organizations.

Elizabeth Lloyd and others took an appeal from the award of the board of viewers in the matter of the condemnation of property by the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company. The property is at Second avenue and Bryery street. The appellants claim they will suffer damages to the amount of $1,500,000.

The following orders were made: Bigham versus Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, rule discharged; Hays versus Hays, rule discharged; Orr versus Oliphant, new trial refused; Chamberlin versus Lowenstein, rule discharged; Patterson versus First National bank, rule discharged; Williams versus Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, rule discharged; commonwealth of Pennsylvania versus Gross, rule discharged; Carnegie Steel Company versus Carroll-Porter Company, rule discharged.

CHURCH WORTH OVER $9,000,000

Statistics Show Less Than $500,000 Debt on United Presbyterian Property.

PITTSBURGH IS THE RICHEST

The Local Synod Has Property Worth $2,645,830, and Its Debts Aggregate $107,590—First Snyod of the West Ranks Third.

Property valued at $9,298,535 is owned by the United Presbyterian church in the United States, according to a summary of its possessions just completed, and against this total value stands a debt of less than $500,000.

The synod in Pittsburgh leads in the value of the property owned, the total being $2,645,830. The debts of the local synod aggregate $107,590.

The report divides the property of the faith into church property and parsonages. The report of the debts divided into debts on church property, debts on parsonages and debts for congregational expenses. Divided in this way the reports shows as follows for the whole church:

Value of church property	$8,550,550
Value of parsonages	747,985
Debt on church property	394,960
Debt on parsonages	81,875
Debt on congregational expenses	17,770

The synod of Pittsburgh includes the presbyteries of Big Spring, Brookville, Chartiers, Conemaugh, Frankfort, Kiskiminetas, Monongahela and Westmoreland. The report for this synod shows as follows:

Value of church property	$2,494,300
Value of parsonages	151,530
Debt on church property	88,205
Debt on parsonages	17,375
Debt on congregation expenses	1,010

The first synod of the west, which includes the presbyteries of Allegheny, Beaver Valley, Butler, Cleveland, Lake and Mercer, also makes a strong showing in the report as follows:

Value of church property	$1,347,109
Value of parsonages	44,100
Debt on church property	84,780
Debt on parsonages	10,750
Debt on congregational expenses	1,710

The synol of Pittsburgh comes first in rank, with the synod of New York second and the first synod of the west third.

The report is supplemented with statistics regarding the seminaries, colleges and academies connected with the United Presbyterian church. It is shown that the value of the real estate of the three seminaries, Allegheny, Xenia and Newburg, amounts to $190,000; the debt on property to $17,000, and the endowment and other funds, $589,275. In the case of the nine colleges and academies the value of the real estate is $463,690, the debt on property $15,807 and the endowment and other funds $493,805.

Dr. Houck Unable to Attend.

The Avalon public school authorities yesterday received word from Dr. Henry Houck, deputy superintendent of public instruction, that he would not be able to attend the school commencement exercises tomorrow. Dr. Houck was to have made the address to the graduating class, but he will be unable to come here, as his wife is critically ill and is not expected to live through this week.

Hill Top Firemen Have Outing.

The volunteer fire companies of Mt. Oliver and Knoxville yesterday held their annual outing at Southern park. There are about 200 volunteer firemeni in the two boroughs and, accompanied by a large number of residents, a parade was held in the boroughs. After the parade the firemen marched to the park. The proceeds of the picnic will be used to purchase a chemical engine.

HE THINKS LACY NEVER EXISTED

NEWS FROM THE COURTS

D. U. McIntyre of Punxsutawney, yesterday entered suit for $1,162 49 damages against Attorney A. J. Barton of this city of common pleas court No. 2. McIntyre asserts that on April 12, 1893, he tendered the defendant a judgment note for four months, H. C. McGraw maker, for $701 07, which the defendant was to look after by entering or confessing judgment watch and collect the same, with warrant of attorney. It is charged that Barton reported he closed the transaction, and under date of March 28, 1896, wrote to McIntyre that John Lacy a client of his wanted to borrow a sum of money for one year at 7 per cent and that the defendant "reasoned it out" and gave Lacy the money from the McGraw judgment and took Lacy's note.

The bill then shows copies of correspondence between McIntyre and the defendant regarding the alleged Lacy transaction, and in some of the letters sums representing interest were enclosed.

In one letter Lacy is said to "be traveling," while in another his property is said to have been described by Attorney Barton as "back of McKeesport."

McIntyre says that his suspicions finally became aroused, and when he demanded of the defendant where he would see Lacy the defendant was unable to locate or produce him. The plaintiff states further that he employed another attorney and that together they made an investigation, but found no property as was described or such a person as John Lacy, and he now believes John Lacy was mythical. The damages claimed include the amount of the purported loan, interest, attorney's fees and time lost.

Other acquittals were: W. J. Noel, charged with fraudulently making a written instrument by J. S. Brown; William J. Browne, charged with assault and battery, W. C. Hamilton prosecutor, costs divided; William J. Minor, charged with the larceny of a $30 ring by Clara Quinn; Catherine Flinnegan, charged with assault and battery by John Denny, costs divided; Everett Lee, charged with felonious assault and battery by Burley Woodson.

Pleas of guilty were entered by Alex. Rawle, embezzlement of goods valued at a small sum from James Porter, sentenced 30 days to the workhouse. John Kell, larceny of a bicycle, 10 days to jail; William Lord, defrauding a boarding house keeper, one day to the workhouse; George Herman, assault and battery on George H. Clemens, 30 days to the workhouse. Laura Gallo, who pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny on Tuesday, was sentenced to the workhouse for one day.

Nolle prosses were allowed in the cases of J. H. Barclay, charged with larceny; Walter Brown, charged with assault and battery, etc.; and George Fisher, charged with fraudulently making a written instrument.

The register has fixed Monday, June 15, for the hearing in the contest over the estate of Michael Flannigan, the orphans' court having decided Patrick Flannigan next of kin, and the right person to contest. Attorneys L. K. and S. G. Porter, who appeared for Kitty Flannigan, who was first named next of kin, now appear with Attorneys Marron & McGim as representatives for the estate. Patrick Flannigan is represented by Attorneys Way, Walker & Morris.

Verdict After a Long Fight.

The case of the Lazear Gas Engine Company of Rochester, N. Y., against John E. Dubois of DuBois, Pa., was decided for the plaintiff last night. The suit was tried in the United States circuit court, with Judge Joseph Buffington on the bench, three weeks being consumed in the trial. The plaintiff claimed $115,000 damages for failure to complete and deliver gas stoves. The jury went out yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock and came in at 9:30 o'clock with a verdict giving the Lazear company $34,250.

Grand Jury Returns.

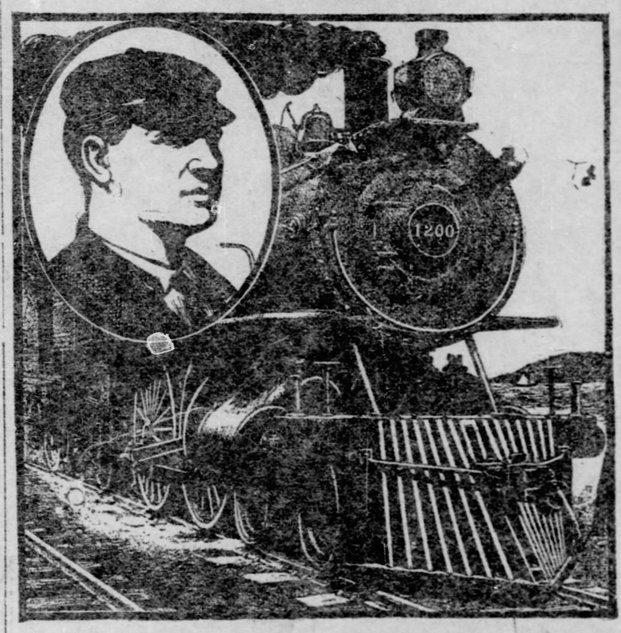
Ignored bills—Assault and battery, Mollie Constantine, Hermaide Kantcher, Fannie Noel, John Noel, J. W. Peasner, F. J. Russ, Walter Stright; keeping disorderly house, Jessie Dorsey; larceny by bailee, Gottlieb Letsch; aggravated assault and battery, Carole Stright; misdemeanor, Ernest Wellmire.

Deaths of a Week.

There were 123 deaths in the city last week, a rate of 18.07, which is the lowest in many months. The principal causes were typhoid fever 8, smallpox 3, diphtheria 4, scarlet fever 4, consumption 14, pneumonia 16 and violence 15. During the week there were 41 cases of typhoid fever, 27 of scarlet fever, 19 of diphtheria and 15 of smallpox. Two cases of typhoid fever and four of scarlet fever were reported yesterday.

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD WINE CURED IT AND HEALED HIS KIDNEYS



Nearly all railroad men are subjected to two kinds of trouble—rheumatism and kidney diseases. Being out in all kinds of weather, with little protection from rain, sleet or snow, their blood quickly becomes thin, and rheumatic aches take possession of the body. Statistics show that a larger percentage of Bright's disease victims are among trainmen than any other class. The humanitarian work of "Blood Wine" in curing these stubborn diseases, has called forth statements of gratitude from all over the country. Mr. Dan A. Metzel, of 202 South Eighth St., Terre Haute, Ind., an engineer, says:

"For some years I was greatly troubled with rheumatism, also a lot of disturbances from my kidneys, which at times made me almost unable to work. Hearing of cases where Blood Wine had been used with good success, I procured a bottle at Baur's Drug Store, and what it did for me was plenty. I haven't had a sign of any rheumatism or kidney trouble since. It's a great medicine, and I willingly endorse it."

There is only one way to cure rheumatism and kidney troubles, and that is through the blood. It is the blood that causes the uric acid that forms crusts about the joints, causing great suffering in rheumatism, and it is the blood that in failing to stimulate the kidneys, permit the weakened, filtering fibres to break down and allow acid waste matter and disease to spread all over the system. "Blood Wine" is a builder of tissues. If the lining in your kidneys has been ripped out, or if it is honeycombed with sores, "Blood Wine" will heal the sores and replace the broken down tissues. It gives it life; large, healthy corpuscles. It makes it thick, red, rich, and teeming with the nourishment that puts health and strength in every organ, every nerve, muscle and membrane of the whole body. Blood is life. It is the foundation of our very existence. "Blood Wine" does for it what nothing else will do.

If you don't thoroughly understand your case you ought to have your blood examined. It is the only accurate way to tell what disease or germs are being carried in the blood. You can have a by sending your name to the Louis Daudelin Co., Worcester, Mass. An expert bacteriologist, under the powerful microscope, will analyze your blood and tell you just what is in it. Write today for full particulars free. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.
